Sings As Vienna Regains Old Glory

LOTTE SILVER

Vienna, once the Paris of mid-Europe and recently the scene of bitter hard times, is regaining its spirit, its music and its dancing. And of the beauteous ladies who are helping in the renaissance, Lotte Silver is one of the most lovely. She is a singer of unusual quality; in dress and manner, as in voice, she appeals particularly to those who admire deep, rich tones and flashing contrasts.

FAIR TO OPEN NEXT TUESDAY

Good Weather Only Need To Make Fair Notable Success

With the New Castle Fair but three days hence, everything is in readiness for the biggest event of the season, and from interest shown by fair enthusiasts here, indications are that the event next week will by far surpass any held by the New Castle Fair Association since its organization.

Good weather is all that is needed, according to fair officials. "If we have good weather, New Castle people will see the best fair ever held in this section of the country," was the report today.

Already concessions are being erected at the fair grounds and work for the opening next Tuesday, September 28, is in full progress. Early tomorrow and the next day, some 20 carloads of live cattle and other fair equipment will arrive here to be used at the fair next week.

The cattle entries and in fact all of the livestock entries are taxed to the limit. Entries on cattle were closed some time ago. Over 500 head of cattle will be on exhibition. The sheep, horses and other livestock promises to be far better than that of last season.

Various exhibits are being arranged which will be of more than ordinary interest to the fair patron. Special attention has been given for arrangements for the night fair, and sensational acts for outdoor performances will be staged gratis every evening.

All in all it's going to be a real fair and one that local people will long remember. Tuesday, September 28, is the opening day with the fair continuing through October 1.

The services at the Mission are becoming very popular and people are coming from near by towns to hear Rev. Schmidt preach wonderful Bible truth.

The topic for this evening will be, "Whose Son Was Methuselah?"

Expect Pershing To Lead Fight On Budget Reduction

Advocates Of Strong National Defense Look To Pershing As Champion Of Cause

LACK OF FUNDS HINDERS SERVICE

Chiefs Favor Plan To Curtail Forces Maintained In Insular Possessions

By WILLIAM S. NEAL.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Advocates of a stronger national defense policy today are looking to Gen. John J. Pershing to lead a fight against reduced budgets in the forthcoming congress.

Both army and navy chiefs are understood to be struggling with an executive order to trim allowances and a further diminution of the present strength of the army and navy likely to be caused by the exhaustion of supplies left over from the World War.

Seeking Plan.

Many organizations that backed the national defense act of 1920 are seeking ways and means of preventing a further disintegration of the elaborate structure founded upon the act. General Pershing who evolved the present scheme of a standing army reinforced by a reserve ready for war, is said to be deeply disappointed at present conditions and the immediate outlook.

Comparatively few reserve officers have taken training due to lack of funds. The standing army has been reduced to less than half the figure set by General Pershing. A reserve supply of war equipment and munitions is rapidly being consumed to enable the army and navy to live within their present appropriations.

The policy of the administration is understood to call for a further curtailment of the army and navy with the exception of the air corps. Navy chiefs are busily engaged in figuring out a scheme of keeping the present strength of the navy afloat with a reduced personnel. The war department's announcement of discontinuance of enlistments in Porto Rico is said to be based upon a decision to curtail forces maintained in insular possessions.

Estelle Taylor Can't Believe Jack Lost Title

(International News Service)

LIMA, O., Sept. 24.—"It is consoling to know that Jack finished on his feet, and fought it out to the end," was the comment of Estelle Taylor Dempsey, wife of the former heavyweight champion, when she learned of Dempsey's defeat.

Mrs. Dempsey, enroute to Philadelphia, first learned of the debacle to Dempsey at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Refusing to believe the report as contained in Indiana newspaper extras, she sought confirmation in Lima.

She told newspaper reporters that Dempsey probably would demand a return match with Tunney, and expressed confidence that he would regain his title within a few months if this demand is granted.

"I just can't believe it—it can't be true," was the first comment of the boxer's movie-star wife when she was told that Dempsey had been defeated.

Three Hundred Of Town's 1,400 Inhabitants On Death List

MOOREHAVEN, Fla., Sept. 24.—Moorehaven's death list will reach 300, although the exact number of deaths will never be known because of the multitude buried beneath floating debris that was swept through this little city of 1,400 when the dikes holding back the treacherous waters of Lake Ockeechobee broke during the recent hurricane.

No attempt will be made to bury the remainder of the dead as the bodies are so decomposed, distinction between white and black cannot be made. Disease and sickness infests the waters floating through the streets. More than 100 bodies have been buried after being embalmed on boxes, counters, and improvised tables in what used to be the post office of the thriving little city. Morticians worked in water waist deep. The remains of those found will be burned.

Death List 300

As one of the rescue workers who waded through waist deep water for hours to help those still living in the former town, I am certain the death list will reach 300, if not more. There were 1,400 inhabitants in Moorehaven, 900 were rescued and about 140 bodies recov-

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 24. — Chester L. Slack, 18, confessed in United States Court that he sent a threatening letter to Rev. Dr. Westover, pastor of the Passover Alliance church of McKeesport, threatening to burn down the church unless the minister sent him $100. The church had been burned a year or so previous to this letter and it also is suspected that Slack had something to do with that. The court will have the boy committed to a detention home until a decision is reached as to what disposition is to be made of his case.

Pigeon Walks Into College Town Postoffice With Note Reading "Tunney Will Win"

Pigeon Walks Into New Wilmington Postoffice With Mystery Message

Carried "The Dope" on Fight Hours Before Battle Took Place

Fight fans in other parts of Lawrence County had to wait for the fight to determine who was the winner of the Dempsey-Tunney tangle in Philadelphia, Thursday night, but the fans up in New Wilmington had the result early Thursday

The service was by carrier pigeon, which may sound like a sportsman's nightmare to you until you hear the story.

Thursday morning, Postmaster Clinton White noticed a carrier pigeon hop through the door of the post office, apparently tired out from a long fly.

"Tunney Will Win"

Mr. White picked the pigeon up and found the following registration number on its band, "A. J.-26-ARC-21". Under the band was a note which read "Tunney Will Win."

Just where the pigeon came from is a mystery, but the prophecy on its leg band came true. Tunney did win and now the good folks of New Wilmington are wondering who sent the message and who was supposed to receive it.

The pigeon will be kept a day or so until it is rested and will then be released. In the meantime, the people would like to know who owns the pigeon.

Section Of Ohio Hit By Tornado

Sandusky And East Liverpool Districts In Path Of Cone-Shaped Twister

SCORE REPORTED SERIOUSLY HURT

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24. — Scores were seriously injured, two perhaps fatally, in separate tornadoes, which whirled buildings to destruction and bowled over everything in their paths near Sandusky and East Liverpool, O., according to word received here today.

Originating near Clyde, the Sandusky storm entered Erie county at the southwest corner and twisted a northeasterly path to Huron, where it passed into Lake Erie.

The East Liverpool storm traveled in the some direction across Columbiana county, leveling one whole residential community and damaging others badly. No loss of life was reported.

First reports that Huron had been almost totally destroyed were disproved when telegraph and telephone service was restored several hours after the storm.

A funnel-shaped cloud, according to eye witnesses, swooped down on a farm house near Clyde and whirled its way through the small villages of Parkertown, Bloominville, Perkins and Bogart's Corners. Roofs of houses and tree branches sailed through the air, but as the tornadoe's path was narrow, damage was confined to a small portion of each village.

DAYLIGHT TIME ENDS SATURDAY

Clocks Will Be Turned Back An Hour On Saturday Night—Eastern Standard Time On Sunday

Saturday will end the era of daylight savings time in New Castle. Clocks will be placed on Eastern Standard Time late Saturday night, and on Sunday this city, as well as all other communities now on daylight savings time will be back on Eastern Standard time.

Because of the fact that clocks must be turned back an hour, in order to meet the Eastern Standard time conditions, suggestion is made that clocks be turned forward for eleven hours, instead of turning them back one hour, as it is not so hard on the mechanism of the clock.

A champion's life is a short sweet trip, a ride down a gilded way, but it's only short for there always comes, the dawn of another day. And a new contender comes on the scene, to strive for the laurel and gold, and the fickle crowd lauds the new made champ, with never a thouhgt for the old. The champion's life is a short sweet ride with roses strewn on the car, but he soon wakes up as his wagon meets the contender's with a jar. But while he is champ, what a life he leads, but after he's done, he's done, and the new made champ starts the same old path, the weather is eighty-one.

Final preparations for the holding of the annual Lawrence County league banquet, were made today. The banquet will be held Monday evening September 27 at the Elks club.

The awarding of the watch fobs and pennants to Ellwood City and Hillsville will be the final number on the program.

Tickets for the banquet are being distributed among the players by the various team managers and they may also be procured at the Sporting Goods store.

Ivory Statue Of Venus Found, Is Many Years Old

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—Professor Josef Bayer, director of the prehistoric department of the State Natural History Museum, has found an ivory statuette of Venus, dating back to the glacial period.

The find was made at Wullendorf in the Wachau (a sequested defile noted for its scenery and legends) on the Danube, where the Professor found a similar figure in limestone in 1908.

The new Venus is carved from the tuck of the lower jaw of a mammoth, whose remains were discovered close by. A massive shisel of jasper was discovered near the spot.

The new statuette, which is about 10 in., is believed to be the largest belonging to the glacial school yet found. It is probably between 20,000 and 25,000 years old, and is in good preservation owing to the protection aforded to it by the deposit of loam and quartz.

The famous Venus de Milo was found by a peasant in the island of Melos, or Milo, in 1820 and sold to the French Government for $1,200.

Town Talk

The era of big electric signs is coming back on Washington street. Two more immense electric signs are being erected in front of business places today.

Police officers of the city are planning to come forth in fine new overcoats at the beginning of the coming winter season. Negotiations with that object in view are now under way.

And the new coats will be of the nationally used uniform blue cloth and not of whipcord materials, such as the uniforms now in use are made of.

The new overcoats will be made in what is known as the New York police style, which is considered as the latest and most typical type of police uniform overcoat that is used any place.

Workmen are removing the small frame building on the property near the new Scottish Rite cathedral building on Lincoln avenue. It has been used as an office for the contractors in charge of erection of the building during the past two years. The site around the cathedral is now nearly cleared and an imposing view of the immense structure can be secured.

Sentiment of New Castle fight fans was with Tunney, if the reception of the report of the battle during its progress last night, as given by The News, is a criterion. The cheers were loudest when Tunney was apparently besting Dempsey during the battle.

Wet leaves on the streets are making a treacherous condition. Auto drivers and even pedestrians should use more than usual precautions for safety these days.

Order Town Evacuated

Military authorities in charge of the devastated area have ordered everyone out of the former city because of the danger of disease. Although several families have refused to leave. They will be forced out if conditions become worse, according to the commander of the area. No one is permitted to enter Moorehaven without a permit.

Traveling into the devastated area is as though passing through a horrible nightmare. Buzzards cast shadows over the water as they fly through the air looking for food that they see floating in the water or lying on the debris. In many places a large flock in the distance is taken as a signal to the guardsmen to bring a piece of rope or the can of lye. The common method of transporting bodies is by passing a rope underneath the arm pits and towing it, it being impossible to lift them.

Hundreds of cows, snakes, rats, rabbits and barnyard fowls are seen in heaps where they had been carried by the onrush of water during the hurricane.

Funds are greatly needed to send the refugees that are being temporarily housed in Sebring to homes of relatives in the north.

Akron Schoolboys In Traffic Jobs

(International News Service)

AKRON, Sept. 24.—The juvenile police force has made good here.

During the past week Chief of Police L. D. Carter has sworn in nearly 400 schoolboys as traffic policemen. His action is the result of a year's trial of the scheme which has resulted in a report that not one child was killed last year near a public school building.

The new "coppers" are all picked "men" who have undergone training and been given a probationary term of duty. They leave their classes a few minutes before recesses and take up their stations at the traffic semaphores.

The youths are trained by a motorcycle sergeant assigned to their command. Great rivalry exists among the boys for heavy posts and the sergeant has yet to receive any report of dereliction of duty.

Only three cases of refusing to obey orders were reported last year. One man slapped a juvenile policeman, spent five days in jail where he could mull over his faux pas. Another "sassed back" and was smeared with a $50 fine by the judge.

Out of 67 special competitors in the first day's shoot of the Southern Counties' Archery Meeting, 50 were women, and the Royal Toxophilite Society has 90 women out of 140 playing members.

With 5 foot bows, the women shoot from distances of 50 to 60 yards at wicker targets in an endeavor to get the "gold" — the archer's equivalent of bull's-eye.

Archery combines skill with physical development. To shoot an arrow from a 26 pound bow requires some strength. The archers stands erect, with the head perfectly poised, so consequently the whole movement of shooting the bow is very good for a woman's figure.

TORNADO STRIKES NORTHEASTERN PART OF OHIO

as communication within the stricken zone was cut off.

Eye-witnesses declare that the storm was actually a series of three small tornadoes, following parallel courses. The route taken was virtually the same as that of the cyclone in 1924 which caused approximately 75 deaths and leveled Lorain.

Yesterday's storm broke just as country schools were adjourning. Near Huron one school teacher, seeing the ominous clouds approaching, quickly herded her students to a point of safety a few seconds before the building was demolished.

Hundreds of trees were uprooted, roofs damaged and windows shattered when the tornado passed over Bowling Green, causing about $2,000 damage.

Frightened citizens lay on the ground in terror as the twister paused 200 feet above the city—too high to exercise the full force of its power.

THE CAPITALISTIC LABORITE AMERICAN

THE capitalistic labor class which James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, predicts for the future of the United States is already more than well started. Mr. Davis's paper was read before the Congress of American Industry in this city by Theodore G. Risely, Solicitor of the Department, because the author himself could not be present. The forecast is grounded on something more substantial than statistical inferences. While stock ownership by employes has been cited among other conditions to prove that the wage-earning class earner has increased his own share in the financial power of the country, the truth may also be buttressed from another angle.

The ultimate source of wealth is land. Until the war many families in moderate circumstances were content to be renters. The ensuing real estate inflation compelled them to buy homes for their own safety. It was an unpleasant experience that many would rather have foregone. But after it was consummated they discovered a sense of security they had not previously known. In the redistribution of land in small parcels among a multitude of holders an agrarian revolution took place. Never before was direct control of the land so widely dispersed as is now the case in this country. We have, therefore, a landed class on a scale hitherto inconceivable.

This achievement was possible because the social organization of the Nation provides that poverty is not inevitably hereditary. Abroad, where caste systems prevail, the accident of birth confines a person as well as his descendants to the stratum of his ancestry. Here the case is different. The American may rise to the level of his natural endowments, the material endowments often being of secondary importance. In other words, the capitalistic laborite is an actuality here because there is no biological interference with his creation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

SLEEP DEFIES RULES

EDISON, apostle of work and advocate with Roosevelt and others of the strenuous life, admits that he has been compelled to slow down in his daily grind. For years he spent eighteen and twenty hours a day in his laboratory, sleeping only four hours.

The need for sleep varies with the individual. Babies sleep most of the day and night, and children can use nine or ten hours profitably. Some adults find six hours sufficient while others insist they require ten. A few experiments would determine the need in each case, and also prove that there is such a thing as too much sleep. The eight-hour rule is an instance of standardization which is not altogether satisfactory, but it is a safe one to follow.

Mr. Edison is more fortunate as a worker than as a teacher. Those who tried to follow his injunction to limit sleep, soon found it an expensive practice. The body and brain need relaxation and rebel if adequate opportunity to recharge themselves with energy is denied.

The mornings are getting to be rather sausage and pancaky.

Tracing back a lie to its place of origin is another practical study in deflation.

He isn't a born politician unless he thinks the first person singular is unanimous.

Originality: Doing what some other man did so long ago that people have forgotten.

A woman takes up golf for two reasons, and the other is that she wants to keep an eye on her husband.

All hemming and hawing will have to be done by the older generation. Daughter can't hem and son doesn't know what haw means.

Doubtless the Mussolini method of enforcing prohibition would be a shot of castor oil in anything that showed signs of incipient alcohol.

It would occur to no one but a hardened scientist that the exercise gained in bowling is practically the same as that accumulated in chucking coal into a furnace.

Oh, Mr. Dempsey!

The Marines still know how to fight.

Like our Italian friend remarked: Da Jacka da Demps, he getta da fixa!

Wonder what the governor of the great state of Pennsylvania thought of the first heavyweight fight ever pulled off in this state and in his presence?

We were actually surprised at the number and kind of people who were interested in the fight. We did not see one, no matter what his opinions are, who did not want to know who had won.

Over at Mount Pleasant when a public school pupil refused to salute the American flag the teacher flogged him with a piece of rubber hose and the justice of the peace sustained the teacher. We imagine that there was somebody behind the boy who deserved the flogging more than he did.

The French undoubtedly won the war but they don't want to pay for it.

Clothing dealers in convention suggest that the dealers unite in styles, thereby cutting out much of the present day freak stuff that is put out as style. By having uniformity in clothes for certain seasons the dealers figure they can sell more clothes and the wearers will look much better. We're in favor of part of their program—cutting out the freak stuff and making the wearers look better in their clothes.

Irving Fisher a professor of economics at Yale University figures out that the Volstead act has reduced drinking 90 per cent and quotes his own statistics to prove it. The statement that during the first five months of this year 859 persons were killed and 2,606 injured at grade crossings is a remarkable commentary on our reckless waste of life and limb. A prominet business men told us yesterday that while he was out near Mt. Jackson a few days ago he noticed a man painting sings for the Pennsylvania State Highway department. This chap had a Ford coupe and it had an Ohio license on it. Wonder how that comes? There are a lot of Ohio licenses in this city, but it semes to us our state highway men should have Pennsylvania licenses. Of course there are a lot of birds working in Harrisburg from other states.

Last night in Philadelphia Pennsylvanians beheld the governor of this great state at a brutal prize fight. This was also the first heavyweight bout in this state. We are wondering what the good people of this state think of this after boosting the governor and upholding him in his great reforms. He even seemed to gloat over his going to the fuss. Maybe the good people who have supported him all along will think it is all right if he goes to prize fights and aides and abets them. Governor Smith of New York was not there.

WE GET A COMEBACK

A few days ago, in our ignorance, we made some reference to the value of dead languages, and it seems we were wrong. Our good friend, City Solicitor Robert M. White, wrote us the following letter and we also reproduce the argument he makes:

September 18, 1926.

Mr. Hints and Dints,
New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Fred:—I have had great content in observing for some months back your valiant defense of the public schools and in realizing that you were a true friend of higher education, so that tonight as I read, as usual, your inimitable column, it was with a certain degree of sadness that I came upon the paragraph questioning the practical benefits of Latin, Greek, Algebra and the other humanities.

I think you remember the Honorable Thomas R. Marshall. He was one time Vice President of these United States; of course you would not be expected to remember him for that; but several years ago he spoke in the high school here, and I am sure you recollect his visit. He has written a very entertaining book of Recollections; I wish you might read it all, for I know you would appreciate the fine wit of its pages and enjoy the intimate way in which he relates his contacts with some of his great contemporaries.

On pages 82 to 84 of that book he gives a very apt answer to the very question you have raised. I have taken the time to copy these pages and enclose them with the request that you give them the necessary time to read them. I am a little bit fearful that today too much stress is placed upon purely practical education and that old and young are neglecting those ancient elements of education that founded the destinies of Washington, Webster, Lincoln and the other great Americans upon whom we rely so much today for our liberties.

Perhaps many boys and girls today view your success with some admiration and are inclined to make your word as to what things make for success; and I do wish

Roosevelt's Warning.

Happy Young Couple.

Fighting the Devil.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

Theodore Roosevelt in his speech on Tuesday formulated a useful warning against intemperate measures to combat acknowledged evils.

A few rich men spent large sums at the primaries. It is suggested that the system of primary election be abolished. That would put complete power of nomination once more in the hands of crooked bosses. As well suggest return to monarchy or autocracy because government by the people does not always work smoothly.

* * *

To cure the evil of intemperance, says Mr. Roosevelt, "we jammed through by caucus, by propaganda, by every method known politically," a prohibition law that has produced bootlegging crime, drinking of whisky by high school boys and girls far more harmful than the condition we sought to remedy.

* * *

It is the old fable of the tame bear determined to kill a fly on the head of its sleeping master. The bear selected a large rock and did kill the fly. He also crushed his master's skull.

The Belgian crown prince will marry Princess Astrid, niece of King Gustavus of Sweden. It is a royal love match and "the princess can cook." The Belgian crown prince, 24 years old, is "democratic and likes a glass of the popular Belgian beer, taken at a cafe table."

* * *

Most idyllic, but how long will royalty and royal jobs last? If the czar could come out of the hole in which his body was thrust he would see hundreds of thousands visiting the Lenin shrine, where the body of the Russian "saint," embalmed and natural as in life, lies face exposed.

* * *

Only yesterday agents of that czar put Lenin's brother to death. The hour glass of history was turned upside down and Lenin put the czar and his whole family to death.

There are many businesses safer than the royalty business.

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, a lady preacher of Los Angeles, went off on a little trip and came back to announce her kidnaping and captivity in the desert. The district attorney says she was not kidnaped, "just went," so she will be tried, for deceiving justice—as though a high strung lady must tell the world about all her little trips.

* * *

Is the lady evangelist downhearted? No. She and her friends organize a "fight the devil fund" of $100,000 to prove that her story is truthful.

* * *

That catching title, "Fight the devil fund," must interest old satan, if he really does exist, with his spiked tail, horns and cow hoofs. In these bootlegging days, it would take a big fund to fight the devil on a really big scale.

THE CYNIC CHANGES HIS MIND

Life couldn't please him, try how-e'er it would.
Nothing on earth which he could find was good.
All men were fools. All pleasures commonplace.
God's greatest blunder was the human race.

Then came the day this pessimist fell ill.
He called the doctor, as a sick man will.
The grave physician looked him o'er and said:
"Cheer-up, old man! you'll very soon be dead."

"What's that?" the cynic muttered, with a sigh.
"Can you not save me? Am I doomed to die?"
"Doomed," said the doctor, "from this vale of woe.
This world of fools, tonight I think you'll go.

"I could perhaps restore your strength and save
Your pain-racked body from the peaceful grave,
But I refrain. My cures I will not try.
From all you've said I'm sure you want to die."

"Doctor," the cynic mumbled, "use the knife!
Do anything you will, but save my life.
Oft have I cursed the world, but 'twas a lie!
I've changed my mind. I'd rather live than die!"

In Day's News

Miles Lampson, whose appointment as British Ambassador to China is announced from London, is comparatively a young man to be honored with selection for the Peking post, which is regarded as one of the most important in the diplomatic service. He has had wide experience in British diplomacy, however, and has the further advantage of a personal acquaintance with affairs in the Far East. Mr. Lampson was born 46 years ago and was educated at Eton. Soon after completing his studies he entered upon his career as a clerk in the Foreign Office. In 1906 he accompanied the British mission sent to Japan, headed by Prince Arthur of Connaught, to confer the Order of the Garter upon the Japanese Emperor. In 1908 he returned to Tokio and remained there two years as an attache of the British embassy. Mr. Lampson later become head of the Far Eastern section of the British Foreign Office.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

HINDRANCES TO TRAVEL

It ought to be commonly accepted that travel is good for a citizen and also good for the country in which he lives. A traveled man usually is a better citizen. He has a chance to observe the customs of foreign countries and it usually strengthens him in the love of his own and makes him more tolerant in his opinions about other nations.

For some unknown reason every country erects obstacles to travel; not only the United States, with its peculiar immigration policy maintained at Ellis Island, but other countries as well.

Recently a number of English visitors to Canada landed in New York harbor and were held up at Ellis Island. According to their story they were subjected to indignities. These indignities the officials of the Island denied, but the fact remains that they were annoyed.

Some time ago Signor Parodi, an Italian traveler of independent means brought his own motor car for a tour of England. When he arrived at Newhaven he was held up for six hours and finally sent back to Europe. Appealing to English friends he once again journeyed to Newhaven, where he was again detained, but was finally released.

If you take passage on an ocean steamer they ask your nativity, your age, and all sorts of things. What difference does it make where a man was born if he wants to travel, or what difference does it make how old he is?

Political unity and the abatement of nationalism, or rather chauvinism, will come when travelers from one country are welcomed into another instead of impeded by all sorts of regulations.

The travelers into France, Italy and other countries in Europe from the United States do nothing but bring money and spend it. They are a benefit to the countries and not a hindrance and they should be encouraged and not embarrassed.

Bible Thought For Today

THE CHRISTIAN'S MISSION:—Preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give. Matthew 10:7, 8.

Isn't It a Fact?

That many a pink complexion hides a blue girl green with envy?

That staying up all night may make you as wise as an owl, but that owls have no sense during the day?

That people who don't look before they leap usually land in disgust?

That even sharp eyes won't scratch a keyhole?

That one drawback to living at home is you can't throw your cigar ashes on the floor in the lobby?

That most radio in the summer sounds as if dishpans were being broadcast?

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"A Balad of Trees and the Master,"

By Sidney Lanier.

Lanier was a Southern poet of much distinction. In some of his long, swinging, Spencerian measures he is amazingly effective; yet I think I like him even better in the simple, yet profound mood of a short poem like this.

Into the woods my Master went,
Clean forspent, clean forspent.
Into the woods my Master came,
Forspent with love and shame.
But the olives they were not blind to Him;
The little gray leaves were kind to Him;
The thorn-tree had a mind to Him
When into the woods He came.

Out of the woods my Master went,
And He was well content.
Out of the woods my Master came,
Content with death and shame.
When Death and Shame would woo Him last,
From under the trees they drew Him last
'Twas on a tree they slew Him—last,
When out of the woods He came.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE FARMER'S TARIFF.

All of the unsuccessful farmers and some of the successful ones, together with their friends, have accused Congress and the advisors of Congressmen, that Congress legislates for the benefit of everybody but the Farmer. Particularly, has the Farmer insisted that the tariff didn't interest him in the least, that it only caused him to spend more money for things necessary in his life.

The American Farmer is as fully well protected as the American Manufacturer, against the produce of the whole earth. The following is a table showing what he gets out of the American Tariff:

Cattle weighing less than 1,050 pounds, 1½c per lb.
Cattle weighing more than 1,050 pounds, 2c per lb.
Fresh beef or veal, 3c per lb.
Sheep and Goats, per head, $2.
Fresh mutton or goat meat, 2½c per lb.
Fresh lamb, 4c per lb.
Hogs, ½ of 1c per lb.
Fresh pork, 3-4 of 1c per lb.
Bacon, ham, shoulders, 2c per lb.
Lard, 1c per lb.
Milk, 2½c per gallon.
Cream, 20c per gallon.
Butter, 8c per lb.
Cheese, 5c per lb.
Poultry, live 3c lb., dressed 6c per lb.
Eggs, 8c per doz.
Horses, $30 each and 20 per ad. val. if above $150 value.
Mules, same as horses.
Other live animals 15 per cent ad valorem.
Honey, 3c per lb.
Buckwheat, 10c per 100 lbs.
Barley, 20c per bushel.
Corn, oats, and rye, 15c per bushel.
Rice, 1c per lb.
Wheat was 30c per bushel and Coolidge raised it to 42c per bushel. Bran 10 per cent ad. val. Mixed feeds 10 per cent ad. val. Brewers' grains and dried beet pulps $5 per ton. Grain screening 10 per cent ad. val.
Breakfast cereal foods 20 per cent ad. val.
Biscuits and bakestuffs and puddings 30 per cent ad. val.
Apples, 25c per bushel.
Cider, 5c per gallon.
Vinegar, 6c per gallon.
Hay, $4 per ton.
Straw, $1 per ton.
Potatoes, per 100 lbs., 50c.
Tomatoes, ½ of 1c per lb.
Onions, 1c per lb.
Turnips, per 100 lbs., 12c.
Hops, 24c per lb.
Beans, dried, 1 3-4c per lb.
Peas, 1c per lb.
Sugar Beets, 80c per ton.
Oil Seeds—Flaxseed 40 cts. per bushel, castor beans 50 cts. per 100 lbs. Poppy 32 cts. per 100 lbs. Sunflower, 2 cts. per lb. Soya beans ½ of 1 ct. per lb. Cotton seed 1-3 or 1 ct. per lb.
Tobacco, wrapper leaf, unstemmed, $2.10 per pd.
Tobacco, fillers, unstemmed, .35 per pd.
Sugar, about 1 1-4c per pd.
Wool, in grease from 12 to 31 cts. per lb. according to quality. The 12 ct. quality are coarse wools, native Smyrna and South American unmixed with either English or merino blood.

In addition peaches, lemons and other fruits, berries, grapes, nuts and vegetables, jute and flax, fish, fresh and cured, are heavily taxed.

It must be remembered also, that all of the implements required for the doing of farm work are on the free list. It may be that the Farmer is not particularly interested in the quality of the implements manufactured abroad. The American Farm Machinery is the most efficient of all, but if the American Farmer wants to buy foreign farming tools, he can do so without paying any duty.

One Year Ago

San Francisco welcomed Commander John Rodgers and his crew on their return from the attempted non-stop flight to Hawaii.

Somewhat Skittish.

A girl and her bashful lover sat on the beach. The full moon silver-plated the waters of the lake. The night was full of romance.

The girl let her hair touch her lover's face. No results. She rested her head on his shoulders. Still no results. Then she asked, "Why don't you kiss me?"

"I can't he said, "some sand got into my mouth."

"Swallow it, boy, swallow it!" she said. "If any one ever needed sand, you're the guy."

The League of Women voters calmly announces that women's influence has cleaned up politics. This is very interesting but not necessarily conclusive. Even to the untrained eye there seems to be a few corners that might be touched up a little.

The bonds of matrimony are still holy but a lot of chaps will tell you they are still bonds.

Bursts Of Speed Not Recommended

Intelligent Driving Is Urged By National Automobile Association

SUGGESTIONS ARE MADE FOR TRAVEL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24. —Intelligent driving rather than occasional spurts at high speed is recommended by the American Automobile Association as a timesaver for long distance motoring.

Speed alone will not aid the motorist to reach his destination in the shortest time, a statement issued from A. A. A. headquarters here asserts.

The automobilist who makes long distances with ease is the one who anticipates the turns and the stops ahead of him, it is pointed out by Thos. P. Henry, president of the A. A. A., whose transcontinental trip with Ernest N. Smith, general manager, in 96 hours, still is fresh in the memory of motorists throughout the country. Mr. Henry contends that the intelligent driver makes time where the short-sighted bungler is merely waiting for a long stretch of perfect road where he can step hard on the gas. The A. A. A. president believes it is not even necessary to have an exceptionally fast car to get from city to city in the best time.

The American Automobile Association has drafted some definite suggestions which, if followed carefully, should enable the motorist to make long distance in far better time and entail fewer risks than when he depends on speed alone.

"First know where you're going," the A. A. A. advises. "It is quite surprising the number of tourists who travel blindly, depending for guidance upon misinformation handed out to them en route.

"Know ferry schedules so as to be able to make quick connections. Passing one or two cars at an advantageous point often means saving a long wait by the river's edge.

"Learn the importance of quick acceleration and make every effort to keep the engine in such condition that it will help you to save time when starting off from crossings, after having rounded curves and when passing other cars.

"Learn how to make a quick shift into second gear so as to save the brakes when descending hills and to forestall the possibility of having to wait at the bottom of the hill until the brakes cool off.

"Climb more hills in second gear. A great many cars are now built with second gears which enable the driver to climb steep grades easily at twenty-five miles an hour or more as against a struggle at twenty to twenty-five in high gear.

"Drive at an even pace and avoid stopping. A few unnecessary stops cut the speed average considerably.

"Remember that at high speed the chances of tire or engine trouble always are greater.

"Get behind a good driver who is making good time in safety. He is a good man to follow.

"Buy your supplies before you start. It saves slowing down to look for filling stations that serve your favorite gas.

"Before passing through an unfamiliar city it is better to stop and ask if there is a route that avoids traffic. It's the one stop on any tour that may save considerable time.

"Learn to watch the speedometer more. Don't set out with the idea of only seeing the fifties and sixties come up on the dial, but see how often you are driving a little below thirty or thirty-five when you could just as well be going at exactly these speeds.

"Take no chances of any kind. It takes time even to lecture someone who has scratched a fender."

Survived Eliminations And In Semi-Finals At Cambridge Springs —Plays Today

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24. — Ralph Asbury began his 90 day sentence in the workhouse today although he asked Magistrate John Orie in the Penn Avenue police court yesterday where he was arraigned on the charge of having threatened to shoot Bessie Fulton, 18, and her mother of Spring Way, a suburb, that he be sentenced to death.

Asbury, when informed that capital punishment is not provided for a threat, asked the court that he be given the heaviest penalty possible.

Ninety days and a $100 fine was his punishment.

Souvenir Grenades Blow Up Part Of Town

(International News Service)

BELEZNA, Hungary, Sept. 24.—A section of this small town has been destroyed and a boy killed by the explosion of several souvenir hand-grenades in the house of a retired army officer. The grenades were brought home by Lajos Fischer as war trophies and have since hung on the walls of his house.

Two of the grenades fell from the wall and exploded causing a number of other shells and grenades to explode also. Fischer's six-year old son was killed and his house entirely destroyed. Several other houses were wrecked and a number of people slightly injured.

California Women Declare Equality

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Men and women meet on a common ground in business circles of the West; but in the East women are handicapped by tradition.

Miss Z. Clements of San Francisco, who presided at the recent convention of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club in Hollywood, is authority for the statement.

"In the East women in business are fighting conservative tradition", Miss Clements declared, "but in the West it is different. When Horace Greeley sent the young man westward; the young woman went right along with him, and the further west you go the better the chances for progress by women."

"We have the most capable women in the world right here in California", the club president said, "and in the business world here there is no such thing as sex—no men or women—just 'people'—putting over affairs through sheer force of ability."

Approximately 90 per cent of the organization's membership of 6,000 women has bobbed hair.

Healer Stirs Throng As She Cures Ill

About 25 Persons Throw Away Canes And Crutches At Meeting

ROCK HILL, S. C., Sept. 24.—Miraculous cures of the sick, blind, deaf, lame and other afflicted is claimed for Mrs. Willie Laurel Olive, "Four-Square Gospel" evangelist, by her followers and people who say they have benefitted by the powers.

About twenty-five persons from within a radius of 100 miles have declared themselves cured after taking her "faith" prescription. Some who went to the platform on crutches or with the aid of canes threw them away and walked off with shouts of thanksgiving and hallelujahs.

Hundreds had gathered, some of them through curiosity and some through faith, to witness the miracles. Mrs. Olive, however, says she is not the healer, but only "an instrument in His hands, to direct, through prayer, into the channel of blessings."

The service, which had been widely heralded, was a simple ritual. The afflicted filed to the platform. Their heads were annointed from a phial of olive oil. They were put through an examination to determine their infirmities, and deep prayer was offered for each individual. The changes stirred the throng.

One man came from Concord, N. C., from whence Mrs. Olive came. He was blind. He had been unable to benefit from the "Divine Healing," he said. First prayer was offered for his cure one week ago. He followed Mrs. Olive here. He now says he can see.

Hollywood Supplies European Actors

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 24.—Turn about is fair play. Now that the Hollywood companies have imported most of the famous European actors and directors, the European film concerns are scouting for material right in Hollywood.

Emmett Flynn, well-known director, has been commissioned by leading film producers of Europe to survey the cinema capital for possible "finds" to be starred in productions made abroad.

While the Europeans feel they cannot compete with American producers for the stars, because of tightened budgets in Europe, the foreign executives believe that many real "finds" are being overlooked in the abundance of talent in Hollywood.

Smith En Route To United States

James Smith, president of the Shenango Pottery company, who has been making an extended tour of Europe with his family, sailed Wednesday on the Olympic from Cherbourg, France, and is scheduled to arrive in New York City Tuesday, September 28. It is anticipated that he and his family will arrive in the city on or about September 30.

Ancient Fossil Found In Canada

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—What might be described as a 20 million years' old "tank" is now being exhibited at the Natural History museum, South Kensington.

It is an armored dinosaur, collected in 1915 by the late William E. Cutler, and was found in sandstone cliffs at Red River, Alberta, Canada, whence many dinosaurs have been obtained for United States and Canadian museums. This sandstone is in the Belly River series and authorities would date it from 20 to 30 million years back.

The fossil is 15 feet long and 6 feet broad and weighs after removal of all unnecessary rock, 2,000 pounds. The reptile was preserved, because when it died it was rapidly entombed by blown sand, and consequently remained excellently preserved, especially as regards the skin.

The armored dinosaurs or stegosaurix are characterized by their defensive armor, which, in the family to which this fossil belongs, takes the form of bony plates in the skin. These plates are usually found isolated, and preservation as in this case is extremely rare.

Biggest Hydroplane Is Tested In France

(International News Service)

SAINT NAZAIRE, France, Sept. 24.—The world's largest, heaviest, most powerful hydroplane believed to be a forerunner of Trans-Atlantic commercial planes, has just been successfully tested here.

The giant plane, of the monoplane type, has a wing spread of 130 feet, weighs twelve and a half tons, can carry twenty passengers and several tons of baggage and is propelled by five 420 horsepower motors.

One motor is installed in the nose of the plane and can be completely demounted and reassembled during flight. The other four motors are twenty-five feet high with passage ways permitting mechanics free access to the motors for repair work and supervision.

The fuselage is divided into three stories. Two pilots and a navigator occupy the top platform. The middle compartment is reserved for the mechanics, with access to all five motors. Wireless instruments with a broadcasting range of 1500 miles are also installed there, as well as the control of a special firefighting apparatus by which a special liquid can be sprayed automatically upon all important parts of the plane where fire is likely to break out.

Fuel tanks are installed in the wings, as far away from the fuselage as possible, reducing the danger of explosion or fire.

The plane is the result of five years of experimentation by the Penhoet works. On a recent test flight the plane carried five tons of ballast, rose gracefully and easily from the water and carried out a thirty minute flight in inclement weather.

Strong Program For Convention

Call Is Issued For State S. S. Convention At Reading, Pa.

LOCAL WORKERS ARE INTERESTED

The programs for the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association convention which is to be held at Reading October 13, 14 and 15, has been mailed to a number of the Sabbath school leaders of the county and those planning to attend from Lawrence county will be pleased to know that the program is an especially strong one with speakers of unusual ability and experience in constructive Sabbath school methods.

The following is the "convention call":

To All Sunday School Workers in Pennsylvania, Greetings:

Only as the principles of Christianity are inceasingly applied in all the activities of life can we save our nation and the world!

Only by the educational method can the principles of Christianity become increasingly known and applied!

Only by an increasingly better trained leadership can the educational method be employed with any hope of success!

Only as we meet in convention, conference and institute, can we see, hear and learn from the leaders the need, the remedy, the method and be inspired to do our part!

Only once a year are pastors, superintendents, teachers and workers asked to gather in state-wide convention in Pennsylvania!

Only in proportion to the readiness and unanimity of the response from every county and community can the result be achieved!

Only at Reading October 13-14-15 will this opportunity come this year! Only those who hope for enlarged vision, increased knowledge and intensified purpose will want to come!

Only about 2,500 can be cared for, but these will be they who shall change habit, build character, determine destiny!

This is a call to you to be one of this leadership group! Your answer will determine definitely your future part in the coming kingdom! We shall expect you!

(Signed) PERCY L. CRAIG,
President.
JAMES A, LANSING,
Chairman of Board.
WALTER E. MYERS,
General Secretary.

TOD'S FLORIDA HOME WRECKED

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 24.—The $150,000 home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tod at Miami Beach was practically ruined by the Florida storm.

A message received today from Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mansfield of Montclair, N. J., cousins of Mrs. Tod who have been spending the summer there tells of the wreckage.

All the doors and windows are gone and the first floor is entirely wrecked. The high tide comes into the living room. The roof leaks like a sieve.

Mansfield says members of the family are safe.

Mrs. Tod said today the home is partially covered by insurance.

Tod is expected home Saturday from a hunting trip in Canada and Mr. and Mrs. Tod will leave next week for Florida to inspect the damages.

A telegram was also received here today that Mr. and Mrs Harold Collins are safe in Miami.

Mrs. Collins is a sister of Lewis Raver whose father, mother and sister were in the storm area. Mr. and Mrs. Collins left last week for Florida just missing the storm.

Thousands Hear Fight Returns At News Office; Mercer Street Is Packed

Philadelphia may have had 130,000 fight fans in the Sesqui-Centennial stadium last night to see "Leatherneck" Gene Tunney administer a tasty bit of a licking to Jack Dempsey, but New Castle had its fight crowd also.

Five thousand would probably be a good guess of the crowd which packed Mercer street from the postoffice to below Sycamore way to get the blow by blow account of the big battle in the Quaker City.

Certainly Were Packed In.

Brother, they certainly were packed in, in front of the News building. New Castle folks expect up to the minute service from the News and as usual they got it. The News had a leased wire in at the ringside of the fight and as each blow was struck it came through on the telegraph wire. And as it was coming in Charles P. "Bugs" Walther assistant sporting editor of the News broadcasted it to the crowd.

For the broadcasting service the News had a special installation of amplifiers installed by James Moorhead and the M. and D. Radio shop and Ted Woodrow expert radio mechanician of the same company was on hand to see that everything was right. In the telegraph room E. W. Grasser, mechanician of the Bell Telephone company was on hand ready to repair any break in the wire service machinery.

Out in the city room a battery of reporters was kept busy answering several thousand telephone calls and taking the evening as a whole the News had eight men busy just to provide the fans of New Castle with the service they deserve.

Mercer street was a picture. Caring little for the inclement weather the five thousand or more packed themselves in and while some of them got jostled in the mob there was nobody out of sorts. They were down town to hear the fight and they were not disappointed.

At the close of the fight it was a job to get down to Washington street. The crowd moved out enmasse and for a few minutes pedestrians had to take their chances of getting to the main artery of the city. They were litterally carried along with the crowd.

It was one of the largest, perhaps the largest crowd that ever shoehorned itself into Mercer street to get the returns of a sporting event and the appreciation of the News service was most apparent.

The News wishes to go on record now by promising that the same sort of service given in the fight last night will be duplicated in the World's series augmented by the player board which will reproduce every play.

The New Castle News believes it is obligated to give the people of New Castle the very best service possible and this will be done by telegraph, by radio, by player board and by annunciator system, the most modern it is possible to secure.

Plans Three Days Of World Praying

TAMARACK, Minn., Sept. 24.—Vernon Ewing, backwoods "miracle man," has announced the completion of plans for a "world's prayer" starting Friday, October 1, at 6 p. m., and lasting for three days.

Ewing, on June 1, conducted a "silent prayer" in a popular grove near here, which failed to produce the miracle he anticipated.

Clergymen who opposed the "silent prayer" last spring have indorsed the proposed "world prayer" Mr. Ewing an itinerant fitter of eye glasses, said.

"The first session of the world prayer will be silent and wordless and those participating will fall silent wherever they happen to be at 6 p. m.," Ewing declared in an interview with International News Service. "They will yield and submit their bodies and souls to God for one hour. Worshippers in New York and Washington will fall silent about one hour before the people who pray in Chicago, and thus the prayer will travel completely around the world.

"At 6 p. m., the following day the people who participated in the silent prayer will pray fervently for 15 minutes or so aloud or silently depending upon the choice of worshippers.

"Commencing at 6 p. m., Sunday October 1, the third and last prayer session, in which worshippers will pray for one hour, will begin to circle the earth. Either silent or audible prayers may be offered up."

Those who pray will ask "the cleansing of sinners and the healing of the afflicted," Ewing said.

Shenandoah Builder Believes England To Be Real Air Leaders

By BEN STERN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—America will soon be outstripped by European nations in the race for the mastery of the air. England is forging rapidly to the front in this respect and will soon be leading the world.

This is the belief of Captain Otto Heinen, famous German Zeppelin commander and supervising constructor of the ill fated dirigible Shenandoah, which crashed a year ago in a storm in the foothills south of Cambridge, O.

In an effort to awaken American business men to the need for nation-wide cooperation in pushing America to the front in the aeronautic field Captain Heinen is visiting many of the principal cities of the nation and adressing luncheons and booster clubs.

In proof of his statement that this nation is lagging behind, the Zeppelin expert said that Germany is now beginning to construct rigid airships and that England now has under construction two 5,000,000 cubic foot airships of the Shenandoah type.

In spite of several recent accidents air transportation is the safest mode of travel known to man today, he believes. Since his release from Navy connections Captain Heinen has set out to put his own beliefs to a practical test. He is the founder of the recently organized Aero corporation of America, a New Jersey corporation, organized to furnish daily airship transportation between Atlantic City and New York City and Philadelphia.

He announced that the corporation would contract for construction a dirigible of 65,000 cubic feet dimensions, capable of carrying 45 passengers and a crew.

"In a few years, if the American businessman and man on the street awaken to the possibilities," he said, "fleets of passenger-carrying airships of all classes will be winging across the continent in regular air lanes, much as it is being done in Europe today.

Insect-Killing Birds Increasing In Number

But For Them There Would Be No Grass For Cattle And No Food Crops

According to William L. Finley, president of the Oregon Audubon society and formerly state game warden, there has been a noticeable increase in the number of song and insectivorous birds in the United States, due to the federal law which now protects all valuable insectivorous birds, and a wakened sense of responsibility all over the country relative to these necessary adjuncts of life itself.

Few people stop to realize the economic importance of some very insignificant birds. Few realize that were all the birds exterminated, it would be only seven or eight years before humanity and all life itself would follow them. Insects would eat every green and growing thing. There would be no forests. There would be no grass to support cattle. There would be no crops.

So astoundingly prolific are the insects that, were they not checked, such a condition of affairs would speedily come about. The boll weevil, for instance, is capable of leaving over 12,000,000 descendants in one season, provided all goes well with the little family! Others are quite as productive of progeny.

At present the insects get about 20 per cent of the farmer's dollar. As the valuable bird population rises, the rate of insect loss will decrease.

So much had the bird life of the country been depleted a few years ago that there was serious doubt whether there were sufficient birds left to maintain the balance in nature which provides for the ascendancy of bird over harmful insect life. There is not any too wide margin now.—Birmingham News.

St. Louis To Spend $76,000,000 To Get New Rapid Transit

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.—A rapid transit system which would cost in the neighborhood of $76,000,000 the major part of which to be defrayed by the general public through a bond issue, is contemplated here as a means of relieving St. Louis of its congested traffic condition in the downtown area.

The plan which will be completed next month and submitted to the special aldermanic committee on rapid transit by E. R. Kinsey, president of the board of public service, would provide for an underground street car system throughout the downtown section and extension to these lines to six points in the city's midsection by either elevated lines or subways.

Whether the extensions would be above or below the surface would depend on the comparative costs and other conditions at the time the underground street car system is complete.

The first step in the plan—the underground system in the downtown area—would take about five years to complete after it was authorized and would cost approximately $40,000,000. It is the plan of those studying the project to get the first step completed as soon as possible to make way for the extensions to the midsection, which it is estimated would cost about $36,000,000.

Later they plan to make the system complete by giving such service through Greater St. Louis by extensions to the suburbs.

The cost of the system would be split three ways—among the street car riders, the benefited property owners and the general public.

The street car riders would pay their share of the cost by a slight increase in fares, not more than one-half cent over the present rate, which is seven cents. Assessments would be made against the benefited property owners and a bond issue to be subscribed by the general public probably would be proposed to take care of the major portion of the cost.

A year had been required to complete the survey, for which the city appropriated $25,000.

Man Kills Self Rather Than Face His Imprisonment

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 24.—To prevent his arrest, Joseph Champagne, alias Barnes, 25, of Cleveland, O., was dead Thursday by his own hand.

Champagne, in an automobile, was being pursued by police through Lancaster streets here yesterday. As police neared him he sent a bullet through his head. He died instantly as his speeding automobile mounted a street curb and stopped.

The man was wanted on a charge of seducing minors, police said. For the past two weeks he had been in Lancaster with his wife, a local woman, and his small child.

Despondency was responsible for the suicide of her husband, the widow said Thursday.

Ohio Bus Lines Get Deluxe Cars

(International News Service)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Sept. 24.—Deluxe motor busses, with unbreakable glass enclosed observation platform, tiny electrically equipped pantry, washroom, and cozy chairs of the chair-car type, will become a part of the travellers life, according to Earl R. Lewis, local attorney and president of the Ohio Bus Association.

Some of the machines, capable of carrying 20 passengers are already being tried out, Lewis said, and they are to be improved for long distance traveling.

The glass enclosed observation platforms will become a feature, Lewis predicted. The roof over the platform will also be made of the unbreakable glass so that passengers will be able to see mountain scenery, where the busses will be used for touring canyons.

Larger windows also of the same material are seen by Lewis. "Curtains, coming together in the middle will keep out the sunlight, or may be thrown wide open to afford the tourists an unobstructed view," he said.

Sin In Politics Under Fire By Ohio Crusaders

Drive Against Crime Is Organized To Purge State Of Lawlessness

Political Protectors To Get No Mercy From Fighters In Two Probes

By PAUL E. BROKAW
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O. Sept. 24.—Two units of that organized crime concern known as the underworld are now facing the exterminating fire of crusaders in Ohio.

In Canton, where Don R. Mellett, vice-fighting publisher went down to his death while making an expose of conditions, a well-organized drive against crime and its political protectors is underway.

In Steubenville, an industrial center of about 30,000 population, a ministerial association is carrying on a determined fight to purge that thriving little city of crime.

Both investigations are being aimed at alleged political sinners.

Steubenville and Canton, both known for years in the Buckeye state as two small, yet highly important links, in that chain of crime which connects the east with the middle west, have long been 'white elephants' on the hands of law enforcement officers.

In Steubenville

Steubenville, in the past years, has been the scene of many bloody encounters between federal and state officers and bootleggers.

A few years ago a bitter Klan and anti-Klan spirit expressed itself in the form of murderous bullets during a Ku Klux Klan parade and several were killed.

Canton officials admit they have had more than their share of unsolved murders.

The vice-fighters in both cities have succeeded in ousting their police chiefs.

Seranus A. Lengel, former head of the Canton police, and Blaine D. Carter, erstwhile chief of the Steubenville force, have been relieved of their official titles.

Lengel is staging a fierce legal battle for reinstatement.

Carter is reported to have left Steubenville.

Mayor John S. H. Patton of Steubenville, has also had his official crown lifted.

Several Canton policemen have been fired, as well as two members of the civil service commission.

Threats of Death

Threats of death have indirectly reached the ears of Attorney W. R. Alban, counsel for the Steubenville ministers, and Charles E. Morris, publisher of the Canton Daily News, who filled the vacancy caused by the murder of Mellett.

Both men have emphatically declared that they will "carry on" until "righteousness reigns again."

Since the murder of Mellett and the activity of the Steubenville ministers, several anti-vice drives have cropped out in other Ohio cities and in surrounding states.

Federal investigators working under the direction of U. S. Attorney A. E. Bernsteen, with headquarters here, are believed to be amassing evidence against a whiskey and narcotic smuggling branch of the organized chain in Pittsburgh, Toledo, Detroit and Chicago.

War Pictures Now Are Order Of Day

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—War pictures are the order of the day in Hollywood. In practically every one of the larger studios the war motif is found in feature productions now under way. The pictures do not necessarily deal with the World War, but each has a historical conflict as its underlying theme.

Paramount alone has five big war pictures in production, including Pola Negri's "Hotel Imperial", work upon which prevented the beautiful Polish actress from rushing to the bed of Rudolph Valentino when word first came of his serious illness in New York.

B. P. Schulberg, associate producer in executive control of Famous Players-Lasky west coast studios, explained the popularity of the war theme.

"The great purpose behind motion picture production", Schulberg declared, "is the presentation of life's great drama on the screen. The greater the drama, the greater the appeal to the public. And the greatest drama of all human history is war."

Rum Runners Use Tacks And Smoke To Foil Police

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Sept. 24.—A deadly smoke screen together with a barrage of tacks has been laid down by rum runners here speeding through the night with their cargoes of liquor.

This new method of warfare has rendered the runner very difficult of capture and police declare it is a "menace." Two automobiles equipped with such smoke screen contrivance have been captured in one week but only after the runners lost control of their cars and collided with the officers.

The "menace" to police comes in when after the chase is fairly started the runner throws out his smoke screen and lets go his cargo of tacks rendering the chasing policeman soon incapable of further pursuit. There is considerable chagrin among the police too because at this time there is no law preventing use of smoke screens here.

The only charge on which the driver using a smoke screen could be held if captured is speeding or unless his car is found to contain liquor.

The cars examined after they were wrecked were found equipped to burn iodine and ammonia and ether. In any case an impenetrable wall of black smoke covers the road and the speeding police car must either come to a stop or run the risk of a fatal crash the police declare.

France And Italy In Border Dispute

By SAMUEL A. ROBINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NICE, Sept. 24.—Franco-Italian frontier incidents caused by the tightening of Italian border control regulations threaten to disturb the hitherto very friendly relations existing between France and Italy.

For the last two years it has been the custom of both countries to allow motorcars carrying passengers free access across the frontier. The arrangement worked well until recently when a French autocar company, owing to a fete being held across the border, doubled their number of daily trips.

One car crossed the border and returned without difficulty, but in attempting to make a second crossing the driver was stopped by Italian gendarmes. Driver and passengers were escorted back across the frontier and Italian authorities requested French police to arrest the party. After two hours' discussion and argument the car was finally allowed to proceed on its way.

Since this episode Italian authorities demand a deposit of 10,000 liras before allowing a car to cross the Riviera border. In many cases, passengers, especially those of French nationality, have been forced to pay 25 francs for passport stamps.

The new ruling is particularly onerous to French citizens who live in Breil, close to the Italian border, who, in order to reach Mentone, have to cross Italy or make a detour of 15 miles.

Yale Starts Work On New Galleries

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn. Sept. 24.—Construction work has started on Yale's elaborate new art galleries that are to form an important feature of the University school of fine arts, and will create a real art center for Connecticut besides. More than one-half the total art galleries are to be erected now, Yale having a gift of one million dollars for the purpose.

The rest of the galleries will follow in short order, it is believed, and the fine arts section of the University will be in its new home in 1931, the year that will mark the centennial of the real beginnings of attention to art at Yale.

The new Yale galleries will occupy the block on Chapel street from High to York streets. An overhead bridge is to connect the present art school building on the old campus at High and Chapel streets, and the recently finished architectural building will complete the finest arts group. A campus for the exclusive use of fine arts students is already finished though so hidden that the general public knows but little of its existence.

A feature of the million dollar art building will be the more than half mile of galleries on the second floor. These galleries are to have a total of 27,410 square feet and extend 2,710 linear feet. Included in the layout will be a Renaissance European art group of five galleries; a gallery of 1,080 feet to house the noted Jarvis collection; one of 3,248 feet for the priceless Trumbull collection of paintings; four for eighteenth centery and American art; two for modern paintings, two for prints, a gallery for miniatures, and a Belgian room.

The ground floor is to have the office of the dean and his staff, class rooms, a hall of casts, a large lecture room, sculpture galleries, and galleries for Asyro-Babylonian, Greco-Roman, and Egyptian work beside library quarters and a temporary loan exhibition gallery.

The first section of the new art galleries will be ready for use about December 1, 1927.

Present Style Show At New Castle Store

Dame fashion aired her views for the fall and winter season before a large group of spectators at the style show Thursday afternoon at the New Castle Dry Goods Company.

A silhouette for every type was the keynote, and the adult models, all employes of the store displayed the gowns and coats in a most professional manner. Baskets of dahlias and softly shaded floor lamps, together with rythmic strains of popular music formed an appropriate setting for the occasion.

Milady who wishes to be up to the minute must wear the bat or dolman sleeve in her new gowns. Sleeves are the mark of distinction for the season, caught tight at the wrist with wide armholes extending to the waist line.

Channel red, jungle green and black are outstanding colors for street and afternoon wear. Black made up with tints and shades of red are particularly popular. Velvet and satin combinations, Elizabeth crepe, metal cloth and crepe satin, bloused and paneled, must all have their place in the wardrobe. Formal dinner and dance frocks in pastel shades of chiffon scintillate artfully, set off with rhinestones and brilliants, still have the straight lines.

Deep armholes and the drop shoulder line were noticed in the coats of brown, green, grey and black, beautifully trimmed with fur collars and cuffs of fox. Dull finished velverett and gerona cloth coats were shown in number. Outstanding in the line of coats were the gorgeous models of Hudson seal, black muskrat, cocoa squirrel, each set off with chick little hats in corresponding or blending colors, and all other accessories necessary for the well dressed woman.

Novel styles are always popular, and this time it is the pony and plaid reversible coat having a distinctively new touch and striking in appearance.

Not only are the grown-ups to step out in tasty finery, but the teen age, school children and tiny tots will all have their individual styles. Blue and red combination frocks in flannel and serge appear to be popular with the young miss, while clever jersey frocks in tan and blue are serviceable colors for the younger generation, both for the girls' dresses and boys' suits.

Something dainty and sweet must always be found for the very tiny tots, and knitted coats and hats in pale pinks and blues and made in new styles will be the latest.

As a special feature of the afternoon performance little Miss Geraldine Fleck entertained with a splendid interpretation of the Charleston.

A distinctly new angle to the style show followed at the evening performance for ladies when Miss M. Bickerton of New York, representative of the Gossard Corset Company, showed a number of corsets and foundation garments on living models. Boneless garments and the new charmosetts elastic fabric were shown, and the correct method of adjusting the wraparound were explained in detail. Black saline negligees trimmed with brilliant colors are popular.

Both performances of the style show will be repeated today.

Original Linotype Machine In City Goes Into History

Machine Has Served New Castle News For Twenty-Eight Years

In the plant of The New Castle News, which is as modern as any newspaper plant in the country, is taking place today, a little event that is really historical in the life of the newspaper, in the progress of The New Castle News.

Another new modern linotype machine is being placed in the battery of machines in service. It will replace a machine that has been in service for 28 years, the first linotype machine that was ever used in New Castle.

On May 3, 1898, this machine was installed in The News, along with a companion machine. At that time the linotype was comparatively new, and the installation of such a machine was a noteworthy feature in any newspaper office. It marked the beginning of the development of the modern newspaper. Linotype machines supplanted hundreds of men who had set type for newspapers by hand, and have enabled the rapid progress made by newspapers in the past 25 years to be accomplished.

The particular machine that was the first to be used in New Castle, has about served its day. While it is not beyond its period of usefulness, it is not sufficiently modern to allow of the many diversified uses of a linotype of today, and for this reason is being replaced. It is only capable of setting two type faces while the new machine will set six or eight different kinds of type.

The companion machine of the one replaced today, was displaced by a newer machine years ago.

British Hotels To Check Heavy Labels Traffic

By F. A. WRAY.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 24.—British hoteliers are adopting an ingenious device to stop the traffic in hotel labels. They are determined to check the vanity of a certain class of traveler.

The idea comes from E. M. Pick a hotel manager of Zurich. After many years of experience he has tired of the man who has his baggage pasted with labels of the most expensive hotels in the world—although he has never stopped in one.

Pick's advice is for the leading hotels each to issue its own travel stamp to be issued to the hotel guest at the time when the bill is paid. These stamps are about four times the size of the ordinary stamp. They express some characteristic of the hotel its wonderful view, its architecture or some other distinguishing feature.

Artists are now designing interesting and attractive travel labels and they are to be issued not only by hotels but by air lines, steamships, railroads and even town. Placed in a special album they should be an interesting souvenir of travel.

Polish Thieves Get Big Haul

(International News Service)

WARSAW, Sept. 24. — Thieves succeeded in stealing from a jeweller's window in the Hotel Europe here more than $60,000 worth of jewelry, although at least 20 detectives and policemen were in the immediate vicinity.

The thieves accomplished their work in daylight. There were three house detectives in the building, two outside and six policemen on permanent duty in front of the hotel, which is the abode of most foreign diplomats and several governmental officials. Directly across the street is the garrison for the city detachments guarded by a score or more soldiers.

No trace of the thieves had been found since they closed the door on the shop clerks and walked away with three bags of loot in their hands.

Heavy Damage Due To Storm

Butler County And Part Of Allegheny Hit By Severe Storm

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Thousands of dollars damage was done throughout the northern part of Allegheny county and the southern part of Butler county, according to reports reaching here today, the result of lightning and wind followed by a heavy downpour of rain, which was still falling this morning.

The lighting system at Tarentum and the telephone service at Brackenridge, Pa., were badly crippled, due to the severe electrical disturbance.

In some places in this vicinity it was reported that the rain caused small rivers and creeks to overflow their banks. Two small bridges were carried away over creeks in Allison.

George Fisher's barn at Gibsonia was wrecked by the high wind, it was said, and high tension wires were torn down making the road near the Fisher farm impassable for more than two hours.

Traffic on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was delayed by small landslides near here. However, trains were running on schedule today, railroad officials said.

Cost Of Wooing High In Ireland

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, Sept. 24.—"Love them and loot them" seems to be the slogan of many young girls in Dublin today, where the cost of wooing is higher than ever before.

Young men here are complaining that the flapper, and, indeed, her elder sister expect too much and that "keeping company" has become prohibitively expensive.

The boys declare that the flappers' appetite for ices and candy has become abnormal, that she insists on sitting in too expensive seats at the theatre—which is visited too often—and that she expects to be taken to and from a dance in a taxi.

Gone are the times when the young girls were content with a quiet walk along some lonely lane and an occasional bunch of flowers. Nowadays the girls want gaiety all the time.

It is also said that the affection of many girls in these days is too fleeting, and that, after they have had a good time for a while, new cavaliers are sought.

"Oh for a nice demure, domesticated girl" is the vain cry of the boys whose pockets no longer jingle thanks to the modern Miss and her methods.

Weather Bureau Forecasts Control Over Restaurants

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—Weather elements both fair and adverse and their relations to commerce even playing a prominent part in the menus prepared for our daily sustainance, have long been an obscure consideration. Now comes a United States government official to cite the importance of weather forecasting and the effect that the predictions have upon the daily walks of life.

Before the national annual business conference at Babson Park, George A. Loveland of the United States Weather bureau, Boston stated that prominent restaurant owners in this city frequently call the bureau early in the morning governing the preparation of their respective noon-day and afternoon meals in accord with the predictions as compiled by the weather forecasting experts. Hot weather increases demands for lighter food while cold weather sees a much larger consumption of heavy staple foods acocrding to Mr. Loveland's survey.

The attending meterologists stressed particularly the importance of weather forecasts for commercial activities. Mr. Loveland pointed out the importance of the forecast by stating that many lines of business would be crippled if weather bureaus were closed and forecasting information discontinued.

Pointing out the importance of weather forecasting and its relationship to commerce, Mr. Loveland stated that accessible information including forecasting predictions, climatological conditions and meteorological phenomena information can aid business men materially.

Light Weight Street Car Used In Cleveland, O.

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—A street car constructed of duralumin—possessing greater resistance than steel yet with one third less weight—has been manufactured here and will be introduced to the transportation world soon.

The car is fashioned throughout of the allow with the exception of wheels, axles, springs and sills. It is expected to inaugurate a new era in electric railway construction.

Not only does this new mode of transportation afford greater safety to passengers but it cuts the weight of a single unit from 42,000 pounds to 32,000 pounds.' This means a diminution of power necessary to operate it, of approximately 15 per cent.

The allow used in constructing duralumin cars contains an admixture of 4.5 per cent copper; 0.75 per cent magnesium and 1 per cent manganese. It is fabricated by extrusion instead of rolling as in the manipulation of steel.

The allow is heated to a jelly-like mass, then rammed through dies formshaping. Instead of trimming with imense shears as is done with steel, a power saw is employed.

Oklahoma Boy, At 101, Visiting Best Girl, 104

(International News Service)

WILLIAMS, Okla., Sept. 24. — Gustavius H. Namon of this city is 101 years old—but not too old to retain an interest in his girl friends.

In fact, Mr. Namon is now on the way to Kentucky for a visit with his "best girl," who is 104. He sees and hears well, and claims the honor of being the second oldest Mason in the United States.

"Work hard and dont' worry" is his answer to those who would live long.

"I've never seen a moving picture," he said. "It's a shame to pay for entertainment when there are so many good shows out on the street." And as a group of young girls passed by, dressed in ultramodern fashion, the centenarian waved a languid hand.

"Just look," he said.

What Makes Home Happy?

FOUR walls can make a house, but it takes a woman to make a home.

The woman who prepares nourishing and attractive meals, does her housework without grumbling, raises a family of healthy boys and girls and still finds time to be a pal to her husband and a friend to her neighbors, is accomplishing the biggest job in the world. Homes like hers—little havens of peace and love—are the bulwark of the nation.

To be a successful homemaker a woman must guard her health. When the mother is not well the home is upset. Women everywhere are learning through their own personal experiences, as Mrs. Riessinger did, the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. RIESSINGER was in poor health after the birth of her first baby. She weighed only 98 pounds. One day a neighbor told her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she decided to try it. "After taking four bottles," she writes, "I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework without one bit of trouble." Her address is MRS. M. RIESSINGER, 10004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

Smith Sees Mills As His Opponent

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, Sept. 24. — Governor Al Smith's political opinion is worth anything—and there are thousands in the state who believe he is one of the greatest political leaders the state has ever produced—then Representative Odgen L. Mills of New York, will be nominated for Governor at the Republican convention at Madison Square Garden, September 27 and 28.

Governor Smith, according to reports at the Capitol today, has frankly told friends he believes the Republicans will nominate Mills after the booms for a half dozen other candidates have been given an airing at the convention.

All doubt that the governor might refuse renomination at the Demonocratic convention at Syracuse has been dispelled and the Democratic leaders are now going ahead with their plans for the remainder of the state ticket. They have agreed, it was said here today, to nominate Supreme Court Justice Robert F. Wagner of New York, for the United States Senate to oppose Senator Wadsworth and Franklin W. Cristman, of Herkimer, the candidate of the "dry" forces.

Representative Mills has said several times of late he is not and will not be a candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket this fall. There are some Republicans who believe Mills will be drafted, the same as Democratic leaders have done with regard to Governor Smith.

Charleston Dancers Head Big Bill At Capitol, Fight Pictures Tonight

Lots of us imagine that we can Charleston a wee bit. That peculiar knee action and odd steps of the dance have been tried by most of us, but it remained for two boys and two girls to come to the Capitol Theatre to demonstrate to the folks hereabouts, just what its all about.

Shelby Singer and Thomas Nolan, two champion Charleston dancers and Anna Gida and Harold Spencer have an act in the Capitol the last three days of this week and after watching them a while, you wonder whether or not they have bones where you and I do.

They take one's breath with their lightning-like gyrations and their work is so pleasing that the audience on Thursday night seemed to break loose with a tornado of applause.

Two other acts are on the bill, Georgia Hunter and Burns and St. Clair.

Hunter is a scandal monger, admits it himself, and his confidential talk to the audience gets a laugh. Burns and St. Clair have a high class comedy act. It's a satire on present day dresses and is a sure fire act.

As a special feature of tonight, the Capitol will show the pictures of the Dempsey-Tunney fight of last night in Philadelphia. The camera boys had to do some snappy work to get these pictures over the mountains, but they're here, ready for you tonight.

The picture is "The Lady Of The Harem", a screen dramatization of an Arabian Night story. It's wonderfully well directed, and has a cast of such stars as Greta Nissen, William Collier, Jr., and Ernest Torrence.

MARINE CORPS RESERVES MAY ENTER ANNAPOLIS

Must Submit Application By January 1—Must Pass Rigid Examination

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Members of the Marine Corps Reserve, who desire to enter the Naval Academy at Annapolis, will submit their applications to Major General John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, before January 15, and will be given a competitive examination in April, according to an announcement at the headquarters of the Reserve here.

Only highly-qualified men will be considered, however, as stringent regulations limit the number of eligibles. The candidate must be a citizen of the United States, under twenty years of age, who has been in the Reserve for at least a year, and has attended the prescribed number of drills. He must also pass a rigid physical and mental examination.

The Secretary of the Navy may appoint not more than twenty-five midshipmen in any one year to the Naval Academy from the Naval Reserve and the Marine Corps Reserve, and these candidates must meet the same qualifications as other enlisted men who are so appointed.

WE GET A COMEBACK

that when you have the opportunity you would tell them to get all the old-fashioned learning they can: Latin, that they may know their English better; mathematics, that they may think more logically; and literature that they may think the great thoughts of all the ages.

Most respectfully yours,
ROBERT WHITE.

"I was compelled to study the Greek language under this old man. He was perhaps as fine and great a Greek scholar as America had at that time. It is related of him that once, in the city of Boston, he was going by the police headquarters and heard a man chattering away in an unknown tongue. The officials were unable to understand what he said. Calib Mills stopped, recognizing that he was a Greek, got into conversation with him, acted as interpreter and had him discharged from custody.

"I had then, as I have now, the happy faculty of superficiality. It enabled me quickly to learn any subject to which I put my mind and just as quickly to forget it when I no longer used it. This faculty came as a valuable asset afterward in the trial of lawsuits where there were technical questions. During the preparation and trial of a lawsuit involving either medicine or mechanics I was just as good a doctor as anybody until the verdict came in, and just as good an engineer; but two days afterward the only way I could tell quinine was to taste it, and the only way in which I knew the throttle of an engine was to see another man pull it. With this facility I succeeded in imposing upon this old professor of Greek, and he labored with me for many hours, urging me, after my graduation, to go to Greece, become conversant with modern Greek and to devote my life to teaching that language. I did not see it that way, however. Perhaps I made a mistake. I might have been, for aught I know, a distinguished Greek professor, down on my knees begging some young man in some institution of learning to study that language in which was written the words of the greatest teacher the world ever knew, Jesus of Nazareth. Save two or three brief Greek phrases all this has passed from my mind and memory. I can hardly recognize the characters when I see them. It is the old, old story that with more or less facility we lose the things we do not use. How clearly I am enabled to express myself I do not know; but of one thing I am quite convinced: that I should have suffered a far greater handicap in life than I have in the way of expression of thought and of clarity of statement had I not studied the classic languages. I realize that few now are paying any attention to them, and that a man may be a master of arts with a mere smattering of Latin and no Greek whatever, but I am not convinced that the loss of these two languages is contributing to accurate English.

There were great men who agreed with me. I remember that Judge Francis E. Baker of the appellate bench in Chicago was one of these men. Years ago, in the lull of a trial in Goshen, Indiana, we were discussing various questions in the lawyers' retiring room. Among other things, the preparation for the law and the ministry came up, and Baker and I were the only ones insisting upon the advisability of the study of Latin and Greek. There was a popular preacher in that town who came into the room while the discussion was going on. He took the opposite view of it and said that there were glossaries, dictionaries and encyclopedias that would give a man all he needed and that struggling through the Greek and Latin classics was a a waste of time. I have never forgotten the answer of Judge Baker to this man. He said to him: "Doctor, I observed you walking down the street this morning with your head thrown back, at peace with God and the world, and well satisfied with yourself. I knew this arose from the fact that you had just returned from conference, and that the papers had said that while there you were the cynosure of all eyes. Now, Doctor, you would not have walked so egotistically if you had studied Greek instead of the encyclopedia and had realized that the word 'cynosure' literally means 'dog's tail'." I think all of those who have gone through the grind of the study of the Greek language will admit that it is the whetstone of the human intellect. None of the stone may be left upon the knife after the sharpening process, but the knife is the keener for the use of the stone."

UNCLE JOE TRAX AND CANNON IN DES MOINES, IA.

Veteran Soldier Making Big Hit In Western City—Writes Of Trip To Des Moines

Uncle Joe Trax and his little cannon made a big hit at Des Moines, Iowa, according to information received from the Western City today.

William Bowen of Prairie City, Iowa, writes that the people of New Castle should feel proud of such a worthy old veteran as Uncle Joe. He stated that although Des Moines was a large city, the boys there were all acquainted with Uncle Joe and liked him very much. Weather is bad in that locality the report stated but in spite of inclement weather conditions a large number of veteran soldiers are in conference there. Bowen hopes that he can meet all New Castle veterans at the convention in Dayton, Ohio, next year.

A brief letter from Uncle Joe Trax was received at the News relating of his trip to the west. Joe stated that they had a hard time reaching Des Moines due to heavy rains which necessitated their going for nine miles in three feet of water.

Uncle Joe marched through the streets with his little cannon accompanied by twelve girls. He said the men were taking excellent care of him and did everything possible for him. Trax will be home a little later than he expected due to washout along the route caused by rains according to the letter.

THE NEWS BY MAIL, ONE YEAR, $5.00

8,000 Miles Of Penna. Roadways Just Complete, Cost Quater Billion

By G. ROSS DOWNING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24. — Pennsylvania today was preparing to spend the last ten million dollars of her second 50 million dollar road bond issue. At the same time advocates of good roads were outlining a campaign whereby an additional 50 million dollar issue which will require another amendment to the state constitution may be launched. If this bond issue is put over, the money cannot become available before 1928.

During the past four years the state department of highways has spent nearly a quarter of a billion dollars on highway construction and maintenance. In this four-year period 3,000 miles of hard-surfaced road have been constructed and 1,200 miles of stone-based road have been re-surfaced.

The ten million dollars, which, under the terms of the last bond issue, will become available next month, will be required for projects already under contract. These projects under contract practically will complete the major trans-state arteries of traffic as well as a number of important connecting links.

According to Plan.

In the last decade road building in the Keystone state has been carried out entirely in accord with a carefully mapped plan. A decade ago it was decided to stop the practice of building segregated stretches of improved road to reach country estates of prominent politicians and instead follow the important cross-state routes.

More than 12,000 miles of road of which 7,581 miles are hard surfaced comprise the present highway system of Pennsylvania. These hard surfaced roads are kept free of snow in the winter and are under constant repair in the summer.

When this year's building program is completed next summer, the state will have more than 8,000 miles of improved highways. Regardless of how carefully its surface may be maintained with drag and oil, no road is considered or marked "improved" in Pennsylvania until it has been hard surfaced.

Nearly 4,000 miles of dirt road were placed under the control of the highway department by a recent act of the legislature. It has been estimated that 200 million dollars will be necessary to hard surface these stretches of connecting highways.

Roads Widened.

Necessity of widening sections of the main routes has added to the expense of maintaining the primary system and has reduced the mileage of improvement in the more outlying sections. The majority of the highways originally were built 18 feet wide. It has been necessary to widen the routes approaching the larger cities to 40 feet. Surveys have been completed for a similar treatment to other congested sections.

During the height of the working season 25,000 men are engaged in the construction and maintenance of the state highways. Approximately 10,000 of these men are permanent employes.

Besides the two bond issues of 50 million dollars each Pennsylvania has secured money for road work from the usual license fees of various sorts and from the gasoline tax of two cents on the gallon. Laws passed at the special session of the legislature last January have tightened the collection of the gasoline tax, ending years of petty grafting by many small retailers and increasing the amount available for road construction and repair.

Traveler's Guide For State Motorists

Secretary Of Highways Issues Guide For Roads Of State

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—W. H. Connell, engineering executive and acting secretary of highways, today announced that a new edition of the traveler's guide, Facts Motorists Should Know, is ready for distribution.

The traveler's guide is crammed full of interesting material for the tourist in Pennsylvania. It is profusely illustrated with new photographs taken along Pennsylvania's splendidly paved highways.

Of special note is a sectional map of the state, which occupies eight pages in the center of the guide and shows the state highways and the important local roads. It shows the small local communities, as well as mileage between all points on the main highway within the state.

Each of the several principal north and south east and west routes in the state is described in great detail, with note of the outstanding features which may be seen along each route. The tourist is also given a brief but comprehensive sketch of the points of interest in each section of the state. There is a description of the many state forest parks of Pennsylvania and of desirable camp sites in every county of the state.

Finally, the motorist is given a digest of the motor vehicle laws and rules of the road, which must be observed to make touring safe in Pennsylvania.

The guide will be mailed to all persons requesting it, upon receipt of five cents for wrapping and postage. Address the Publicity Office, State Department of Highways, Harrisburg, Pa.

Order Contractor To Remedy Paving Defects Reported

Second Payment For Arlington Avenue Paving Temporarily Held Up

City council today acted favorably upon Councilman Lou Genkinger's motion instructing the John B. Thorson company, contractors, to remedy defects in Arlington avenue concrete paving.

Councilmen inspected the concrete recently and discovered depressions. The street is rough, due to "rolls," councilmen state. Specifications declare that shall not be any inequalities greater than 1-4 an inch.

Today the city clerk read a certification from City Engineer Miller stating the contractors are entitled to a second payment of $13,414.37.

Councilman Tyler asked colleagues "to let the certification lay". He pointed out that, to pay now, would mean the city would be virtually accepting the job as satisfactory.

"Let us do one thing or another" replied Davies.

"I will say" replied Tyler "that as far as we can see the concrete is as good as any other but time alone will only answer this. There are depression. This might have happened after the workman went home at night. I believe the mixture was lighter than it should have been."

Miller was asked to give his opinion and he said: "I was given to understand that council would pass my certification in regard to the second payment. That is why I presented it." Mr. Miller made this statement for the enlightment of Councilman Burns who did not attend the conference, Miller referred to.

"When council accepts the certification the thing is done" said Burns, implying that thereafter the city would have no recourse. He said that there is a two inch depression in one place and that specifications prohibit inequalities in excess of 1-4 an inch.

"If we approve it, it looks as though you are excusing it and future jobs" remarked Engineer Miller.

William P. Dout, an interested party, spoke to council and said, "It is as good a pavement as has been laid. It is nearer 9 and 10 inches than 8 inches. It slips. We had lots to contend with—with rain and other conditions. You will not find any better pavement anywhere." He explained that the same situation has appeared on state highways. "It is a tamp job and is put in solid. I hate this" said Dout, "but I know it is an honest job."

He was asked: "You can ship off the rolls?"

Dout answered "yes."

"If this second payment binds the city I am not ready to vote in favor of it" said Mayor Dunlap.

"I move that John B. Thorson company be notified to remedy defects in Arlington avenue paving" said Genkinger.

Davies seconded the motion, other councilmen voting favorably.

INDICT TWO IN SECRET PROBE

State Police On Guard As Negroes Are Indicted For Slaying

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—With state troopers on guard against threatened mob violence, a secret inquest into the death of Walter "Budd" Harden, 19, of Chester, Pa., was held today at the court house here and was followed ten minutes later by the indictment of two negroes as the slayers of the youth, who met death fighting to save two youthful girl companions from attacks.

Secrecy as to the inquest which was conducted behind closed doors was maintained after threats had come from Chester that the two negro prisoners, Walter Webb and Amos Hughes, would be lynched. As a result the two terror-stricken prisoners, who confessed to the slayings and attacks, under heavy guard, were rushed into the court house opposite the jail.

The girl victims, Florence Scott, 14, and Anna Klemsky, 17, were present at the inquest, but were not called to testify.

Immediately after the coroner's jury returned a verdict, that Harden met death from two gunshot wounds fired by Webb and Hughes, Assistant District Attorney Wm. C. McClenahan hastened before the grand jury and obtained the indictments, while District Attorney Taylor made arrangements for an immediate trial of the men.

ODD FELLOWS CONVENTION TO COME TO CLOSE

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—A brief business session today will bring to a close the one hundred and second annual communication of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Many of the delegates have already left the city.

The Pennsylvania and New Hampshire assemblies of the Rebekah Association were admitted to membership at the business meeting of the women's organization.

Five Pennsylvanians were decorated with the grand decoration of chivalry, the highest honor known in Odd Fellowship.

They were: Hugh B. Smith, Harrisburg; Martin Mante, Pittsburgh; Max W. Hoppe, Philadelphia; John E. Detweiler, York, and George B. Horn of Chambersburg. The decorations were given for outstanding service to humanity.

New Sewage Disposal Plant To Be Publicly Inspected October 5

City council has designated October 5 as inspection day at the municipal disposal plant, and indications are that citizens will appear at the $328,000 plant to see how city council has invested their money. The plant was ordered built by the state health department.

Construction has been going on for a year. Fuller & McClintock prepared the plans and the Pitt Construction Company built the plant.

Council wants the citizens to view the plant before the sewage is turned into the tanks.

Today Resident Engineer Jones said that members of civic organizations have been asked to visit the plant October 5.

He said the plant would not be in operation until after October 5.

Picturesque Sheik Tells Of Customs And Life Of His Tribe At Mesopotamia

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 24—What is a sheik? He is the whole show. He is the burgess, the mayor, the leader of his community or tribe. Thus Sheik (pronounced Shek) Raphael Emmanuel informed his interested hearers at the Kiwanis dinner meeting Thursday evening in the Methodist church. Just a bit different from the Sheik as pictured in the movies, and after one has had the opportunity of hearing the Sheik from Mesopotamia, the Sheik as he actually lives and rules his tribe, is something of power, but according to Prince Emmanuel he is not the caveman who drags women into his tent.

A picturesque speaker, wearing the costume of his people which consisted of a head dress or Kaffier, linen tunic, dark girdle, baggy knee trousers, brightly blocked socks that had the appearance of golf hose and sandals, he made his appearance after the hearty chicken dinner at which the wives of the Kiwanians were the special guests.

The Sheik told of his arrival in this country. He was in California at the time when the picture "The Sheik" was being completed. When the director learned that a real sheik was on the grounds he sent for him and offered him a part in the picture. He appeared as one of the men in the section where the girls were being sold at the slave market.

"But we don't do that in our country," Sheik Emmanuel objected. "Oh, well we must make this picture snappy for the people who see it," was the reason given for this part. The prince said that the late Rudolph Valentino had never been in the country where Sheiks lived, in fact only one of the actors in the company had ever been there. He says that the picture "Ben Hur" is not accurate in one incident.

No Movies

In Mesopotamia, we do not have the movies. We do not read, we do not have amusements. After the sun has gone down, we gather together and tell stories. We believe that these stories are true, even as you believe the stories given out by the screen stars. We have no laws in our country, no courts, no judges, each community is ruled by a separate Sheik. We do not have medical doctors. Just a few weeks ago, I was made ill by eating too many dates. I was poisoned, and felt very bad. I was sure that I was about to die and a doctor was called. I couldn't sleep even in the grand hotel where I settled in such a delicious room. The doctor came, he put something in my arm that looked like grape juice and measured my degrees with an instrument called a thermometer that he put under my tongue. My I was sure I was going to die. But he said I had Hay Fever and gave me some pills.

"I have travelled all over the world, but in America I find the people more highly educated. They are much farther advanced than other countries. It is funny, in my country, the women cut their hair when they are in mourning for some one very dear to them. When I came to America and saw so many young women with their hair cut, I think they must be sad, but I soon find that I am wrong.

Many Wives.

"The sheiks, some of them very wealthy, have many wives. Never are there any divorces. Should a wife flirt, make eyes at another, she is merely replaced by one more consistent. When we see the maiden's eyes shining from behind the heavy veil which covers all of her face with the exception of the eyes, we say, 'what lovely eyes, so much like a cow's.' If the man wishes to take a wife, his parents make arrangements with the young woman's parents and give a dot consisting of cattle, fruit and other worldly goods. They are accompanied by the girl and 200 or 300 members of the tribe to protect the bride to be from being kidnaped by other tribes.

"Always when we meet another tribe we fight. Sometimes with clubs and other times with daggers. Men and women of this country do not have conversations. The bride brought to her husband, sees no one else for 40 days and nights.

"I saw something very funny in a western city not long ago. A bride still wearing her wedding gown was dancing with everybody and nobody stole her at all. My that was funny." Saying this, the sheik gave one of his hearty laughs, which proved so very contagious during his talk which was so straightforward and simple.

No Neuter Gender.

Continuing with his speech he said: "There is no neuter gender in our language. One would say, 'My thumb, he is cut', or 'my finger, she is sick.' We do not speak of smoking tobacco, we talk of drinking tobacco. Instead of telling the inquiring traveller how long it will take him to reach a destination, you tell him to fill a certain number of pipes and after he has finished drinking them, he will arrive. The tribes have no dealings with each other. We have no statistics and have no idea as to population etc., as you do in America.

Three Sundays a Week.

"We have so many religions in my land. The Christians have their Sunday on the same day as we have it here in the United States. The Hebrews have their Sunday on Saturday, and just for spite the Mohammedans have theirs on Friday. As for me, I am a Christian." With a smile of real joy brightening up his face the sheik continued: "There is no religion that has anything to offer but Christianity. It is clean, it is spiritual. The Hindu who is posing as the Messiah and who is being boosted by newspapers and press agents, is a fraud. There cannot be two Messiahs.

"I was in Germany and heard Kaiser Wilhelm give his declaration of war, which was very brief, like Lincoln's Gettysburg address, and of course very different. He was heartily applauded by heavy set men surrounded by stiff mustaches.

American Jails—Paradise.

"Your American jails are a veritable paradise. I can see why men continue to kill and get put there, where they are fed and clothed and even give music. In Mesopotamia we have no jails. The man is strapped to a pole (head down) and his feet lashed.

"Some people in America make large sums of money interpreting the Hindu dance. It is a farce. I witnessed one where a girl wearing a few sheaves for a dress danced, with one hand at range with her neck and the other up in the clouds some place. It's funny, how they do it. We have what is known as the sword dance, and we also carry a shield. In dancing with a young woman we are about a yard away from her and our little fingers are linked as we sway to the music made by the drum and a clicking sound which we make with our hands."

When asked what their mode of transportation was, the sheik replied: "Camels, they are the Cadillacs and the donkeys are the Fords". He interpreted the love song and said that the singers place their finger on their ear, claiming that it supports the voice. He further said that people of his country never shake hands and never kiss as the people of America do. In greeting, one takes the the left hand of the friend with his right, kisses it and places it to his forehead.

Prince Emmanuel had a very full program yesterday, speaking to the seniors in the morning and to the juniors in the afternoon. He was brought to Ellwood City by Prof. Ray Smith, who had learned of his splendid message from excellent authority, and the hundreds of people privileged to hear him feel amply repaid for any effort on their part to be among those present.

Girls Is Sissies And Umbrellas Nuisances, According To Small Boy

By KATE MOORHEAD

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 24.—Girls is sissys cause theyre scared at everything. Why theyre even scared of rain. Yestiday, when we wuz coming outta the school portable at the Circle, Miss Reynolds, my teacher, said, "now children you better stay inside until the rain is over." Jest as tho she hadn't been keepin us there for more than a half hour overtime aready. Jest cause she is so scared to get wet, she thinks us boys is like that too.

Well, I didnt wear no coat yestiday afternoon, on account it wuz too warm, and coats is nusances enyhows, when you forget where you lay em down when you play baseball, like we do at noon, before the man rings the cow bell. Even if it wuz rainin, I couldnt very well neglect my duty, which is holdin up the stop sine and tellin the kids when they can cross the street on Spring avenue, and blowin the whistle to give the guys in autos a chanct sometimes too.

Of course I got awful wet and when I wuz walkin back to the school house I seen one of the Stevenson kids wearin a black rain coat and hat and carrying a black bag with his books in. I yelled at him he wuz a sissy cause he wuz skeered of some rain but he jest didnt pay no tenshun, so it wusnt much fun to jest keep yellin.

There wus three girls and a boy walkin under one umbrella, and I laffed at them but they got mad and started throwin mud at me and I had to hurry some to keep outta those ruffnecks road. Lots a mothers come for their children in automobiles and some men waited for their kids outside of the school house, and some of them had to go home without their kids on account they didnt see them.

I seen some little girls without no umbrella and I took a stick and splashed water all over em. Gee they squealed, which goes and proves there jest scaredy cats. I yelled at three other girls under a rose-colered rain coat, but they jest stuck out their tongues at me and wouldnt even speak to me. Huh, they think there such a much. Why they aint even smart nor else they wouldnt do that, on account I mightnt speek to them next time, and I might have a lolypop.

Well after awhile I got back to the school house and there wuz two girls wearin white middies and blue skirts who was stayin in to help teacher clean the board and dust the racers. Well I took fore racers and showed em how easy it wuz to clean em that way. Some other kids in back of me yelled and said I wuz a big baby, and it made me mad and I threw the racers after them, and they fell in the mud and teacher got mad at me and whipped my hand.

Now do you blame me for sayin that women is sissys? That wus all the thanks I got for helpin clean the racers and showing the girls I wuz a gentleman. Jest then, if I didnt look up and there wuz my sister standin in the doorway with a big girls rain coat over her arm and a big umbrella in her hand what she made me carry. Imagine ME, havin to ware a girls rain coat and carry a numbrella jest like a sissy girl, but enyhows I had fooled her and got jest soaked before she even saw me.

Judge Says Marriage Is Give-And-Take

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—"Marriage is a give-and-take proposition."

So declared Judge Frank L. Harvey, of Clarion county when he discharged Peter Secret, 28, whose wife Catherine, 16, accused him of beating her.

"In this case, the wife was too 'sassy'," continued the judge, "and the husband too critical."

After telling Secret and his wife that they must trust one another more, if they expected to live happily together the court directed the husband to pay the fine and costs and the couple left the court room arm in arm.

Plan To Utilize Evergreen Trees

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—Instead of using evergreen decorations stripped from living trees for the November and December holiday decorations, the city of Allentown this year will utilize the branches of those felled in lumbering operations.

Officials of the State Department of Forests and Waters today said that Allentown is the first city in the state to take this "important conservation step." The officials expressed the hope that the example will be followed in other cities of the state.

The state department has arranged with the city for the delivery of a carload of hemlock and pine boughs about November 1. The boughs will be obtained from the Mont Alto State Nursery. They will be used to decorate light standards along Allentown streets.

The practice of stripping boughs from young evergreen trees especially is condemned by the department. Although lower boughs may be taken from large trees without seriously damaging their value, the same practice on smaller trees may kill or at least seriously retard their growth, forest experts declared.

Because of the exceedingly slow growth of evergreen trees, the state department takes every possible step to save them from destruction.

New Park Will Save Homes Of Mound Builders

144-Acre Tract With Prehistoric Earthworks To Be Preserved

State Road Being Built To Make Site Accessible To Tourists

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 24.—All possible speed will be used in beautifying the 144 acres comprising the Cahokia Mound Park in Southern Illinois and in completing the second state bond issue road to this park. Contracts for work on the park will have been let and the ground will be broken up and seeded.

The Mounds will not be disturbed.

The Great Cahokia Mound, or "Monks Mound," is easily the largest prehistorical artificial earth work in the United States and is to the "Mound Builders" what the Great Pyramides were to the Pharoahs of Egypt.

Dimensions of Mound

The dimensions of Monks Mound are: base, north and south, 990 feet; east and west 721 feet; height 99 feet. It covers 16 acres and is estimated to contain 84,000,000 cubic feet of earth. It has been figured that it would take 2400 builders working 10 hours every day for two years to complete this mound.

The Mound won its name because in 1804 the order of Trappist Monks built a mission there. The name Cahokia comes from the tribe of Indians LaSalle met in 1681. In addition to this mound there are 45 smaller ones scattered about.

The Cahokia mounds, scientists say, are identical with structures which the Spaniards found the Aztecs using in Mexico City for religious ceremonies in the early part of the sixteenth century.

Age Not Known

Just when the mounds were built has never been determined. It is believed, however, their construction antedated the arrival of the white man by several centuries.

It has ever been agreed upon by archaeologists as to who built the mounds. Some believe they were constructed by Aztecs who wandered north, others thinking that the relics found in the mounds indicate greater culture than that possessed by the Indians found when Columbus discovered America.

Appropriation was made by the Illinois assembly so that this heritage might be preserved.

Barber Decorates Shop Walls With Rare Paintings

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24. — George Sandman, adventurous barber artist, finds time to produce the faces of his friends on canvas. The walls of his famous little Golden Gate avenue shop are adorned with his works. Sandman was a friend of Jack London.

"I went to Nome with the gold rush," Sandman said reminiscently the other day. "I thought I would make my fortune—not as a miner, but in my own business as a barber.

"But is was so cold that winter that nobody shaved, and with thousands of men sprouting wiskers on every side, I had to go to work in the kitchens.'

In the summertime, however, the tide turned and wiskers fell fast and furiously under Sandman's shears. From those wiskers alone Sandman earned enough money to get back to the States

Back in San Francisco, Sandman reestablished himself in business where between hours and after hours the shears were cast aside for palette and paint brush and the shop began to bloom with paintings queerer still.

In his art Sandman follows a fanciful streak that luckily is not duplicated in the way he cuts customers' hair.

Sandman remembers Jack London well and recalls him as a moderator in the midst of rabid Marxians—a mild socialist continually endeavoring to subdue the revolutionary theories of his comrades.

"London was not an extremist," the aged man positively declares. "No matter if he seemed violent in his writings, he was the tamest of us all at the socialist meetings in those days."

Explaining why he continued barbering, Sandman said: "People do not need pictures so much as they need a haircut—at least, except in Alaska."

Belief In Evolution Held By All M. D's., Dr. Morton Thinks

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 24.—If doctors of medicine would announce their belief in Evolution, people in general would come to believe in Evolution, according to Dr. Dudley J. Morton, widely known as a member of Yale University's department of surgery. Dr. Morton recently addressed eighty members of the Cambridge, (England), University Medical School who came here to look over Yale and urged that medicos throughout the world express themselves on the controversial subject which he calls "The Phenomonon of Evolution."

"I believe that fully one hundred percent of those to whom we owe our important advances in medicine are fully assured of the fact of Evolution," Dr. Morton said. "They are also strongly convinced that the scope and rate of our future advances bear a direct ratio to our better understanding of the biological laws which have guided its course.

"The particular confidence and regard with which we are held by the public imposes a fearless seeking after truth on our part wherever it may result to their advantage; and probably nothing would do more to convince people of the truth of Evolution than some openly manifested declaration of our acceptance of its principles and of our firm belief in the advantages to be gained by its further study."

Artificial Flowers Have Ready Market

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—United States is one of the world's best markets for artificial flowers, fruits, leaves and other articles of this character.

Department of commerce experts said that although this country supports a sizable domestic industry, the bulk of these commodities sold in America come from Germany, France and Czecho-Slovakia.

Artificial flowers and fruits are largely used in women's millinery and other decorative purposes.

Imports into United States for the first six months of 1926 were valued at $1,457,000, as compared to exports of $267,000. In 1925 the imports were $3,142,000 and exports $533,000 and in 1924, imports $2,899,000 and exports $606,000.

New World Parrots Apartment Dwellers

Monk Parrakeet Joins His Neighbors In Erecting Community Nest

It is a widespread superstition that to enable a parrot to talk (in imitation to human speech) it is necessary to split the tongue. This, however, has no foundation in fact and when practiced only inflicts an unnecessary cruelty, says Alexander Wetmore in Scientific Monthly.

Birds make sounds in a little organ known as the syrinx at the lower end of the trachea or windpipe, and as the tongue has little to do with the process, splitting it has no connection whatever with the ability to imitate sounds.

Most parrots lay their white eggs in cavities in trees, where their young are free from dangers, but a few vary from this habit. In southern South America the monk parrakeet joins in bands that build in company a structure of sticks that forms a veritable apartment house in which each pair of birds lives in a separate cavity.

These communal nests are used year after year and often grow steadily in bulk. I have seen several that were six or eight feet in diameter and contained enough sticks and twigs to fill a wagon. In early days in the Pampas these birds nested in the low trees that formed occasional groves on the plains.

Man introduced eucalptus trees which grow to a great height, and now the monk parrakeet build nests in the branches of these trees often sixty or eighty feet from the ground. A species of duck known as the tree teal, somewhat similar to our green-winged teal, pre-empts a chamber in this same communal structure, lines it with soft down and hatches its own young amid the noisy chatter of its companions.

Offer Of Prize Shows Hosts In New England Are Anxious To Fly

(International News Service)

SALEM, Mass., Sept. 24. — All New England wants to fly. At least Miss Lydia P. Grove of this city, the first woman to cross the continent as a passenger in a commercial plane thinks so.

Miss Gove has offered a free plane trip to Los Angeles to the two students who write the best letter on air travel and its future, and she has received thousands of letters from all parts of New England.

Miss Gove believes her offer will tend to increase passenger traffic in the air. If all who take part in the contest were to fly, the sky would be black with airplanes.

Grove City Returning To Normal Conditions

Real Estate Business Looking Better—Industrial Conditions Good

Twelve Ladies In Golf Match For President's Cup—Other News Notes

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 24.—Real estate in Grove City after a summer of the most sluggish business since the war, is looking up, it is stated. Not that there is any increase in number of properties sold or that there will be but conditions are coming back to normal, is the prediction. Available homes for rent are becoming scarce. This in the opinion of real estaters means but one thing, that when no more can be rented that are right the buying will start again for homes must be had. It is said it was this urgent need that brought about the buying boom here following the war. Home building in Grove City this summer has been nil. This is the first summer since the war time period close that a summer building program from 50 to 100 houses has not been under way here.

Business at the Lawrence Foundry the best of any time since the war period boom times, is the announcement of that busy plant's manager, W. H. Christy. Mr. Christy says that not only are present indications good but the future as well. Orders for heavy tonnage stuff are keeping the Lawrence men busy. If any prophecy is embodied in industrial conditions in the town, Grove City is set ready for the best winter since the war, for every shop is working full time with demands for their product booked far into the future.

The Bessemer Gas Engine company reports employment of 1,330 men and women. this number being 100 more than were enrolled during the war time period. They report a summer of rushed business conditions which shows no abatement as yet. Such business prospects sweeten the remembrance of several winters when things were not so good.

Cashier F. W. Daugherty of the First National bank is a member of the panel of the petit jury at the federal court session held at Erie this week.

J. P. Henry, superintendent of the Bessemer Gas Engine company, is in New York.

There are 12 ladies in the golf match at the Grove City Country clug for the Presidents cup. They are divided into two flights of eight and four. The match will be completed this week, is the promise of the members of the committee in charge of the play. On the committee are Mrs. H. M. Carruthers, Mrs. D. R. Morris and Mrs. H. O. White. This is the fifth annual match of the ladies for this city which along with one for the male golf championship was presented by D. F. Black when president and called the presidents cup as a result. Three wins takes the cup home. Mrs. A. J. Calderwood, three-time champion of the women's matches and H. M. Carruthers, who this year annexed his third win, may alone claim this distinction. Neither Mrs. Calderwood nor Mrs. Carruthers, who won the women's championship one year, are in the matches of this season.

The osteopathic physicians of Mercer county, 11 in number, with their families and nurses located in hospitals operated by them held a picnic last evening at Memorial park. Rain caused an adjournment to the residence of Dr. O. O. Bachline, who with Dr. W. F. Rossman were hosts. The party numbered 60. The picnic brought together osteopaths from all over Mercer county.

The many local friends of Prof. Harry S. Manson will be glad to learn of his election to the head of the science department of Clarion State Normal schools and his acceptance of the position. Prof. Manson of the faculty here for a number of years following his graduation from Grove City college was elected to a Pittsburgh high school last year as an instructor. Prof. Manson recently completed his post-graduate work here for a Masters degree.

A baptismal fount is being given as a memorial to the First Presbyterian church as well as a new Bible for the pulpit, it is announced today by the church officials. These memorials along with windows will constitute one evening of the program of dedication of the week of October 17.

Hands were blistered, raw, inflamed

Acute form of eczema yields at last to soothing treatment

Chicago, Illinois, April 14:—"A few months ago I had what I presume was an acute form of eczema. Red blotches and cracks, which refused to heal, appeared on the fingers of my left hand, then spread to my right hand. Both became raw, inflamed and blistery. I began to apply Resinol Ointment and after using three jars my hands are again in perfect shape. Your ointment is wonderful not only for its soothing effect to burning, itching skin, but for its quick healing qualities. From today on I am a volunteer booster of Resinol." (Signed) F. R. Now Comes The Idea That Boys Should Wear Engagement Ring Too

It does seem sometimes as though the women would never let up on thinking up new tricks for the boy friends. The last word at the time of going to press is that the lads who are engaged are to be decorated with an engagement ring, purchased by the sweet young thing.

It may be intended as a little present, but it has all the earmarks of a ball and chain. The custom is an old Roman one, and following out the admonition of "when in Rome, burn Roman candles," the ladies are beginning to pass out engagement rings to the man.

What a life!

If a fellow gets all enthused over a member of the fair sex, mortgages his wages for the next six months to get her a ring topped off with a diamond, she retaliates with a ring which he is to wear, "till death do us part" and all that sort of thing.

Fraternal emblems are worked into the men's engagement rings. For instance, if a chap belonged to the Yellow Dogs, the idea would be to have a yellow dog rampant on a field of hot dogs. Signifying that he was about to lead a dog's life.

Other orders will be worked out in similar style no doubt. The question will be what to do with an Odd Fellow. If he's engaged he won't be an odd fellow long.

The women claim that now they have reached financial and economic independence that a man should be forced to wear the badge of his troth. And furthermore he's not to take it off. All of which marks an out for a little party now and then with a couple of blondes.

Back in the old days the young lady asked the boy friend over to the house for a meal and demonstrated how well she could cook. These days she usually knows little about cooking so she hands him an engagement ring.

It might be all right, this thing of engagement rings for men, but certainly is going to crimp the style of some of the local lads.

To date the jewelers are bearing up well under the impending blow.

Aged Auto Driver Has Narrow Escape

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—E. W. Brinton, 80, said to be one of the oldest automobile drivers ever granted a learner's permit in Pennsylvania, escaped injury on Thursday when he was unable to swing the car he was driving around a sharp curve here.

Brinton clung to the steering wheel and successfully guided his machine down a 50-foot embankment, witnesses said.

C. L. Brinton, the aged man's son, a passenger in the car, was slightly bruised.

New York's Marrying Rabbi Gives Couples Guarantee Against Divorce

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 24.—And so they lived happily ever after. That is, they lived happily if they were married by Rev. Dr. Jerome Lawn, "the marrying Rabbi of Washington Heights."

"The marrying Rabbi," as Rabbi Lawn is called in his own neighborhood, boasts that marriages performed by him do not end in the divorce court. He gives a personal guarantee with every marriage vow, and every wedding ring that is placed on a fair maiden's finger during one of the Rabbi's ceremonies is on to stay "till death do us part."

Rabbi Lawn boasts that during all the years he has been "marrying" in his ministry at Beth Israel Temple, never have one of his couples ever been seperated by the axe of divorce.

"How do you do it?" the Rabbi was asked.

"Before I perform a ceremony, I take the pair into my study and I talk to them. Often, during the course of these little interviews, we discover that the marriage would have been a mistake. I say we, because it is not only myself that comes to this conclusion. If a mistake is discovered, it's too bad, but by finding the mistake before the marriage, we save making a greater mistake by uniting unsuitable couples.

The Proper Mood

"If after my talk, we still feel that marriage is to be desired, we are in the proper mood and fully cognizant of the responsibilities it will entail," answered Rabbi Lawn.

Rabbi Lawn often discovers during these talks that no one has ever discussed with young people about to get married, the solemn truths in a human way.

"Naturally we become fast friends before the discussion is over," he said, "and that perhaps, is the secret of my successful marriages, for long after the wedding, these young folks come back to me and patch up their little differences."

Like a country doctor, the rabbi has a calling list, and he looks in on the homes threatened with martial discord and "repairs the damages."

"I have my reconciliation cases and my 'too many in-laws' operations. You know, removing an in-law is a serious and major operation, but often absolutely necessary before a cure can be brought about," advised Rabbi Lawn.

Living with the in-laws, is, in the mind of this marriage specialist, absolutely fatal to successful married life. In fact, it heads his lists for causes for divorce.

"Young people must live alone if they are ever going to establish real understanding. Nothing immaginable is more deadly to their happiness than the interference of a third party who is prejudiced one way or the other when a quarrel commences. No one is quite capable or clever enought to remain netural when one of the combatants is of their own flesh and blood. A slight quarrel that might have been blown over, becomes hopelessly involved as soon as it becomes a two against one affair, and that is the beginning of the end. This can only be cured by the removal of the in-law," advises this expert.

Among his other causes for divorce, Rabbi Lawn lists extravagance, morgantic marriages and December and June marriages "All of these," he says, "must be treated with the utmost tact."

The Rabbi, happily married himself, will never admit a failure, and as though to uphold his faith, his couples have made up their minds to be nice and live happily ever afterwards.

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 24.—William (Ababe) Dowden, 63, a recluse, whose charred body was found in the ruins of his cabin on the outskirts of town Wednesday, was murdered, Coroner J. B. Walkinshaw said following a preliminary investigation today.

First reports were that the man had been trapped in his cabin and burned to death.

District Attorney James Wilkin and two state police went to the scene of the murder this afternoon, shortly after Walkinshaw made the result of his investigation known.

College Y. M. Starts Season

First Meeting Of Fall Is Held At Westminster College Wednesday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The first regular meetings of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. of Westminster College were held Wednesday evening. The men's organization met in the "Y" rooms while the women met in the college chapel.

Joe Dickson of Pittsburgh, president of the "Y", presided at the men's meeting. The address of the evening was given by Prof. R. X. Graham of the English department.

Miss Helen Davidson of Crafton, led the Y. W. C. A. meeting. A musical program was rendered. Among those on the program was Miss Ruth Lewis of New Castle.

Plans are now being made for the annual campaign of the two Christian Associations to raise funds for their budgets. It is probable that the opening gun will be fired the second week of October.

Find City Built After Abraham-Lot Parting

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Ruins of the first Hebrew settlement in Palestine after the parting of Abraham and Lot have been discovered near Nablus—the Shechem of the Old Testament—by the international archaeological expedition headed by Prof. Ernest Sellin of Berlin University, says a despatch to the Daily Express from Jerusalem.

The excavations revealed, among other things, the walls, gates and towers of the city where Abraham built the altar to sacrifice Isaac, and where Jacob buried his idols, and where, according to tradition, Joseph was buried. There also were found the remains of a Canaanitish temple and Baal images.

HAD PIMPLES FOR TWO YEARS

Face Disfigured and Itchy. Cuticura Heals.

"My face was affected with pimples for two years. They were very large and red and disfigured my face. My face was itchy all over, especially around my nose and chin, and if I scratched it would cause sore eruptions. Many nights I did not sleep on account of the irritation.

"I tried all kinds of treatments without any success. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I could see an improvement so purchased more which healed me." (Signed) Leo Gutowski, 3354 Ridgeway St., Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 29, 1926.

Georgia Judge Would Give Auto Thieves Chain Gang Term

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Sept. 24. — Longer terms on Georgia chain gangs were urged by Superior Judge John T. Humphries in denouncing the practice of giving suspended sentences to youths convicted of stealing automobiles. Judge Humphries made the recommendation in charging the county grand jury.

Pointing out that 1,308 cars were stolen in Atlanta in the space of one year, Judge Humphries declared automobile thievery will never be curbed unless stiffer sentences are imposed.

Judge Humphries also hit the practice of discriminating in favor of youths who came from good families.

"Before I would discriminate in favor of boys with good families, against the boys who have never had the chances of life they enjoyed, I would rather resign my judgeship," he declared.

Mules, Birds, Teapots, In Foreign Demands

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON Sept. 24.—Mules, birds of the air, fishes of the sea, teapots and corncob pipes—these varied commodities are listed by the department of commerce in its summary of foreign demands upon American production.

Every week the department as a result of information obtained from its foreign representatives, furnishes to American producers a comprehensive list of sales opportunities.

This service is said to stimulate vastly the foreign trade of this country. More and more is American foreign business widening its scope both as to markets and as to the goods shipped abroad.

Nearly one thousand different commodities are listed weekly as wanted in foreign countries. Most of these American produced articles dominate the markets where they are in demand.

DORCAS CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

Class Members Guests At Gardner —Other News Notes Of Gardner

(Special To The News)

GARDNER, Sept. 24.—The ladies of the Dorcas class of the Epworth church in New Castle were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. E. O. Alexander at her home in Gardner. The rooms were tastefully decorated in tones of white and yellow. Mrs. Dickson furnished a lovely centerpiece of a great variety of flowers, while the splendid blooms of the dahlias were admired by all. One very amusing feature of the evening was a playlet called "An Old-Fashioned School". Mrs. Harry Hinger was the teacher and "Tubby" was a prize pupil. Some of the pupils were dressed as boys and their outfits were laughable in the extreme. Forty members of the class were present and fun and merriment were there also. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Alexander and the following ladies, who were joint hostesses with her in entertaining the class: Mrs. Laura Sankey, Mrs. Harry McCurdy and Mrs. Albert Brooks.

GARDNER NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson of Gardner entertained their children at a family dinner last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fenton of Wilkinson Stop spent last Sunday with Mrs. Fenton's father, John P. Fife, of Bridgeville, Pa.

Richard, eight-year-old son of William Stephanov of Gardner, was trying to do some work with a corn sheller when the little finger on his right hand was caught and injured so that it had to be amputated at the second joint. The finger seems to be healing nicely and the little boy was a brave patient at the New Castle hospital, where he was taken last Saturday, and was able to go home on Sunday.

The following were recent guests at the Comstock home: Mr. and Mrs. James Cowan, John Dock and Mrs. Margaret Parker and daughter, Olive.

Miss Mary Sherger drove her automobile on Wednesday for the first time since the accident to her foot which occurred on July 3 when she was a student at Madison University in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Richard Williams and children, Maxine and Dorothy, spent several days with their relatives, the Dunlap family, at East Palestine, O.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robb and children motored to Butler last Sunday to see Master Kenneth, who is going to school there.

Miss Florence Zehner is teaching in the Ellwood City High school.

Henry Robison is suffering from an attack of grippe and being unable to work, has gone out to his parents' home near Portersville.

Misses Selma Benson and Margaret Colquhoun of Gardner spent last Sunday with Miss Victoria May of New Wilmington.

Rev. Albert J. R. Schumaker of Pittsburgh spent a day recently with his mother and sister at Gardner.

Robert Groetsinger of Leetsdale, Pa., is spending a few days of vacation at the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. John J. King, of Shenango Stop.

Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Stamm of Shenango report something very unusual, a second crop of red raspberries. The berries are larger and finer than the spring crop; also they have two turnips which weigh three and one-half pounds, and a 10-pound squash.

On Wednesday night Ted Costello of New Castle gave a weiner and marshmallow roast for the football players of the New Castle Senior High school. The party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beson of Gardner. About 30 students from the high school were present and the boys and girls enjoyed music and games until a late hour.

Mrs. Dietrich, a sister of H. W. Alborn, and her two daughters, Mrs. Strinert and Miss Marie, and Mr. Snyder, all of Pittsburgh, were guests at the Alborn home at Gardner on Wednesday.

Mrs. E. L. English of Ray street and daughter, Miss Eva, a teacher in Ben Franklin Junior High school, were recent callers at the Schumaker home in Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walker are now living in their new home which they built on the lot next to his father's property.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Hasen and daughter, Mrs. Jones, of Frisco, and Mrs. Hasen's mother, Mrs. John Marshall, of Wampum, and Mrs. Jessie Wilcox of New Brighton, called on friends in Gardner on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Albert Ellis of Gardner won two first prizes at the flower show last week, one for a basket of straw flowers and one for the best display of calendulas.

The Cudahy Packing Co. U.S.A.

The Perfect Shortening

Makes Perfect Baking and Cooking

Cudahy's Puritan Lard is 100% pure leaf, rendered in open kettles and slowly chilled in the package.

This gives Puritan its superior quality and that necessary grainy texture which insures perfect mixing with all baking ingredients. As it contains no moisture less is required.

Puritan makes light, fluffy fine grained cakes and pies with rich, tender, flaky crust that melts in the mouth.

For deep frying Puritan again excels. The golden brown seal which it quickly forms around the food keeps in the natural flavor. Greasy foods are unknown to the users of Puritan.

Puritan Lard does not smoke at cooking temperature. It does not absorb food flavors and may therefore be used again and again.

Use Puritan for best results. "The Test Tells."

SOPHOMORES DEFEND FLAG IN ANNUAL RUSH

Class Teams Battle Desperately For Honors At Westminster College Today

Five Boys Overcome With Heat—One Wrenched Elbow—New Castle People See Event

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—Game to the core, but unable to show any superiority over their rivals, the freshmen of Westminster College were humbled again today by the sophomores when the upper classmen successfully defended their flag in the annual flag rush, which was held this morning at the college athletic field.

The freshmen put up a stubborn fight, but the "sophs" held their own, and after battling desperately for two lengthy periods, the older students of the United Presbyterian school were adjudged the winners.

Big Crowd There

An unusually large number of people were present to see the annual event, including many interested folks from New Castle and vicinity who motored here early this morning to see the flag rush. Students and townspeople were lined all around the college field to witness the heroic battle.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the two representative teams, numbering 50 boys apiece, assumed their positions on the field to uphold their class.

The freshmen took their positions 100 yards distant from the sophomores and at the sound of the gun they swooped down upon their rival classmates. The "sophs", with their hole already dug in the ground, hurriedly placed the 25-foot pole in place and made it firm. The freshmen tried to overpower the "sophs", but all efforts proved futile. The first period lasted 10 minutes and the second eight minutes.

Pole Is Greased

The sophomores had the pole greased ten feet up from the bottom and the bark skinned from the pole, making it almost impossible to climb, in the event that the freshmen would reach the pole. The "sophs" made their trip into the woods last night after dark and after securing their pole hid it at the college field until this morning, when it was placed in use.

The flag rush this year was the best held in some time. The close air and weather conditions prevailing this morning played havoc with five boys, who were overcome with heat. One lad has his elbow wrenched, but no other injuries of any nature were reported. The freshman class was better organized this year than ever before, but in spite of the fact were unable to score a much desired win over the sophomores.

Agitation over the annual flag rush has broken forth again and possibilities are that the yearly event will be done away with in the future.

Receive Donation At Almira Home

The members of the Board of the Almira Home are very grateful for a gift of two bushels of peaches which were donated to the Home a few days ago.

Other contributions of fruit and vegetables will be gladly received. Fruit jars will be furnished at the Home for any one wishing to fill them.

The annual donation day will take place in October.

ACTIONS BASED ON MECHANIC'S LIENS

The Circle Lumber Company of Ellwood City, has filed an action based on a mechanic's lien against Michael O'Tousa, owner or reputed owner, and C. B. McBride, contractor; also a similar action against Mrs. Hilda Lundgren, owner or reputed owner, and J. D. Jones, contractor.

J. A. McCandless has also filed a similar action against Mrs. Hilda Lundgren, owner or reputed owner, and J. D. Jones, contractor.

School has started, but it will be a few weeks before some necks are good and clean.

There are those folish enough to think you are foolish.

Sues For $30,000 For Injuries In Fall At Junction

Andy Paglia has filed a suit against the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Company in which he claims $30,000 damages for injuries sustained on a coal tipple, operated by the defendant company at New Castle Junction. Paglia, who was employed as a laborer by the company claims that he had gone up on the tipple to see why it was not operating properly. In going up he was compelled to walk across some boards, forming a sidewalk, with no railing. He claims that one of the boards, being insecurely fastened turned with him, causing him to fall. He was badly injured, and claims that his injuries are of such a permanent character, that his earning power has been greatly diminished.

Commissioners Go To State Meeting At Philadelphia

County Commissioners Davis, Matthews and McCullough, with their attorney, John P. Lockart, and clerk, James Lamoree, will leave Sunday morning for Philadelphia, where they will attend the fortieth annual convention of the state association of county commissioners, which convenes on next Tuesday. They are starting early in order to make a trip to Atlantic City on Monday. After the convention they will visit the Sesqui-Centennial.

Last Registration Day On October 2

In answer to many inquiries as to the next registration day for voters, it may be stated that it will be held on Saturday, October 2. This will be the last registration day on which voters who desire to vote at the November election, can enroll. Registration on the two former days was very light. Unless it is greater on the next day, indications are that a very light vote will be cast.

To Immunize School Children At Mercer

Will Be Treated For Diphtheria Prevention—Treat 10,000 in County

Local Man Asks $20,000 Of Pennsylvania Railroad Company In Damage Suit

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 24.—Applications from the 12 school districts in Mercer county for diphtheria immunization treatment of the children in their public schools by the state medical workers are now on file here at the office of Dr. S. J. Dickey, county medical director who states that his plan of operation this fall and winter will be to work in the country districts as long as the weather will permit, then come into the towns.

This immunization treatment started in January of this year and worked through the schools of Sharon, Sharpsville and Farrell is the treatment recommended by the state who furnish the virus free of charge.

The doctors and nurses in the communities where the treatment is given assist Dr. Dickey, giving their services gratus. Of the 30,000 school children in this county about 10,000 have already been treated. Applications are in for Mercer and Jamestown, Sandy Lake, Stoneboro of the town schools.

Only a limited number can be completed for the treatment calls for three injections a week apart.

Among the important damage suits listed for the November common pleas court of Mercer county that opens its trial sessions on November 15 is the action in which Joseph Buntman of Mercer, is suing the Pennsylvania railroad for property and personal damages sustained in July of 1925 when Buntman had his truck demolished and was injured at the Turner grade crossing. Buntman brings suit for $20,000 for his combined damage.

He was in the Mercer hospital for a long period of time recovering from his injuries. His case is one of a number of damage suits at this term that will be of interest.

The Reznor Manufacturing company officials announce shipments already of 60,000 of their gas heaters with their shops busy on unfilled orders.

One more week of summer weather and the corn crop of Mercer county will be out of the danger zone of premature cold weather preventing its ripening. Silo corn is being cut at the present time and stored.

In a county where dairying is such a county prevading industry, cutting of this crop of silo corn is no small undertaking. The corn reached 7 and 8 feet in height in some places where the soil was especially fertile. The field corn is hardening fast.

At the county home Superintendent T. C. White reports the corn crop ready for harvest within a week. He will harvest 85 per cent of the 1925 chop which at the home went over 100 bushels to the acre.

The late potato crop is the most serious damaged of any county crop this due to the heavy rains of the past two weeks which in the low lands has resulted in rot.

A county health association was organized last evening at the Penn Grove hotel, Grove City, by the election of Guy Thorne of Greenville, as president; George Mahoney of Sharpsville, first vice president; Mrs. B. A. Rhodes of Sandy Lake, second vice president; Dr. S. J. Dickey of Mercer, county medical director secretary, and County Treasurer M. M. Simons, treasurer.

The executive committee named were Mrs. W. C. Pettit of Greenville Dr. J. E. Ferringer of Stoneboro, and Smith Sharp of Sharon.

The nominating committee, Mrs. Hazel Smith of Grove City, Miss Anna Wiant of Greenville, M. M. Simons of Mercer. The next meeting will be the first of the year. A membership committee will be named at once by the president to solicit members. Out of 73 present last evening 36 joined.

Mrs. T. C. White is reported recovering. She is now able to be about her home.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN FROM MERCER STREET

The Chevrolet touring car of Robert Pascariello, 422 Uber street was stolen last night from South Mercer street near the Hupmobile garage where it had been parked by the owner. It is a 1925 model and bears Pennsylvania license 934-382. The police hope to be able to locate it today.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW OF WEEK

Iron Trade Review Sees Optomistic Condition Continuing In Steel Trade

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—The Iron Tade Review says:

Major developments in iron and steel the past week have been on the side of continued confidence. Railroad inquiry for cars and truck material has broadened. Fourth quarter pig iron purchases have topped 100,000 tons and prices are stronger. Automobile production is bowling along at a rate which, if maintained proportionately in later months, should surpass the 1925 total. Mahoning Valley sheetmakers have put up their prices $2 and are lengthening their backlogs.

Demand for semifinished material is improved. Orders for finished steel in the first 20 days of September have exceeded those for the corresponding period of August despite the Labor Day handicap.

Opposed to these favorable factors are a decline of several points in the steel ingot rate at Pittsburgh, although Youngstown and Chicago operations are being maintained, and a disposition on the part of western implement manufacturers to specify more moderately pending determination of the extent to which adverse weather in the Central West will check fall implement purchasing.

In steel the heavy lines such as plates, shapes and bars have surrendered the leadership for the time being to the lighter lines particularly sheets, notwithstanding the heavy ordering this month.

Pig iron requirements for the fourth quarter and for the first quarter as well at Buffalo, are receiving more attention. Sales at Cleveland the past week have totaled 65,000 tons, or more than four times the recent weekly average. Higher quotations on coke, some loss in merchant iron production and increased melt in some directions have contributed to a generally stronger iron market.

Cleveland Has Subway Plan To Cost 40 Millions

One Penny From Every Fare To Pay Loans City Needs For Work

Twelve-Mile Tunnel To Average About $4,000,000 Per Mile

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—A $40,000,000 subway system for a penny from every man, woman and child who rides a street car.

That is the plan of Raymond T. Cragin, organizer of the Cleveland Subway company, and formerly representative in Cleveland of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Figures prominent in the nations' financial affairs are behind the "Penny Subway Line," it was learned. Through the backing of the Rockefellers, Sr., and Jr., who have extensive holdings in Cleveland, a New York bank has agreed to lend the necessary money, estimated at $40,000,000 to Cragin and his associates with which to build the subway. The Van Sweringen's Cleveland's prominent railroad promoters have also signified their intention of backing the project.

Plans Soon Ready

Cragin's plans, which he will present to the Cleveland City Council when the necessary papers for a franchise are prepared call for the construction of a 12 mile subway at somewhat less than $4,000,000 a mile.

The subway is to be built with money borrowed from the New York bank and in order to pay off the debt street car and bus fares are to be increased one cent per ride, the increase to be turned into the city coffers, under Cragin's proposal.

Estimates reveal that one and one-fourth of the population of a city is moved via street cars each day, Cragin said.

Cleveland's population is hovering about the 1,000,000 mark and at that average the penny a ride for each person would add $12,500 a day to the city's treasury; or $4,562,000 a year. In twelve years the city would be able to take over the system at the cost of construction plus accrued interest, according to Cragin.

City officials can then lease the subway system to any railway company desirable and the city treasury will be the recipient of a large yearly rental, the promoter declares.

This will be the first time that a subway project to be paid by the people's pennies will be tried in any city the promoter said. The present carfare in Cleveland is 6 cents, with a penny extra for transfers.

Kansas University Bans Kampus Kar

Students Must Leave Their Automobiles At Home While At School

(International News Service)

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 24.—Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas is receiving many letters of commendation on his request to parents and prospective students to leave their automobiles at home.

The chancellor set out that a motor car is no part of an education. In this action Chancellor Lindley says he is following in the footsteps of the heads of the great universities in America.

The press of Kansas is practically unanimous in the opinion that better results along educational lines can be attained if young men and women who contemplate attending the university leave their automobiles at home. Probably William Allen White stressed the matter in the strongest language.

"Too many people go to college chiefly because it is socially a good place to go" Mr. White says. "Too many university students in America are from homes without books or the intellectual background; rich homes of course but none the less homes of the intellectually poverty stricken.

"The youngsters from these homes come pretty nearly seting the social pace for our great universities. In Kansas they crowd into the fraternities; they are the rooters of the athletic sports but they have a mighty poor standing in the registrar's office. The head of every university of any importance in the United States has to struggle with this outfit a cheap vulgar, noisy arrogant snobbish crowd."

Two Steubenville Prisoners Saw Way Out; Woman Helps

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 24.—Two prisoners sawed their way to freedom from the Jefferson county jail yesterday. William G. Neal, 46 years old said to be an ex-convict from Pittsburgh who was jailed here for automobile theft and Jas. Guido, 23, Bellaire, held for highway robbery sawed through cell doors, then through heavy tier bars and climbed 40 feet to the ground floor where they cut the bars on the outside windows.

Jail officials say a woman carried the saws into the prison.

Says Canal To Lake Great Need

International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—If Pittsburgh wishes to remain the greatest steel production district in the United States a canal from the Ohio river here to Lake Erie is necessary.

This is what W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the Lake Erie canal board, told members of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, at their monthly meetinf last night.

The canal must be built for the growth and prosperity of the community, Stevenson added.

C. O. Haines secretary of the Steubenville, O., Chamber of Commerce; William S. Cook of Beaver Falls, Pa.; H. A. Corcoran of Wheeling, W. Va., and W. J. Williams of Youngstown, O., who also addressed the Chamber of Commerce favored the canal.

They seem to average about 20 miles to the gallon or 60 miles an hour to the pint.

Local Fat People Get Thin N. Y. Way

Influenced by reports that many New York society women have adopted a new method to aid in reducing fat, local stout persons are using the same plan. This new method consists of establishing proper eliminative regularity through the use of a harmless, tasteless ingredient originally discovered in Vienna. Reductions of several pounds a week are reported in many cases. It acts quickest when well chewed—hence it is embodied in a deliciously flavored chewing gum called "Slends". Local druggists have already arranged to supply this new medicated gum. Start to chew Slends today—you will note effects tomorrow.

Sees Overthrow Of Bolsheviks By Russian Peasants

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—The Russian peasant will rise and overthrow Bolshevik rule in Russia, Count Ilya Tolstoi, son of the late Leo Tolstoi, noted Russian author, declared today. Count Tolstoi and his wife are now in Southern California to supervise the "movie" production of "Resurrection" his father's famous novel.

"Bolshevik rule today is minority rule" Count Tolstoi said. "As a natural sequence in the development of Russia the peasants will overthrow the soviet."

The peasants today according to Tolstoi are not fully conscious of their own strength. When they do realize their power they will revolt and a real Russian republic will result.

The count said that agitators in the United States for the recognition of the Bolshevik government by Washington were actuated by greed.

"They hope to secure trade concessions. If the United States recognizes the present regime it would put the stamp of approval upon the communism and delay the day when Russia will become a republic."

Deceased Judge Lover Of Trees

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—Judge George B. Orlady, 76, who recently died at his home in Huntingdon, Pa., was a great lover of trees according to this week's bulletin of the State Department of Forest and Waters. Judge Orlady for thirty years was a member of State Superior Court, having retired that position last January. He was an active Mason.

In a letter to Joseph S. Illick, of the forest and waters department about a year ago the prominent jurist made the following statement concerning trees:

"The boys and girls of Pennsylvania are interested in the coming trees of our state—the study of trees should be compulsory in our common schools. Of course I am interested in Pennsylvania trees from the monarch of the forest down to the vagrant shrub of the wayside.

"At the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown I think we have a specimen of every tree, shrub and vine native to Pennsylvania and a whole lot more in groups, clumps and avenue linings. Our special exhibit is our memorial grove of five acres on which we have planted 264 of our splendid native oak trees in fraternal recognition of our hero dead, who were killed in battle, died of wounds or resultant illness in the World War.

"We contributed 11,323 service men in that world horror—1914-18—and our purpose is, at the proper time, to have a tablet placed on each tree with the name, military and lodge relation of each brother. The whole surface of this grove is profusely planted in oriental poppies as a tender suggestion of Flanders Fields.

"I think with Kilmer, 'I shall never see a poem lovely as a tree. A tree that looks at God all day and lifts her leafy arms to pray.' The only way to know of it is to go to it and see the present conditions as healthy foundations of the hopes of the next 100 years, and where old age is confronted and youth is developed for the future controversies of all America."

Boston To Fight Telephone Rates

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Sept. 24. — This city flung down its gauntlet on behalf of American telephone users and will lead the fight against the American Telephone and Telegraph company to compel lower rates.

Following the suggestion of the city solicitor of Grand Rapids, Mich. a general conference of attorneys representing cities throughout the United States will be called to discuss opposition to existing telephone rates.

New York has lined up with Boston. It is understood that the conference will devote its battle to local rates rather than long distance costs, the later being generally conceded fair enough in most districts. according to E. Mark Sullivan, Boston attorney and one of the prime movers in the fight.

The W. S. Rice Corrective Supporter and Brassier

The front and back are so designed that those great layers of fat that bulge over the abdomen and roll in waves down the back to the waist, are all smoothed out and gently but firmly kept in place to show 50 to 75 pounds reduction.

It lifts up and supports the bust, snugly rounds over the hips, curves the waist line to symmetrical appearance and brings the entire figure into slenderizing proportion.

On Free Trial

Made in the famous W. S. Rice factory at Adams, N. Y., and designed by a noted corsetiere, it needs but a try-on to prove it the first and only perfect Reducing Corset ever made for stout women.

In every neighborhood and community are women who have undergone surgical operations leaving weak places that sometimes break apart with most unfortunate results. A simple attachment of air cushions to the conformer gives perfect support and protection.

The personal representative of W. S. Rice is now here to give the ladies of New Castle every opportunity to fully test this wonderful Reducing Corset.

Put it on and see how charmingly it feels, how perfectly it brings you into shape, how nice and comfortable you feel, how easily you breathe, how actively you become, how you can bend over without strain, walk upstairs like a girl, and wear modern gowns with all the appearance and freedom of a perfect figure.

It is made by W. S. Rice, Inc., in the largest and most complete factory of its kind in the world. And if you have been so unfortunate as to have undergone a surgical operation that has left the abdomen weak, a simple attachment of air cushions gives perfect protection.

Imports New Insect To Local District

H. F. Bott Brings New Insect Here From Jersey Section

Tells Of Interesting Sights In Visit To Eastern United States

Insects of a destructive tendency in the North Hill district must now fight for their lives as a result of the local importation of an insect that preys on other insects but does not destroy foliage or crops.

This new insect is a native of Japan and was brought back here by Howard F. Bott of 225 Meyer avenue, who has just returned with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Bott, from a visit with relatives in Trenton, N. J., and in Philadelphia, Lakehurst and other eastern points.

It is known as the "praying mantis" and is the largest type of an insect ever seen in these parts. Green in color, with brown or reddish colorings on the wings, for it flies as well as hops like the grasshoppers. It is at least four inches in length. Its body is probably three inches in length. It has a long neck with a snake-like shaped head and great eyes and large jaws for an insect. It has long legs which fold up and enable it to spring on its natural prey, other insects and bugs.

At the front of its body are two long folded arms with which it reaches out and grasps its victims. Once in these arms or tenacles, the other insect or bug hasn't a chance in the world. The arms or tenacles have short clawlike teeth on them which assist the praying mantis to hold its victims without trouble.

Mr. Bott has two of these insects in captivity, a male and a female, and hopes to propagate them so as to assist in fighting the insect pests of this district. He is feeding them with grasshoppers, which they appear to enjoy immensely.

He plans to place them at liberty in the hedge about the Bott home. He secured them from Philip Billingham, a brother-in-law of B. S. Bott, his father, who two years ago secured two from the state of New Jersey, which imported them to fight the Japanese beetle. There are now at least two score of the praying mantis on the Billingham hedges.

Sees Big Dirigible

One of the most interesting experiences of Mr. Bott was the visit to Lakehurst, N. J., the naval station at which the gigantic dirigible Los Angeles is stationed. While he was there the dirigible made a landing. It made the landing very easily and 350 marines stationed there to take care of it grasped the ropes with which to hold it and guide it into the hangar, but a heavy wind blowing at the time swung it to one side and the spectators, fully 350 in number, were called on to assist. The young Mr. Bott was one of the number. When the ballast of water, which is carried in a very considerable quantity, is released and the big airship settles to the ground, it is attached to a car and drawn into the hangar, which is eight stories high and has great sliding doors which roll away to each side through electric energy. It is then allowed to rise to the top of its hangar. It is made of material three times as light as aluminum, has a large cabin in the front from which the movements are directed, and five smaller cabins in which the machinery which drives it is located. It carries a crew of 60 men. The younger Mr. Bott had every opportunity of getting a close-up on the big airship.

Visits Sesqui

Another interesting feature of the trip was the visit to the Sesqui Centennial at Philadelphia. According to the younger Mr. Bott, it is a wonderful exhibit and one of exceptional educational value to every person having the opportunity of visiting it. While there he had the opportunity of hearing Secretary of State Kellogg make an address.

The Pennsylvania state building is a place to be visited and one of the finest at the exposition. Its outstanding feature is the continuous belt electrically operated and 350 feet in length and on which there are samples of every known natural and manufactured product of the state.

One of the most beautiful sights to be seen, especially at night, is the immense electrically lighted bell at the entrance to the exposition, according to Mr. Bott. There are 25,000 lights in it and they shade from a light yellow to a golden color. They appear as one immense light when all turned on at night. The exposition is something that every person should endeavor to see.

Alleged Chicken Thieves Arrested By State Troopers

Ellwood City Merchant Alleged To Have Bought Chickens From Gang

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 24.—A gang of alleged chicken thieves said to have been operating in Muddy Creek township and vicinity for several months, during which time hundreds of chickens were stolen, were arrested by Troopers Bridge and Henicheck, of Troop D, State Police, Butler barracks at the scene of their alleged operations last night.

Those arrested were: William Kennedy, aged 30; Mrs. William Kennedy, aged 19; Dallas Weimer, aged 21, and Norman Weimer, aged 14, all of Muddy Creek township. Sabeno Sabino, a storekeeper at Ellwood City, was also arrested by the troopers on a charge of buying the chickens from the gang,

According to the police the gang has been operating for several months, using a motor truck to haul their loot to Ellwood City and other points where they are alleged to have disposed of the chickens. The exact number of chickens stolen is not known but large numbers were taken from R. C. Weller of near Portersville, Willis McCartney, near Ellwood City, Roy Cleeland, William Thomas, George McGee and John Brenaman, all of Muddy Creek township.

The local state police have been investigating the chicken stealing for the past four or five weeks but were unable to catch the alleged operators until last night. They are being held at the Butler barracks for additional information.

Chicago Hotels Not To Raise Rates For Big Football Meet

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—There will be no increase of rates for hotel rooms stopping in Chicago for the Army-Navy football game on Soldier Field, November 27, it has been officially announced.

An agreement has been reached by the leading hotels to help support the city's best civic standards by maintaining the old rates, instead of boosting prices for the thousands who will pack the loop hotels and the leading ones in outlying districts.

"Regular room prices will prevail," John Burke, manager of the Congress Hotel, and president of the Hotel Association of Chicago says.

This stand of the hotels followed efforts by Mayor Dever and others, including President William R. Dawes of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Congressman Fred Britten through whose special efforts the game was brought here—to save Chicago from the stigma that fell upon other cities where the national classic has been played.

Complaints of overcharging invariably followed the game in most of the cities where it has been played,

Rooster Is Mothering Brood Of 100 Chicks

Cockerel "Shoos Off" Hens And Takes Full Charge Of His New Family

NORFOLK, Neb. Sept. 24. —A rooster with a keen sense of paternal duties is acting as mother to 100 chicks in the back yard of the G. V. Madsen home on South Ninth street. A few weeks ago he decided to enact a mother's role, and promptly proceeded to entice the major part of several flocks that had been cared for by hens with groups of twelve to fifteen chickens.

He was successful in his allurements, and also in chasing off the indignant hens he had bereft of their progeny. They stood around "jawing" about it for several days, but evidently gave it up as a bad job and paid no further attention to their recreant offspring.

The rooster shirks none of the responsibilities of motherhood. He calls his brood to him as evening approaches, stretches his wings and with no traces of awkwardness enacts the role of a hovering mother.

During the day he scratches furiously for worms and choice vegetation, and calls his scions to the feast when all is ready. He also acts as most efficient protector and gives vigorous chase to any prowling cats or curious, or unwelcome hens. When a rain storm approaches he stands in the door of the coop and sounds a warning to the chicks to come inside, and they obey his every call with promptness and enthusiasm.

And he's a regular "he" rooster. He greets the dawn with the clarion call of his breed and practices it at times during the day.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 24. —Chief of Police Martin L. Cadin has received many unusual requests but none like the one that came from Custer Davis, sheriff of Iola, Kan., who asked his co-operation in a search for a stolen airplane.

COUNTY WILL SEND GROUP

Large Delegation From Lawrence County To Attend State Convention

Sunday School leaders of Lawrence County will be pleased to learn that again the railroads are granting a reduced fare for the round trip to the State Sabbath School Convention at Reading on October 13, 14 and 15, and that credentials entitling delegates to this reduced fare can be secured from the County Secretary Mrs. W. J. Marshall.

In this county there should be quite a number of Sunday School Veterans who would be entitled to the Gold Medal which the State Sunday School Association presents during the convention each year to those who have been either officers or teachers or both continuously for fifty years, and information concerning these can be secured from our County President, Robt M. Strickler, Jr.

In Lawrence County practically one out of every four is enrolled in the Sunday Schools and in Pennsylvania almost two hundred thousand consecrated officers and teachers are engaged Sunday after Sunday in giving instruction in order that conduct and character may be rightly cultivated.

Religious Education can never be effectively accomplished without trained and enlightened leadership, and one of the agencies employed by the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association in the training of leadership is this Annual Convention which will be held at Reading, October 13, 14, 15.

For the coming year a working budget of $74,250.25 will be asked by the State Organization in order to carry on its various departments and maintain its present splendid field staff. Of this amount Lawrence County last year contributed $800.00.

The local committee at Reading have all arrangements completed for entertaining twenty five hundred delegates in homes and hotels. The main sessions will be held in the Rajah Temple, the largest auditorium in the city, while Divisional meetings will be held in five of the nearby churches.

Lawrence County is making preparation to send a fine delegation to this large gathering, and information pertaining to the convention can be had from the county President or Secretary.

In The News Here And There

NO BLAME THERE

NEW YORK—Franklin Chase Hoyt of the New York children's court rises in defense of children in general and youngsters of less than 16 years in particular. While he admits a startling increase in the number of youthfud bandits and a lowering of the average of first-offense criminals, he cites statistics to prove that the moral upset has not taken place among the city's real youngsters. The obvious conclusion to be drawn is that there is a lessening of restraint and a lowering of precept during the high school years. Justice Hoyt urges the same standard of moral guidance for adolescents as for juveniles, as one method of correcting the tendency toward youthful outlawry.

TWO ITEMS

CLEVELAND—Two news stories appear simultaneously, and with a fine ironic gesture—presuming that items can gesture, and why not—ask the world to make the most of a coincidence. The first item concerns a western writer who, with his family and a friend, is sailing in a small boat for Tahiti in search of peace and quiet, away from all modern noise and botheration , , , The second item is hidden away in a commercial report, It states simply that there is an increasing demand for phonographs and powerful radio instruments among the natives and white settlers of south sea islands . . , Go ahead, try to get away from noise!

NO SANTA CLAUS

NEW YORK—There really appears to be a minimum of cosmic justice after all. Sweeping improvements in living conditions in one of this city's former slums has practically removed the immediate need for charitable or "social" workers. The hitherto busy workers find themselves without work. "What'll we ever do to earn our living," one of them was heard to wail, "if things keep getting better?"

Clocks Centuries Old, But Still Keep Time

One In Glastonbury Abbey Ran 500 Years Without Ever Stopping

Glastonbury Abbey clock ran for about 500 years without a stop, whilst the church clock at East Hendren, a Berkshire village, which was stopped recently for repairs, has told the correct time day in and day out for four centuries.

It is claimed, however, that the clock in Rye parish church, which also has just been renovated, is the oldest public clock still in service with its original mechanism. It was built in 1515. Cannon balls were used as weights and the quarters were sounded by two life-size bronze figures of "quarter boys".

Eight-day movements in clocks were introduced about 1690. About that time nearly all clocks were constructed with calendar dials, then considered to be more important than the minute hand .

Freak clocks were greatly favored years ago. Fan-shaped clocks were constructed, also some in the form of a suspended bird cage. There was a sudden fashion for mystery clocks—just two hands on a glass dial. Where were the works? Usually the mechanism was about the size of a penny and concealed in the knobs opposite the pointer ends of the fingers. Moving weights inside the knobs caused the fingers to revolve. In Munich, Germany, there is a clock made entirely of straw, no glue even being used.

Astronomical clocks once enjoyed considerable popularity. A good example is found in an abbey in the New Forest. Another, with its sun, moon and signs of the zodiac, can be seen at Hampton court. It was made about 1540.

Many stories are told of this famous timepiece, which is known as the "clock of death". On the death of Anne of Denmark, wife of James I, it is said that the clock stopped suddenly.

The biggest clock in the British empire, now being built at Clydebank, and which has four dials each 26 feet across, will be controlled electrically from Greenwich.—Tit-Bits.

American Soldiers Get Greatest Pay of Any Fighters In The World; French Get Least

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24. — That the American soldier is the best paid soldier in the world has been known for many years. That at the present time he is getting more than fifty times what the French poiluis paid has not been so weele known. That is so, however, according to figures secured at the San Francisco Presidio.

The American soldier's yearly pay is $252 The French soldier soldier's yearly pay is $4.38. How they do it over there is a mystery to Uncle Sam's boys.

Only Great Britain approaches the United States in the amount of pay allotted to the individual soldier. The British soldier gets $240.90 per year.

Japan pays her troops at the rate of $23 per man per year. At that this figure is better than three times what Mussilini's soldiers are paid. The Italian trooper can save $6.20 a year if he puts his entire yearly salary into the bank.

Soldiers in some of the Central American armies are happy if they get their daily ration of tortillas and beans.

Honolulu Plantation Has Record Crop

(International News Service)

HONOLULU, Sept. 24. — More than 6,000 persons, 2,000 of whom were employes of Ewa plantation, this island, celebrated the end of the successful harvesting of a record crop of 52,841 tons of sugar. This is the second "harvest home" at Ewa plantation and one of the few such celebrations ever held in the islands.

Last year Ewa had a crop of 50,800, which was itself a record. On "harvest home" day, every worker on the plantation is given a holiday and paid a full day's wages besides. Japanese, Filipinos, Chinese, Porto Ricans, Koreans and Portuguese make up the laboring class of the plantation.

POTATO CROP MAY BE SHORT

Federal State Crop Reports Indicate Drop In State Production

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—A decrease of approximately 780,000 bushels in the Pennsylvania potato prospects during the previous month is indicated by the September 1 report of the Federal-State Crop Reporting service. Slight decreases are also reported for the other eastern producing states while crop prospects in the central states show a five per cent increase.

The Pennsylvania crop is estimated to be 23,800,000 bushels as compared with an average of 25,000,000 bushels for the past five years. The condition of the crop is best in the counties north and west of the mountains and lowest in the southeastern quarter of the state, the condition in the commercially important eastern district being 78 per cent, identical with the average for the whole state. Digging has started in the southern counties. No reports of serious frost damage in the northern potato producing counties have been received.

The present forecast for the United States is 352,000,000 bushels which is 11 per cent below the average but 8 per cent above the 1925 crop.

In spite of the decrease in prospects in the east, more potatoes will be available in the eastern states this year than last season because of a 25 per cent increase over the 1925 crop in New York state.

Shipments from the leading eastern and central late potato states up to Septemberf 18 were 10,985 carloads or 7,674 less than those for the same period a year ago. Maine and Long Island are the only eastern areas showing increased shipments so far this season over 1925.

Adopt Report That U. S. Reservations Be Given Acceptance

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—The world court delegate conference Thursday adopted the report of the judicial committee, proposing that all of the United States reservations to the world court be accepted, providing a satisfactory interpretation is given by the United States on the second part of the fifth reservation.

Each member state is expected to send a separate note to the United States announcing its acceptance of the reservations, but delicately suggesting that the acceptance is conditional upon a satisfactory interpretation of the fifth reservation's latter part, which provides that the world court shall take up no cases affecting United States interests without the consent of the United States.

Chicago Gold Coast To Pay High For Army-Navy Football Seats

CHICAGO

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—This city's Armours, Swifts and other rich families of the "Gold Coast" along the castle-studded banks of Lake Michigan will pay from $2,000 to $2,500 to witness the Army-Navy football tilt in Soldier's field here November 27.

The game, played for the first time away from the east, will be the mid-west's outstanding sporting-social event.

Faced by the tremendous cost of bringing the entire membership of the United States military academies at West Point and Annapolis here to witness the game, Chicagoans in charge of arrangements for the gridiron clash have announced that 500 boxes in the stadium will be auctioned off to society leaders.

Each box contains six seats and all are located in desirable sections.

Thirty boxes are to be used for the army and navy and a special box has been reserved for President and Mrs. Coolidge, who may attend.

Prices for regular tickets to the game have not yet been announced, but the choice seats will cost in the neighborhood of $10 each.

If the sale of boxes to Chicago's wealthy brings a large sum, it is possible some seats as low as $5 each will be offered the public.

The agreement under which the historic game will be played in Chicago provides that not only must Chicago transport the two teams and the school's membership here but in addition 40,000 tickets are allotted to each academy. These tickets are to be sold by the academies to their alumni and the proceeds will enrich the schools' athletic funds.

Forty thousand tickets will be offered the public in addition to the select box seats.

It is estimated that more than $300,000 will be needed to entertain the teams and the middies and cadets in Chicago. They will be brought here on special trains and assigned quarters in the city's most luxuriant hotels.

Congressmen, who in past years have received several tickets each for the Army-Navy game, will be disappointed this fall. The committee in charge has announced that congressmen and their friends will not be permitted to buy any large amount of the much-sought pasteboards.

At least ten per cent of the tickets, it is already admitted, will fall into the hands of speculators and it is predicted that ordinary tickets calling for space in the far-flung sections will bring as high as $50 each on the day of the game.

To prevent ticket scalpers from operating to any great extent a careful check is to be made of the names of all individuals making reservations for a large number of seats.

Travelin' Pair Also Listen In On Fight; Heard It All Too

(By KATE MOORHEAD)

Zekiel Brown come up to Hepsibah and me sittin on the bench in the park the other day and sez to us, "what you folks goin to bet on the fight? Whos your man?" Well I had forgot about there bein a championship fight but Hepsy allus reads the sports page and is jest a step ahead of the sport writer when it comes to noshuns.

"Did you say, who wuz goin to win that boxin match? she sed, Well who has been winnin it since Demsey wuz champeen, I wanta know?" Then she and Zeke had a jawin match right then and there, and I hurried that old maid friend of mine away, cause I thought there would be somebody with a black eye there in the park.

Before we left, as Hepsy wuz jest in the act of putton on her white cotton gloves and pickin up her umbrel, Zeke suggested mebby wed like to come over and here his radio brodcastin the fight on Thursday night. Of course Hepsy didn't like to say shed go, but then she did wanta hear who won, so she sed she'd be a good sport even if he wuz awful illbred and she would come and bring her nittin.

Well we arove at Browns house and Mrs. Brown seemed right pleezed to see us, and sed she wuz awful tickled we come cause we could sit in the living room with her and nit, while the men folks lissened to the Dempsey-Tunney fight over the radio in the dinin room. But Hepsy soon informationed that we had come to lissen to the fight.

Well we wuz sitting there talkin about the dreary wether and Hepsy sed "My my, It is so close. I think mebby the closeness is caused by the humility in the air." Zeke sed he hoped it wouldn't humiliate that Static and keep the wires buzzin sos we couldn't here the blows in Philadelphia. "Well," sez I, "Any way the wind blows, I dont wanta here it. I have red so much about that Hurry cane in Floridy and I dont think much of blows." But he explained he ment—blows—punches, uppercuts, knock outs. Of course I pertended I knowed what he wuz talkin about and smiled real sweet like.

Then the pronouncer come and yelled thru his nose that Dempsey wuz enterin the ring. "What ring is that, I wanted to know, but Zeke sed that wuz where they fought. Then the man with the adenoids sed they wuz bandagin the fighters hands. "Bandagin there hands," Hepsy sed "Now I gnowed there wuz bad business goin on, the poor fellahs and they aint even started to fighten yet. I wonder who did it. I spose some smart aleck in the crowd whod bet a lot of money."

Mr. Macafee sed that Dempsey wuz wearin a bathrobe lined with red silk. Now can you imagine that, wearin a bathrobe right out there where everybody's lookin at him. I thought it was scandlous and sed as much, but Zeke sed women folks wuz a blame nuisance when it come to lissen in on a fight.

But jest think, wearin bulky thing like a bathrobe, he mighta knowed he'd trip and that Tunney fellah would punch him good. Now I jest bet Mr. Tunney wuz wearin a swimmin shirt and plus four pants, sos he could get around real quick like the real estate men in Floridy last winter.

Then the bell wuz rung and we dug our nails into our palms for all get out while Dempsey, the whirlwind boyish fighter as described by the pronouncer, wuz given a lotta uppercuts and punches. The man kep tellin the radiant crowd how it wuz drizzlin and how Dempsey wuzn't near as good a fighter as he wuz three years ago until I jest couldn't stand it eny longer and went over to that drum on top of the radio box and yelled, "Sos your old man." But Hepsy sed that didn't do no good and she got to argufying with Hesekiah about Dempsey bein the best even if he was standin up to blows.

Then there wuz another yell. The pronouncer sed a fellah wuz usin his back for a tablet and tryin to write. "Dempsey and Tunney is in the center of the ring, now there sparrin, now there in a clinch, Tunney plants opponent with left hook." "I knowed any person gettin up and bein a champion fighter would be a fish, but what do you know about batin them with hooks" Hepsey sed.

"Gee Whillikens, Dempsey got his nose mashed in and a black eye," Zeke sed, all excited. "Jest think, now he'll have to get it all parafined up again." My, I felt right sorry for his wife, she bein so young and purty like, why they mighta killed him. Then the fellah sed that Tunney give him two black eyes, and even mugged his ear. My he must be a nawful fighter. Hepsy wuzn't paying much attenshin to the fight now, she and Mrs. Brown wuz lookin at the pictures of Mr. Dempsey and Mrs. Tunney in the New Castle News. Mrs. Brown was takin Tunneys part and Hepsy wuz standin up for her favrite of course. Mrs. Brown wuz so mean she picked a flower from an old bokay on the stand and put it on the hed of her favrite. When she wuzn't lookin, Hepsy took the flower and put it on his chest and sed it otta be a lily, or words to that defect.

After that they started to argufyin and Mrs. Brown sed she had planned to make some lemonade cause we wuz her guests but she'd be obliged to give the lemon to Hepsy, and after sayin that, she up and put that citrus frute right on the head of Dempsey. When I looked at Hepsy next, what wuz that old maid doin but jabbin the eyes out of that Mr. Tunney with her nitting needles and jest lookin black as enything.

The fight seemed over, and the fellah speakin in Philadelphia sed that they would be charitable and give Dempsey 2 rounds and enyhows he took his likin like a gentleman and he wuz goin back to his famly and wuzn't goin to fight no more. He shook hands with his frend who wuz the new fightin champeen of the world.

At them words, Mr. and Mrs. Brown danced up and down and simply yelled at Hepsy, "Who did you say wuz the champeen fighter of the world?" She went over and give them both the high fallutin look she gives on occasion, and sed in a high shrill voice, "It ain't Tunney, but it's sum people I know what dont stand very far away." With that thrust she handed them the lemon and flower and we walked out with our heds in the air, right glad Dempsey had wore his bathrobe, cause he wouldn't get a bad cold after stayin out in that drizzle.

Shark Hunting Popular Sport

Dozen Boats Prepare For Shark Hunts Along Pacific Coast Line

FAMOUS JOCKEY ENTERS MOVIES

By THOMAS C. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—A dozen or more boats are fitting out in Los Angeles harbor to hunt sharks this fall down the Lower California coast.

The industry, although new to southern California fishermen, is said to be profitably maintained by Japanese in Baja, Cal. The fins of the predatory fishes are esteemed a delicacy by the Chinese.

As in hunting whales, the fishermen use a harpoon. The fins of the sharks are removed and dried in the sun.

Beautiful girls who come to Hollywood with the hope of breaking into the movies are often handicapped by an imcomplete wardrobe. The Screen Sister's league is an organization now being formed for the purpose of giving film candidates access to modish apparel from evening gown to riding suits.

The league, according to Mrs. Clarence Brown, wife of the well-known director, will rent the garments to the girls for a nominal consideration.

"Clothes mean everything to a girl trying to get into pictures," Mrs. Brown explained. "We will start out supplying clothes to a group of about 20 'extras', and when these girls win better parts, we shall adopt another group."

Women are preparing to usurp another "masculine" occupation. Miss Gertrude Jeffers, 18, a recent high school graduate, applied to a downtown theatre for a position as a stage carpenter.

John Kelly, manager of the theatre, placed her name at the top of his waiting list.

"I am well qualified to become a stage-hand," the slender little applicant declared. "I can shift scenes, place spotlights, paint scenery and do anything a man can do."

The success of the song, "Valencia," and the impending introduction of a dance by the same name, has been reflected in the movies by a tremendous vogue for Spanish stories.

Enthusiastic over the reception given "The Torrent" and "Mare Nostrum," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio is now producing three more stories with a Castilian setting. Greta Garbo, the Cosmopolitan player who made her debut in "The Torrent", has just completed the leading feminine role in another story by Ibanez, "The Temptress".

Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry are now working on "The Great Galeoto," a picture which gives an intimate glance into the life of the Spanish aristocracy.

Uncle Sam's weather department has joined forces with the government and county forestry departments to reduce the menace of forest fires in Los Angeles county, it was learned today. Three observation stations of the new "fire-weather service" will be established.

The stations will collect data on the velocity and direction of winds in the timbered regions and will chart temperature and humidity tables. These observations, it was said, will be invaluable to foresters. Each of the stations will be connected with the forestry department bureau headquarters by telegraph.

Joe Neary, one of the famous jokeys of years ago, is a member of the cast of King Baggott's race-track picture, "Down the Stretch." Neary was the ranking jockey of the world 25 years ago. Like Tod Sloan, he was a favorite in Europe as well as in the United States.

HE WOULD NOT GIVE UP

James Smith, residing at 104 Jefferson street, employed at B. & O. R. R. this city, said when interviewed today: "I knew that the All-wise Creator must have put on earth a cure for asthma and other afflictions in the way of growing plants or weeds, so every time I would hear of a new medicine or an advertised treatment for asthma or catarrh, I tried it. I also tried all the doctors and they did not do me any good, so a friend of mine advised me to try World's Tonic, so I bought a bottle and after taking it for several days, all my asthma and catarrh is gone, and I feel like a new man. I not only suffered with asthma, but I had to take physics all the time. I would bloat up after eating and I had a sour stomach and severe headaches. I lost flesh all the time. My nerves were poor, but all of that is now over. I advise everybody to try this new medicine, which I understand has been the means of saving many lives here in New Castle in the short time it has been here.

World's Tonic is for sale at Smith's, also McKee's, Paisley's, Eckerd's, and all other reliable drug stores, $1.00 a bottle.

World War Veteran To Undergo Operation

Harry Davies of DuShane street, one of the better known world war veterans of this city, left Thursday for Philadelphia, Pa., where he is to undergo a serious operation on the advice of his local physician. Mr. Davies served throughout the world war and was gassed and injured in the battles in which he took part and since returning home has been in poor health, which it is believed that the operation will remedy. The operation will be performed in a government hospital. He is widely and favorably known and has many friends, who are hoping for his speedy recovery.

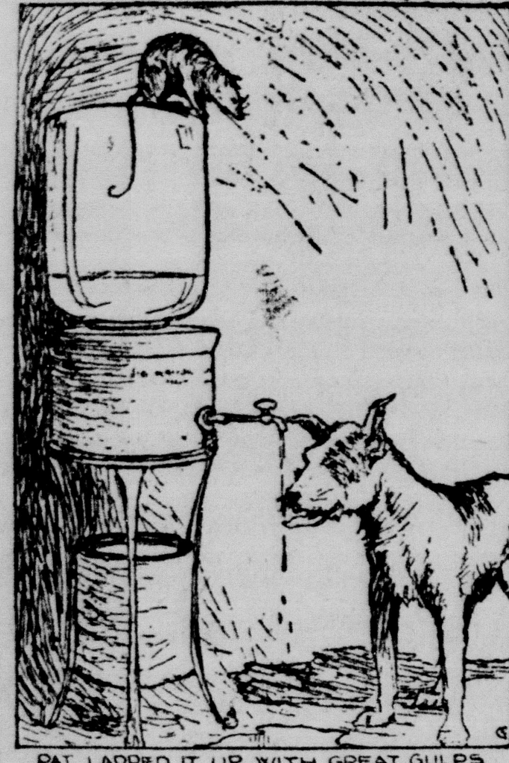
PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND
BY MRS FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

PAT TAKES TO DRINK



PAT LAPPED IT UP WITH GREAT GULPS.

Pat looked up. From sheer surprise he opened wide his mouth, but he did not close his eyes, and who could blame him?

Ratty was leaning for over the edge of the stand up which he had climbed holding something in his cupped claws and squealing at Pat as though that Dog was deaf. As Pat stared upward, mouth and eyes open, Ratty opened his claws and down spattered something that was cool and refreshing. Drops—Pat could feel them trickling down his nose! One splashed into his eye and for the second almost blinded him, but Pat blinked it out, giving scant heed to the smart of it for the joy in the feel of the drops upon his tongue.

"Water!" gasped Pat, and wagged not alone his tail, but his whole shaggy body. "More, Ratty, more!"

Pat stuck out his tongue just as far as it would go and the faithful Rat, as pleased as Punch at being able once more to help a friend in need, turned himself into a sprinkler and worked just as fast as he could.

But Ratty's claws were small and Pat's thirst was great, and falling as fast as the Rat could drip them, the drops of water did not satisfy poor Pat's thirst. At last the poor little Rat grew weary and began to pant for breath, and then just in the nick of time Pat came to his senses.

"Nothing like being shut up in the dark to make a fellow stupid!" grumbled he. "I must have left some of my wits in that box when I jumped out. Hold on, Ratty! Stop sprinkling me!

"Sure and my ears are catching almost as much water as my mouth. I thank you from the tip of my tail for all that you've been doing for me, but 'tis time you stopped. Be after resting yourself, my fine lad, while I drink my fill. Sure, 'tis a water cooler you're standing on the brim of. Nothing but my own blindness kept me from spying it this long time. Not for nothing have I watched the trainmen fill their glasses. No glass need I, though! Stand by and see how a Dog drinks from a Two-Legs fountain."

Standing on his hind legs, Pat with his forepaws braced himself against the cooler. Then with his nose Pat pushed the spiggot. It moved. Down flowed the water in a swift stream into the basin beneath and Pat lapped it up with great gulps.

Next: "Shuffle 'Long, Ratty!"

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

GENE TUNNEY WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Outboxes Dempsey, Gains Decision

Jack Dempsey Only Shell Of Former "Killer"; Takes Neat Lacing From Ex-Marine

TUNNEY LACKS K. O. WALLOP

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—"When I lose my title I'll be flat on my back and thoroughly socked on the chin."

That has been Jack Dempsey's story for years, but last night he was not flat on his back, nor was he too thoroughly socked on the chin. But he lost the heavyweight championship of the world, and he lost it in a manner that was not dramatic nor even impressive. He simply had a fight with another man and the other man won.

Tunney Lacks Punch.

The other man won. It wasn't close, it wasn't even a good fight. The man that everybody has been talking about for years went down to defeat without flying the colors of a good, game fighting American. He had his chance. He hit the challenger on the jowl often, but he didn't have the punch and a second rate fighter went out to win the heavyweight title, the greatest gift competitieve sport has to offer.

Gene Tunney is not a fighter. Personally, I could think of three men who could beat him today and for all I know, his winning of the heavyweight title may mean a round robin series of fights in which it would be entirely possible for a contender like Johnny Risko to win the title. That's how bad Gene Tunney is.

Tunney had his chance to make a showing in beating Dempsey, but he would not take advantage of it. He fought a retreating fight, scoring only because the former champion couldn't hit him, and the challenger, soon to be crowned, was able to land with counter punches.

Tragic End For Champion.

But it was a tragic thing to see Dempsey lose as he did lose. Whatever idea he may have had in mind became a futile, empty gesture. When he went back to his corner, from the first round, in which he took thorough shellacking, Gene Normile attempted to tell the champion what to do. It was one of the few laughs of the occasion. Jack simply pushed Gene's wagging jaw away with his gloved hand, and that was that.

The champion, soon to be shorn of his title, was Jess Willard all over again, a man who was due to take a punch on the jaw and thought he was the only guy who knew what it was all about.

When Willard was socked on the chin at Toledo he went down and he tried to laugh. Dempsey was socked on the chin last night. He did not go down, but he tried to laugh. He couldn't. That's why it was tragic. A man who had popped off all his life about dying with his boots on died a competitieve death, and in the dying failed to give the customers so much as a thrill.

That made it tragic for the customers as well, but the poor saps thought they had seen something and went yammering out of the place imbued with the idea that their $27.50 had been well spent. The writer can understand the fifty cents.

Details By Rounds.

The fight was worth just about that much. Here are the gruelling details:—

Round One—Mr. Dempsey stepped out, bobbed his head, made overt gestures at Mr. Tunney, and that unimpressed young man proceeded to make a fellow that he had touted to high heavens look foolish.

Round Two—Also in favor of Mr. Tunney. Dempsey, supposed to be a man-killer, was not quite the same gent we knew in the old days. As a matter of fact, he never was what the boys were pleased to believe he was.

RoundThree—More of the same.

Round Four—Ditto.

Round Five—Ditto, ditto.

Round Six—The champion let go his best shot. It caught the challenger on the button, but failed to drop him. Which surprised both the challenger, the champion and the customers. The boy thought he had something, but when the punch landed and nothing else landed the beef was on. It was Dempsey's one round.

Round Seven—The champion kept coming but the challenger kept countering. Even round.

Round Eight—The champion was all through, but he did not know it.

Round Nine—He was beginning to suspect it.

Round Ten—He knew it all to well.

There's a new heavyweight champion of the world today which is, perhaps, just as well. But there might have been a better choice.

Largest Crowd Hears Bout Returns At News

Although Crowd Favors Dempsey To Win, Fans Switch To Tunney

Downfall Of Champion Comes As Surprise To Many Local Fans

The largest crowd that ever gathered at The News to receive the returns from a sporting event clustered every inch of space in North Mercer street last night and heard Gene Tunney crowned heavyweight champion of the world, the ex-Marine wresting the title from Jack Dempsey, on points, after 10 rounds of fighting.

The crowd commenced gathering at eight o'clock and at 8:30 p. m., a large crowd had gathered as the returns were being broadcasted by The News. Due to the excellent arrangements which had been made by The News, the special telegraph wires carried a minute account of the fighting, direct from the ring in Philadelphia.

The crowd was a "Dempsey" crowd but the Tunney element asserted itself lustily as the returns of the first round were received and toward the middle of the fight the sentiment had changed to Tunney as the fans figured that the ex-Marine was fighting the champion blow for blow, meeting him half way and giving more than he received.

When the decision was received there was a mighty roar even though it was a surprise to most of the fans as throughout the country, not only New Castle, Dempsey had been considered a three to one shot to win and very few critics picked Tunney to win. Here in New Castle, Dempsey was favored, excepting by a few.

Bicycle Race For H. S. Pupils

Physical Director Klee In Charge Of New Feature At High

Something new along the line of athletics is to be introduced at the Senior high school Saturday morning by William Klee, director of physical education, when a bicycle race will be held in which all members of the High school are eligible to enter.

The race has been talked up considerably of late and a goodly number of students are expected to be on hand to take place. Extra class activities such as this are to be introduced to give all those who have nothing to do on Saturday a chance to have some real wholesome fun and also get a little credit in the bargain for the marks of all those who enter will be raised considerably.

Pennant Races In Both Leagues

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—If Cincinnati wins only one game of its doubleheader with Philadelphia this afternoon, St. Louis can clinch the National league pennant by beating the Giants. Should the Reds win all their remaining games, including the contest with St. Louis on Sunday, St. Louis would be forced to defeat the Giants both today and tomorrow in order to do better than tie Cincinnati.

The Reds had a close call yesterday, barely managing to hold the Phillies to a 15-inning tie. This game will be played off in this afternoon's double header.

The Yankees play the St. Louis Browns today while Cleveland engages the Athletics in a doubleheader. New York needs three victories out of four to clinch the pennant, providing Cleveland makes a clean sweep.

St. Louis led the Reds by two and one-half games this morning, while the Indians trailed the Yankees by two games.

Marines Happy As Tunney Wins

(International News Service)

QUANTICO, Va., Sept. 24—Some 3,500 marines went to bed, hoarse but happy in the small hours of this morning.

All night long they surged through the camp yelling, cheering and telling the world that Gene Tunney, the new heavyweight champion, once was a marine. It was in utter defiance of the rules and regulations, their staying up all night but the company commanders and the commandant himself winked at it and even joined in the celebration. Nowhere perhaps was Gene Tunney's victory over Jack Dempsey more sincerely celebrated.

Tunney Defeated Me Fair And Square Says Former Champion

By GEORGE BARRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—"No alibis to offer," declared Jack Dempsey today after he was dethroned by Gene Tunney "I was whipped fairly and squarely.

"Tunney outmatched me, he outpunched me, he outboxed me, and he couldn't do anything else but win," Dempsey said. "I couldn't get started, nothing worked right with me. I was missing punches by a foot that I used to land on the button. Why I missed them I don't know—shall I say it was because I was off form—or because Gene was too clever?

"Let's say it was because of Gene's boxing skill, for he did duck and he did stidestep and he did block. Several times it seemed I was under way at last, that the old steam was back and that I could bring down Gene, but I'd just flash and the legs wouldn't carry me into fast attacks and fast follow-ups."

Dempsey had nothing but praise for Tunney. "I think that in meeting Gene Tunney, I met the best man—by far—that I have ever faced in my career," he declared. "He was fast, he was skillful and although his punches didn't drop me they had enough force to batter my complexion out of shape.

"Gene has been a credit to the game, through all the years he has been fighting and the real comfort I have in surrendering my title to him is that the new heavyweight champion is an honor to the game, a fine young American and one who will always uplift boxing."

Union High To Meet Slippery Rock Team

Class B. Schools Clash On Saturday Afternoon—Good Game Expected

Coach Burnham Has Fine Team Rounded Together—Meet Wilmington Next Friday

Coach Burnham and his Union high school gridiron warriors will invade Slippery Rock Saturday afternoon to meet the strong Slippery Rock high school in the first class B high school game of the season.

Union high was beaten 18 to 6 last year by Slippery Rock, but hopes are being entertained for victory tomorrow which will avenge the setback received last year.

The team under the tutelage of Coach Burnham, a Michigan man, has been progressing very nicely, and indications are that Union high school will be represented by a formidable eleven this fall.

Probable Lineup.

The lineup which will start for Union high tomorrow will probably consist of Funkhouser and Reck, ends; Hughes, Wochner or Chill, tackles; Annualla, Wiech or Hoffmaster, guards; Rishel or Wallace, center; and Carr, Schiek, Marlow and Thompson in the backfield.

Both teams are evenly matched and a lively tussle is sure to result.

Friday, October 1, Union high meets New Wilmington at the Union field. The college town boys won a verdict over Union last year at the Ben Franklin field in a hard fought encounter, and another good game is in the offing.

To Play Bessemer.

Union's third game will find them pitted against Bessemer on Ocotber 9. Interest is running high at Union high school this fall and considerable enthusiasm is being shown by students, faculty and people of that district. Record throngs are expected to turn out for all home games on the schedule.

"Inside Stuff" On Big Fight

By "BUGS" WALTHER

It's only natural that you folks should look to me today to tell you about the great fight in Philadelphia last night, in which a new champion was crowned and anotner champion was downed.

Well, the "I told you sos" have it today. At the last calculation the boys who pick winners after the fights are over had a big lead and only half the votes had been counted.

That was a great throng gathered here in front of The News on Thursday night. The rain didn't dampen their spirits one bit, and when I announced that Tunney had won the crowd went wild—that is, the Tunney followers; but the boys who had picked the other fighter were not so wild in one sense of the word.

If you will remember back several days you will find that I really did pick the winner. Here was my prediction: either Dempsey or Tunney will win. Right.

Tunney took the crown, Dempsey took a beating and Tex Rickard took the coin. It is hard to find out what the fans took or received, unless they brought home a piece of the Sesqui-Centennial real estate.

Dempsey was not the fighter last night that battered down Jess Willard at Toledo, O., nor the man who, after being out in his bout with Firpo, came back to sock the South American into the next county.

Jack was either over trained or overrun to death with process servers and court suits. Dempsey said before entering the ring that he wasn't worried, but after a few hard socks in the chin he changed his mind and started to worry.

Expect Throngs At Horse Races

Unusually Large Entry List For Races At New Castle Fair Attracts Many

BRILLIANT FIELD TO TAKE TO POST

With 225 entries received for the fair races at the New Castle Fair next week, horse race fans here are anxiously awaiting the start of the opening event which will send the best horses of this section of the country to the post.

Entries have been received here from 11 states and one province in Canada. They include Mississippi, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, North Carolina, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, Kansas and Brussels, Ontario.

In the 2:12 pace an unusually large number of entries have been received. Thirty-three horses, including some of the fastest horses in the Grand Circuit will make a bid for the prize.

Thirty-six horses have been registered for the 2:17 pace, 47 for the 2:17 trot, 36 for the 2:24 pace, 54 for the 2:24 trot and 29 in the three-year-old trot.

With such a brilliant field of entries it is doubtful if the local racing program has ever or can be surpassed by any half mile tracks in the state.

Four thousand dollars in cash prizes will be awarded, in addition to a large number of beautiful silver trophies donated by local concerns.

With good weather conditions prevailing next week all attendance records at the race track are expected to be shattered.

BULLDOGS TO PLAY ON GRID

Coach Jack Reader Is Having Hard Time Picking Regulars

New Castle Bulldogs formerly the South Side Bulldogs will have a fast team on the field this coming season. Thirty candidates have reported for practice and Coach Jack Reeder is having a hard time picking a regular eleven.

The following candidates are seeking a regular berth on the South Side eleven: Genock, Van Fossen, Rowe, Hanna, Harris, Taylor, Merriman, Eardley, Jones, Bogden, Cuba, A. Thomas, F. Thomas, Williams Kulkin, Lewis, Kulha, Davis, Parker, Shook, Mariacher, Copperthwaite, Watson, Rogovin, Nocera, Steinbrink, Mails, and several others whose names were not learned. The Bulldogs would like to schedule games with all lightweight teams in the county.

Any teams desiring games write to J. N. Parker, 1026 South Mill street, or call Bell Phone 44.

Last Night's Fights

AT PHILADELPHIA—Gene Tunney won decision and world's heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey, 10 rounds. Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia won decision over Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul, six rounds. Harry Persson of Sweden defeated Sergeant Jack Adams, St. Louis, on tecnical knockout in fourth of scheduled six rounds. George Godfrey of Leiperville, Pa., won decision over Bob Lawson, Alabama, six rounds. Monte Munn, Lincoln, Neb., knocked out Hugo Clements, Camden, N. J., in first of scheduled six rounds. Jack De Mave of Hoboken, N. J., knocked out Joe Stoessel, New York, in third of scheduled six rounds. Yale Okum of New York won decision over Martin Burke, New Orleans, six rounds.

My Greatest Ambition Is Realized-Tunney

By GARRY SCHUMACHER
I. N. S. Special Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—"What has been the greatest ambition of my life has been realized. I have won the heavyweight championship of the world.

"But in winning the championship I set another goal for myself. And that is to be worthy of the title; to be a champion in fact as well as in name."

In that earnest and modest manner did Gene Tunney, the devil dog pride of Greenwich Village, New York's first heavyweight champion, accept the honors he won with the weight of his first in the rain soaked sesqui arena last night.

Praises Handlers.

Gene paid high tribute to his handlers.

"Without their help I never could have won," he declared. "Lou Fink brought me into the ring at the very top of my fighting form and once there the advice of Billy Gibson and Jimmy Bronsen was invaluable to me.

"I never had any doubt as to the outcome. I was confident when the match was made that I would be the next champion of the world and my confidence increased as my training progressed. I knew I was 'right' and I was ready to make the fight of my career.

"In the ring I was sure of myself every second. Not one of Dempsey's punches hurt me. I think I proved to the great crowd that I was his master.

"Jack fought a clean fight and the referee, Tommy Reilly, handled it perfectly. It was rather unfortunate the bout was marred by rain but I think it handicapped me more than Dempsey.

"My plans for the immediate future are, of course, uncompleted. They are in the hands of Billy Gibson, my manager. But I know that he is just as anxious as I am that I be worthy of the championship.

Concerning Harry Wills, Gene was a bit reticent.

"There is time enough to discuss Harry later on," he said.

NEW CASTLE AND CRAFTON PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Visitors To Present Strong Combination

New Castle High Hopes To Secure First Grid Victory Of Season

Revised Line-Up To Face Crafton—Game Starts At 3:30 O'clock

By "BUGS" WALTHER
Assistant Sports Editor

Having suffered the ignominy of a swift kick in the region of the anatomy commonly known as the "neck" by deadlocking with Mars High in the opening game of the season here last week, the New Castle High gridders are rarin' to go tomorrow afternoon, when they will have the strong Crafton High team as their opponents on Ben Franklin field.

The game, as formerly announced, will start at 3:30 o'clock, daylight savings time.

Crafton on Edge.

Crafton high has been grooming for this important battle for the past three weeks, and in the opening game of the season last week dusted off Ben Avon high 13 to 6, just to prepare for the tussle with the Bridenbaugh coached outfit in the Lawrence county seat. Crafton high has not forgotten the fact that New Castle's powerful 1925 team ran rough-shod over them here last year, and neither have they overlooked the fact that it is quite a trick to out-smart Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh, former Geneva college mentor, so with these two things uppermost in their minds the boys from the Pittsburgh district will invade Ben Franklin high stadium tomorrow afternoon to do battle with the team they have learned to fear.

In Kalloway and Huth the Crafton team has two mighty dangerous backfield men, and New Castle high will do well to keep at least one eye fastened on this pair during the encounter, otherwise one of them might be found standing behind the goal posts with a well defined smile breaking forth over his clear countenance. In the game with Ben Avon high last week the work of this pair of backs stood out like a sore thumb and they are prepared to open up with a few of their well known tricks when the time is ripe in the New Castle-Crafton battle.

Boys Perk Up.

If Crafton high had scouts at the New Castle-Mars game here last week they may have gained the opinion that New Castle high has an easy team this year and that they will do well to finish in the first division baseballically speaking, but Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is not one of those coaches who after suffering a sock on the nose waits for it to heal up. On the other hand the high school boys have been out there at Ben Franklin field every night this week and they have not had what one would call a pleasantly spent afternoon. Yes, New Castle high is ready to show the stuff that made championship here in other years.

Coach Bridenbaugh on Monday afternoon drew out his first string team with the following boys being assigned berths: McGrath, Millison, Christman, Kirk, Thomas, Robinson, Mooney, Ostrosky, Sillman, Klaber, Richards, Smith and Harper, and our of this array of material the coach will select 11 men to start the Crafton game.

Hard Workouts.

The boys have had three scrimmage sessions this week and every night the varsity team just naturally walked all over the scrubs for four, five and six touchdowns, and it was not "child's play" either. The varsity team as it stands today is many percentage points better than the team that started the Mars high game. The boys have been instilled with a "do or die" spirit and they are going to win that game Saturday or nothing matters.

The team held a long drill last night at the Franklin stadium with a steady downpour of rain upon them, but they didn't care about the rain, they cared more about winning that game Saturday afternoon. The field is a fine grassy plot and one that doesn't get muddy, but the boys got some inside dope in how to handle a ball on a slippery wet day, and although they are hoping that the sun shines Saturday, they don't care one bit if it doesn't and that's that.

Eager For Victory.

The fans of New Castle will find an entirely different team on the field this week The team that faced Mars high Saturday in the opening game was green, inexperienced and lacked the polish of former New Castle teams, but after a week of hard work the officials are willing to admit without the sign of a blush that New Castle high's football team is now ready to show the stuff that they are capable of displaying.

While Coach Bridenbaugh was reluctant to announce his starting lineup for the Crafton game the writer picks the following team with the Crafton team also announcing its lineup:

New Castle High		Crafton High
McGrath or Sherer	L.E.	Landefeld
Millison	L.T.	C. Necley
Mooney or Kirk	L.G.	G. Smith
Robinson or Kirk	C.	Taylor
Thomas	R.G.	Stocker
Christman	R.T.	H. Necley
Ostrosky	R.E.	Montgomery
Sillman	Q.B.	Davis
Klaber	L.H.	Kalloway
Richards	R.H.	J. Huth
Harper	F.B.	Dickenson

Class League Schedule Is Rearranged

Mahoningtown Junior High School Unable To Place Team

Due to a series of unforeseen circumstances, it has become necessary to rearrange the schedule of games for the class league football team.

The schedule as was announced before had made provisions for a Senior and Junior league, but Physical Director William Klee of the Senior High school was informed of the inability of Mahoningtown Junior High to put a team on the field that would average 90 pounds, and it was thought to be inadvisable by the officials of the Mahoningtown school to attempt to play in the class league.

With the withdrawing of the Mahoningtown team it was decided to do away with the Junior League and to have only the Senior League. North Street Junior High was invited to participate, but due to the lightness of their team they refused and will make up a light schedule of their own in the near future. With the elimination of these two teams the league will now be made up of the following teams: Ben Franklin Junior High, the Sophomores, the Juniors and the Seniors of the Senior High school, each team of which will play three games and the team having the highest percentage of games won will be crowned the champs at the end of the season.

The revised schedule is to be as follows:

Octotber 8—Seniors vs. Sophomores.

October 15—Juniors vs. Ben Franklin.

October 22—Seniors vs. Ben Franklin.

October 29—Juniors vs. Sophomores.

November 5 — Sophomores vs. Ben Franklin.

November 12—Seniors vs. Juniors.

Church Teams Play Tonight

Methodists And Central Presbyterians In Title Battle Tonight

The championship of the New Castle Church League will be decided tonight at the Croton Field weather permitting. The game will start at 6 o'clock, daylight savings time. The two teams concerned are the Methodists and Central Presbyterians.

The Methodists are banking on Ralph Baker to bring them through to victory tonight, while the Presbyterians have Melder or Bush available for service.

It was doubtful early today whether or not the game would be played tonight, owing to the fact that it rained plenty last night and early this morning, and the grounds are probably very wet.

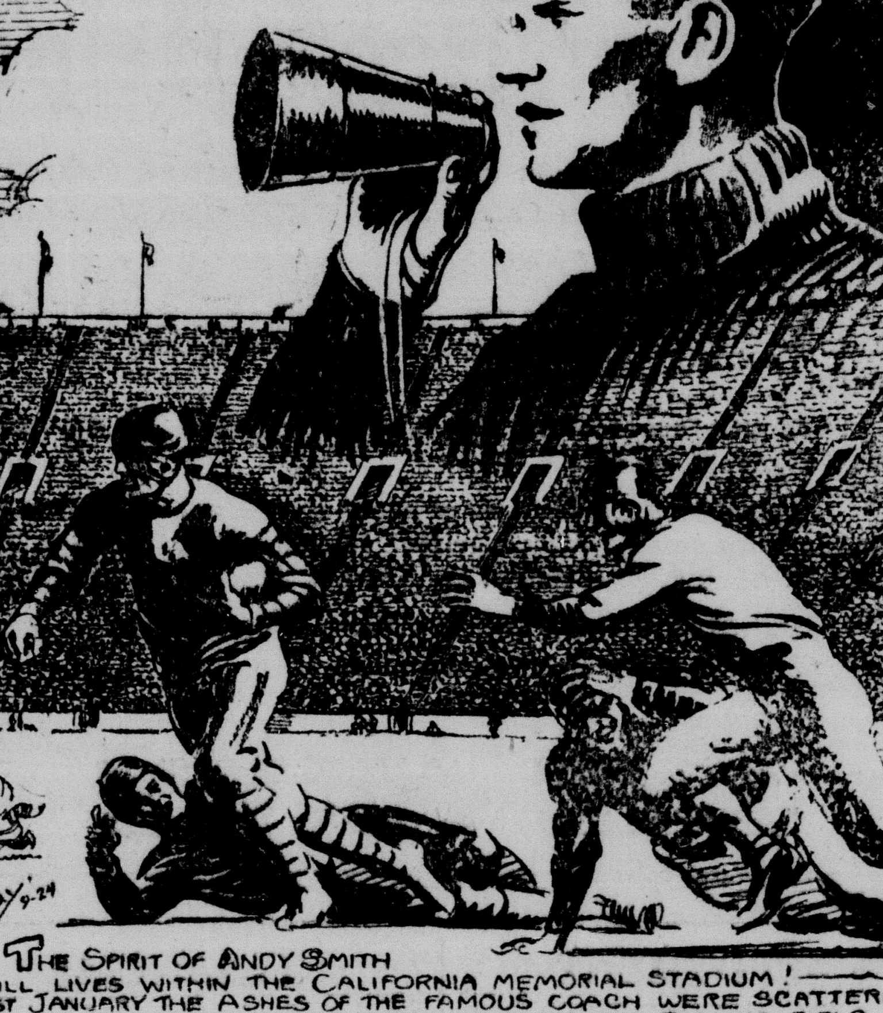
Andy's Spirit Lives

By Feg Murray



THE SPIRIT OF ANDY SMITH STILL LIVES WITHIN THE CALIFORNIA MEMORIAL STADIUM! LAST JANUARY THE ASHES OF THE FAMOUS COACH WERE SCATTERED FROM AN AIRPLANE ONTO THE GREEN TURF OF THE PLAYING FIELD.

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

When the University of California football team plays its home games this fall in its magnificent memorial stadium, a most unusual as well as a most dramatic situation will occur. Those of the team who played last year or the year before and learned their football from the late Andy Smith, will literally be playing in the ashes of their beloved coach!

Truly the spirit of Andrew Latham Smith will hover over the beautiful playing field of the million-and-a-half-dollar edifice there in Strawberry Canon, for the earthly remains of that great coach, in the form of his ashes, were scattered on the green turf between the goal posts from an army airplane piloted by a friend of the dead leader last January, while the bells of the campus campanile tolled the hour of noon and a small crowd stood bareheaded in the empty and silent stadium.

Capt. Griffin, Earl Jabs, Dick Blewett and other stars of Andy Smith's last team will fight as never before once their cleats bite into the sod upon which the ashes of their friend and tutor lie, for they cannot help but be inspired by the fact that the playing field is Andy Smith now, and that he is still around somewhere, kneeling at the sidelines with dipper of water in his hand, or barking out directions through his little megaphone.

Coach "Nibs" Price, who knows the Smith system of coaching better than any living man, will be there to carry on as Andy's successor. But the fire and spark of the tall, raw-boned "Big Swede" will be greatly missed, and "Nibs" Price will have to be a patient, tireless, inspired coach to equal the work of his predecessor, whose teams went undefeated for five years at the University of California.

Feg Murray Says—

Rickard, after promoting his first fight in Philadelphia, will probably agree that the thing to do is to change the spelling of his nickname to "Tax".

Bobby Jones' Popularity Undimmed By Defeat

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The outcome of the national amateur golf tourney presents an interesting sidelight on sports and the attitude of fandom registered at times.

Here we have Bobby Jones, apparently ruling the golf world with an iron (and steady) niblick, dethroned as king of the simon pures by George Von Elm.

And the result?

Due acclaim accorded Von Elm for his feat in dethroning Bobby and winning one of the major titles.

And Bobby's popularity and esteem as a golfer undimmed.

The public wanted to see Bobby capture his third major title in one season. They wanted him to set a new golfing mark by winning the national amateur three times in succession. And when he failed they immediately proceeded to accept him a bit more warmly then they had before.

He is still considered the game's greatest golfing idol.

There is a simple reason for this—Jones' frank, determined manner and a clear idea of sportsmanship with which he has become imbued. This and the fact that he plays golf as no over man ever played it.

He carries not the ritzsy air of Hagen or the carefree mood of Chic Evans. He plays a dogged, determined, grim game. But, man, how he plays it! To Von Elm the public gives the credit due a player who takes two emphatic defeats at the hands of a star like Jones with good grace and comes back for more—and victory.

Dutch Ruether, about to collect a nice bit of gravy in the coming world's series, had worn the uniforms of five other major league clubs before he joined the Yanks late this season.

He started out with a brief trial with the Pittsburgh Pirates and then, after grabbing a bit more experience on the Pacific coast, where he got his start, was given the keen eye by the Cubs.

That outfit decided Dutch couldn't brighten the future of Chicago in the National league and released him to the Cinci Reds.

He won three games and lost two for the latter team his first season in Ohio and the expected happened—he was sent to the minors. That was in 1918. Dutch's ticket was for Chattanooga but he refused to report. When the following spring rolled around the Reds, not knowing what else to do, gave him another chance.

All he did that season was to help pitch the club to a pennant. He won a total of 19 games and lost but six. He topped off his season by winning one game in the terrible world's series with the White Sox. The next season he won 16 and lost 12 games and the next season found himself with the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Reds wanted Rube Marquard and traded Dutch for him.

He won but 10 games his first year as a Robin but the next season knocked off 21 games and lost but 12.

In the winter of 1924-25 the Dodgers let Ruether go to the Washing Senators and he proceeded to play an important part in the victory of Harris' team by turning in 18 victories and losing seven.

Then came the present season, his failure to please Harris and his eventual release to the Yanks at the waiver price.

Tagging All Bases

The Reds could do no better than tie the Phillies after battling 15 inning. The score was 6 to 6, with Carlson holding his own against Rixey and Donohue. An error by Roush let two men score.

The Braves drove another nail in Pittsburgh's coffin as Edwards had the better of Kremer in a 2 to 1 pitching duel. Rhyne made a costly error.

All American league clubs were idle.

"Thrill Director" Is Latest Movie Job

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 24.—A new profession, that of "thrill director", has been added to the highly specialized motion picture industry.

B. Reeves Eason, who filmed the thrilling chariot races in "Ben Hur" is the pioneer. He created the new occupation. Eason arranges horse races, auto smashups, battle scenes, mob violence and perilous stunts of all kinds.

Ben Franklin Team Develops

Opening Game To Be Played With Juniors On October 15

Swinging into the third week of training the Ben Franklin football squad are busy at work perfecting their team play under the watchful eyes of Coaches Norton and Nelson. The Ben Franklin team has in the lineup only one veteran of last year's successful eleven and that in Andy Bears, formerly an end, but he is now being run as a guard and will be without a doubt the strongest lineman on the team.

The backfield has not been selected fully as yet but it is a well known fact that Charles Berlew will hold down the left halfback position. Charles by the way is one of the fastest men on the squad and as he has had varied experience he can be depended upon holding down this position. Rus Hannon has been doing the signal barking and counted on as the regular quarterback. Among those who are playing on the line are Bill Johns and Joe Wagoner, both of whom played last year. Ken Moser who is playing center, Ed Linton and Arlie Spicer both of whom show promise of developing into fast ends and as there are many others on hand a strong eleven will no doubt be turned out by the opening game with the Juniors on October 15.

Nurmi To Train In Iowa School

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 24.—Paavo Nurmi, the fleet-footed Finn, will train at the Drake university here when he returns to the United States this fall.

Announcement that Nurmi will arrive in Des Moines about Nov. 15, to start training for his onslaught against any and all existing distance and track records, was made by Ossie Solem, Drake athletic mentor. The Finn, it was said, will pass up the gymnasiums and athletic clubs of the east, coming directly here. He will train at Drake's new field house, and December 11 will make his first public appearance of this season's tour when he will attempt new records. He will race again at Drake's December 18, before leaving Des Moines for a tour of the states.

How Nurmi happened to come to Drake to train is the story of Dr. Alfred J. Peterson, United States minister to Finland and former professor at Drake. Dr. Peterson is personally acquainted with Nurmi, and at the request of Solem invited him to do his training this fall at the Des Moines university.

Dr. Tiovo T. Kaila, author of a book on Nurmi, and close friend of the runner, probably will accompany Nurmi, according to word from Dr. Peterson. Dr. Kaila expects to give a series of lectures in American colleges on Finnish athletics.

Nurmi, in accepting Drake's invitation, asked that he be given privacy during his training. This request will be observed, Coach Solem says.

New Wilmington High Opens Season With Grove City

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The local High School football team will get its first test of the season Saturday afternoon when Grove City High is met at Grove City. The contest will be played on the Crimson College athletic field.

Coach Wiggins, a graduate of Bethany College, has been driving his proteges hard. It is his first year in charge of the Blue and Gold but it has not taken him long to get acquainted with the respective abilities of his candidates. He has a likely looking group of veterans to work with.

The dope will favor the Mercer Countians since Joe Hartman, former Grove City College star, who is coach of the Grove City lads, has a husky squad and predictions are that they will cop Mercer County honors.

Wiggins has announced the following lineup: Lewis and Davis, ends; Herriott and Gilliland, tackles; Worrall and McCrumb, guards; Anderson, center; Bill James, quarterback; Cheers and Neal, halfbacks with Capt. Pete James at fullback.

Others who will probably break into the game before the activities cease are McConnell, end; Hoover, guard; Hartwell and Patterson, halfbacks.

BRAVES WIN OVER PIRATES

Rhyne's Error And Edwards Pitching Gives Boston 2-1 Victory

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—The Braves nosed out the Pirates, two to one, yesterday, Hal Rhyne's misplay accounting for the defeat as his error played a big part in letting the second run in. Edwards also pitched good ball and had an edge on Kremer. The box score:

Youth Confesses To Shooting Self, Attack Yarn False

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—By confessing, according to Corp. F. Bunch, of the State Police, that he shot himself, Russell Koontz, 21, of Mount Pleasant, near here, today had cleared up the mystery surrounding the finding of the youth in an alley near his home, suffering from two bullet wounds.

A story of an attack by a masked mystery man, who first beat Koontz and then dragged him into the alley and fired two shots into his prostrate body, aroused the neighborhood here, and a long search was made for the assailant.

The youth, according to Corporal Bunch, shot himself to work on his father's sympathy, and to turn aside parental wrath because of an alleged indiscretion.

Hungarian Detectives Try Hamlet's Method In Finding Murderer

(International News Service)

SOPRONKOVESD, Hungary, Sept. 24.—The method of detecting murderers employed by Hamlet in rehearsing the killing before the eyes of the guilty one has proven successful in this age also.

Several men suspected of having murdered a peasant near here were taken to the scene of the crime. There the body of the dead man was laid on the ground and a police officer attacked it with a knife much in the manner as the assassin must have employed.

While the knife was raised one of the prisoners, Ferenc Lakatos, fainted and on being revived confessed to the crime.

LINCOLN'S VENTURE IN THE GROCERY BUSINESS IN NEW SALEM, ILLINOIS, WAS UNSUCCESSFUL. HE DEVOTED MOST OF HIS TIME TO STUDYING LAW AND HIS PARTNER MANAGED THINGS BADLY.
LOSED
THE FAILURE OF THE STORE AND THE DEATH OF HIS PARTNER LEFT "HONEST ABE" WITH DEBTS WHICH TOOK HIM MANY YEARS TO REPAY.
LINCOLN, IN THE SPRING OF 1833, ACCEPTED THE POSITION OF VILLAGE POSTMASTER. THE FEW LETTERS THAT REACHED NEW SALEM EVERY DAY HE DELIVERED BY WALKING ABOUT UNTIL HE MET THE PERSONS TO WHOM THEY WERE ADDRESSED.
SHORTLY AFTERWARDS, LINCOLN BECAME A SURVEYOR. AT THIS TIME MANY SETTLERS WERE MOVING INTO ILLINOIS AND MUCH LAND HAD TO BE SURVEYED.
IN HIS SPARE TIME HE CONTINUED HIS LAW STUDIES AND SOON WAS QUALIFIED TO DRAW UP LEGAL PAPERS FOR HIS NEIGHBORS.
J. CARROLL MANSFIELD.
IN 1834, LINCOLN AGAIN SOUGHT A SEAT IN THE ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE AND THIS TIME WON THE ELECTION.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Short covering induced by the continuance of the 4 per cent rediscount rate of the New York Reserve bank and the improvement in the general position of the reserve banks, caused a moderate rally in stock prices at the beginning of trading today. Dullness was the principal feature of the speculative markets, however, and only in outstanding stocks was there any disposition to follow up gained by the moderate advances in opening prices.

The continuance of the 4 per cent rediscount rate was not a great surprise to Wall Street, in view of the failure of the outside banks to take such action earlier in the week. New York and Boston banks gained about 5 per cent in the radio of their reserves to resources, while the reserve system as a whole gained 1.5 per cent cotton prices made a moderate recovery from yesterday's severe slump, while, grain prices were slightly reactionary.

Most of the rails were higher in a quiet and featureless market after the first period. Stocks of the southern transportation companies and the Van Sweringen Nickel Plate group made the best showing. Equipment stocks declined, Pullman losing about 3 points.

Pools in the specialties did not relax. A new movement was started in advance rumely common and preferred, which led activity in the specialties. Warner Brother pictures advanced 4 points. Motor stocks were firm at the start. Oils were mixed with California issue strong and Mid Continent oils weak.

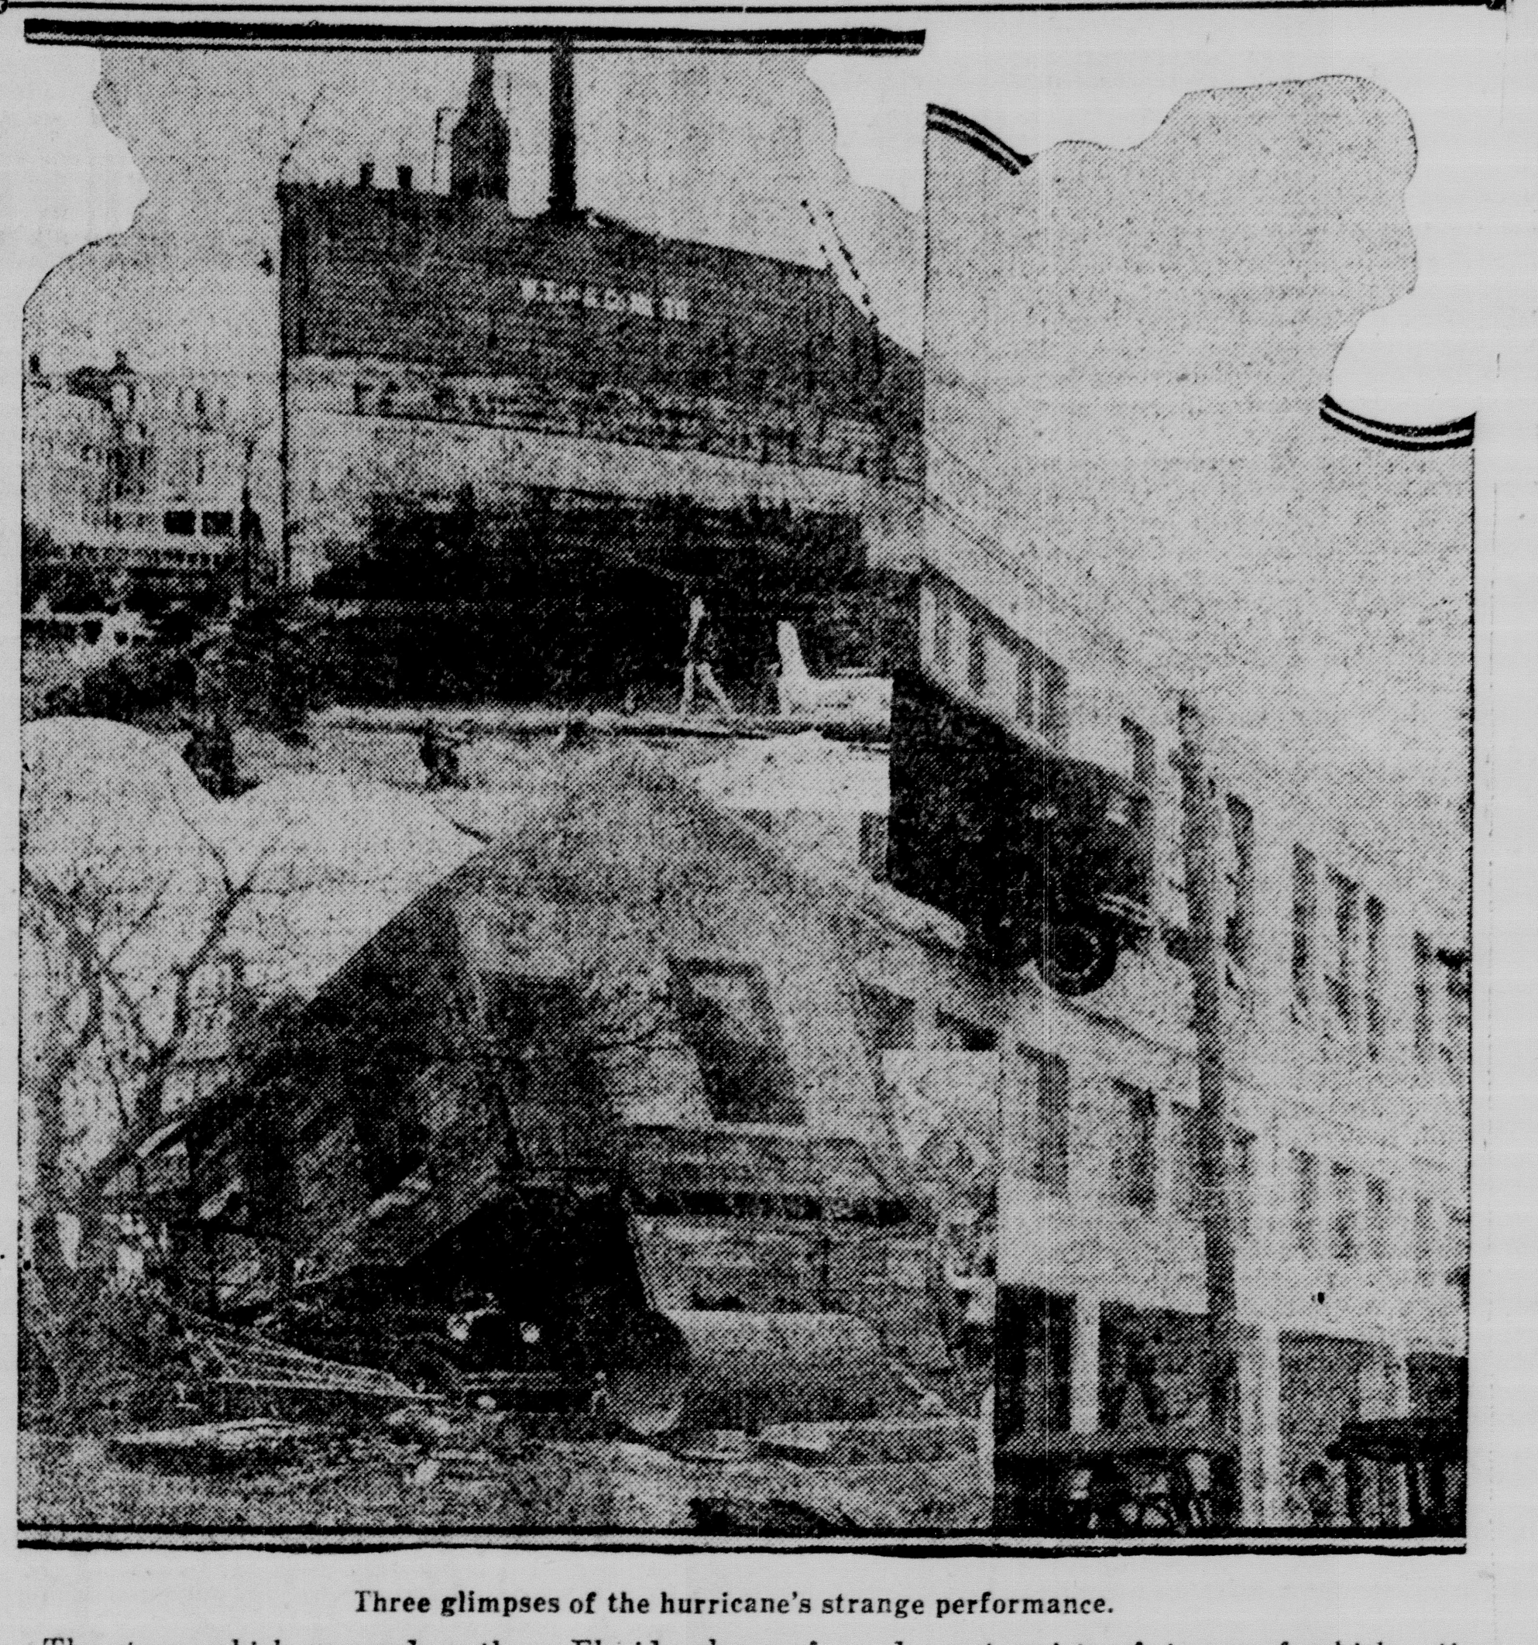
Hurricane Performs Freaks in Miami



Three glimpses of the hurricane's strange performance.

With the first news of the gravity of the situation in the stricken areas of Florida and the Gulf Coast the Salvation Army Social Service Departments began preparations for the shipment of necessaries to storm sufferers. CUPID KEEPS CAPITAL POLICEWOMAN IN CONSTANT DEMAND

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Either the little love god, Eros, has a special spell over Washington's police-women's bureau, or else Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, chief of the bureau, has a "picker's eye" that would put to shame Flo Zeigfeld, himself.

However that may be, the fact remains that marriages keep the bureau constantly facing a personnel turnover. With uncanny regularity, prominent lawyers, doctors, educators and engineers pop up from nowhere at all with theories that policewomen make good wives.

So far, eleven young women who came to the bureau as misses have left its ranks as Mrs.' Starting out to be cops, they got copped themselves.

What romance may cost her in the loss of trained personnel in the future, Mrs. Van Wrinkle hesitates to say. For herself, however, she says she will remain a widow for the rest of her life. And as far as Sergeant Rhoda Milliken, slim bobbed-haired chief assistant, is concerned, she is never going to be a widow, no matter how long she lives. Her reason is simple—she never intends to marry.

Of the 21 policewomen now on the force, eight are married or have been married. That leaves 13 for Mrs. Van Winkle, to worry about. And 13, she says, is an unlucky number.

One of the former members of the bureau, Sarah Tilghman, is now Mrs. George Hughes, of Dallas, Texas. She is practicing law there with her husband under the firm name of Hughes and Hughes. They were married one day while the court was taking luncheon recess. Meeting his fiancee in the corridors of the building, Hughes marched off with her and married.

Marian Bridwell became Mrs. F. Robertson Williams, of San Francisco. She took a vacation in California. Instead of returning she sent back a wedding announcement.

Irma Wann is now Mrs. Peter Buwaldi, of Pasadena, California. Her husband is head of the school of technology there. The pictures of their two fine babies now grace the living quarters of the policewomen's bureau here.

Oil Gushers Bring Riches To Seminoles

(International News Service)

SEMINOLE, Okla., Sept. 24. — Another Oklahoma Indian tribe has set its feet on the trail followed by the Osages from poverty to wealth.

But in this instance, not only the remnants of a once proud tribe is winning independence again, but also the descendants of those who 65 years ago were the red men's slaves.

The drilling of a series of oil gushers in the center of what was formerly the Seminole nation and now is Seminole county, Oklahoma, has revealed that 90 per cent of the farm owners and tenants in the rich new field are Seminole Indians, negro freedom and mixed blood—red and black.

The discovery well was drilled on a little farm owned by Mose Janes, negro, son of a slave. Over night, Mose might have exchanged his corn pone for a caviar had he been so inclined, for his income jumped in that brief period from nothing to $200 a day. Mose, however, prefers the traditional humble fare of his fellows and may be found as before on the porch of his log cabin though the latter is partly screened from view by the two automobiles of rather more than medium price, by which his accession to wealth is demonstrated.

The negro Janes is typical of the new group to which oil riches have come. Unlike the Osages, whose ascent from pauperism was gradual, the Seminoles are getting theirs suddenly in large chunks which grow larger as more wells are drilled. Unaccustomed as both Indian and negro are to handling money, they greet their good fortune stolidly in most cases.

Whites too have felt the magic touch. The biggest well yet brought in, a 6,000-barreler, is on a farm owned by Dr. W. E. Grissold, for a quarter century a physician among the Seminoles and negroes of the vicinity. The old doctor is drawing $1,000 a day in royalties.

South Side Fans Get Fight Returns

While many thousands of fight fans in front of The News office last night listening to the returns of the world championship battle at Philadelphia, and hundreds of others at various business places in the downtown section of the city, where radios had been placed in use for the occasion, the South Side fans congregated on Long avenue to the number of five or six hundred and listened in on the fight through the medium of a radio at the Huston Hardware company. The reception at this place as well as at all radios in the city was excellent and the South Siders were pleased with the service rendered. They blocked traffic to a considerable extent while the fight was in progress.

FAIR TO OPEN NEXT TUESDAY

Good Weather Only Need To Make Fair Notable Success

With the New Castle Fair but three days hence, everything is in readiness for the biggest event of the season, and from interest shown by fair enthusiasts here, indications are that the event next week will by far surpass any held by the New Castle Fair Association since its organization.

Good weather is all that is needed, according to fair officials. "If we have good weather, New Castle people will see the best fair ever held in this section of the country," was the report today.

Already concessions are being erected at the fair grounds and work for the opening next Tuesday, September 28, is in full progress. Early tomorrow and the next day, some 20 carloads of live cattle and other fair equipment will arrive here to be used at the fair next week.

The cattle entries and in fact all of the livestock entries are taxed to the limit. Entries on cattle were closed some time ago. Over 500 head of cattle will be on exhibition. The sheep, horses and other livestock promises to be far better than that of last season.

Various exhibits are being arranged which will be of more than ordinary interest to the fair patron. Special attention has been given for arrangements for the night fair, and sensational acts for outdoor performances will be staged gratis every evening.

All in all it's going to be a real fair and one that local people will long remember. Tuesday, September 28, is the opening day with the fair continuing through October 1.

Expect Pershing To Lead Fight On Budget Reduction

Advocates Of Strong National Defense Look To Pershing As Champion Of Cause

LACK OF FUNDS HINDERS SERVICE

Chiefs Favor Plan To Curtail Forces Maintained In Insular Possessions

By WILLIAM S. NEAL.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Advocates of a stronger national defense policy today are looking to Gen. John J. Pershing to lead a fight against reduced budgets in the forthcoming congress.

Both army and navy chiefs are understood to be struggling with an executive order to trim allowances and a further diminution of the present strength of the army and navy likely to be caused by the exhaustion of supplies left over from the World War.

Seeking Plan.

Many organizations that backed the national defense act of 1920 are seeking ways and means of preventing a further disintegration of the elaborate structure founded upon the act. General Pershing who evolved the present scheme of a standing army reinforced by a reserve ready for war, is said to be deeply disappointed at present conditions and the immediate outlook.

Comparatively few reserve officers have taken training due to lack of funds. The standing army has been reduced to less than half the figure set by General Pershing. A reserve supply of war equipment and munitions is rapidly being consumed to enable the army and navy to live within their present appropriations.

The policy of the administration is understood to call for a further curtailment of the army and navy with the exception of the air corps. Navy chiefs are busily engaged in figuring out a scheme of keeping the present strength of the navy afloat with a reduced personnel. The war department's announcement of discontinuance of enlistments in Porto Rico is said to be based upon a decision to curtail forces maintained in insular possessions.

Estelle Taylor Can't Believe Jack Lost Title

(International News Service)

LIMA, O., Sept. 24.—"It is consoling to know that Jack finished on his feet, and fought it out to the end," was the comment of Estelle Taylor Dempsey, wife of the former heavyweight champion, when she learned of Dempsey's defeat.

Mrs. Dempsey, enroute to Philadelphia, first learned of the debacle to Dempsey at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Refusing to believe the report as contained in Indiana newspaper extras, she sought confirmation in Lima.

She told newspaper reporters that Dempsey probably would demand a return match with Tunney, and expressed confidence that he would regain his title within a few months if this demand is granted.

"I just can't believe it—it can't be true," was the first comment of the boxer's movie-star wife when she was told that Dempsey had been defeated.

Repair Damage To Railroad Tracks

(International News Service)

CUMBERLAND, Md., Sept. 24.—Workmen of the Bedford division of the Pennsylvania railroad are today repairing the damage done by a cloudburst in the Wells Creek area near here.

Wells creek, which runs through the heart of the city and into the Potomac river, is over its banks.

A washout at Woolfsburg, caused a four-hour delay of a passenger train due here from Altoona, Pa., at 8 o'clock.

Workmen used 45 carloads of material to repair the damage.

Lake Gordon, in Bedford county, Pa., the source of water supply for this city rose two feet over the spillway after the cloudburst.

Pigeon Walks Into College Town Postoffice With Note Reading "Tunney Will Win"

Pigeon Walks Into New Wilmington Postoffice With Mystery Message

Carried "The Dope" on Fight Hours Before Battle Took Place

Fight fans in other parts of Lawrence County had to wait for the fight to determine who was the winner of the Dempsey-Tunney tangle in Philadelphia, Thursday night, but the fans up in New Wilmington had the result early Thursday

The service was by carrier pigeon, which may sound like a sportsman's nightmare to you until you hear the story.

Thursday morning, Postmaster Clinton White noticed a carrier pigeon hop through the door of the post office, apparently tired out from a long fly.

"Tunney Will Win"

Mr. White picked the pigeon up and found the following registration number on its band, "A. J.-26-ARC-21". Under the band was a note which read "Tunney Will Win."

Just where the pigeon came from is a mystery, but the prophecy on its leg band came true. Tunney did win and now the good folks of New Wilmington are wondering who sent the message and who was supposed to receive it.

The pigeon will be kept a day or so until it is rested and will then be released. In the meantime, the people would like to know who owns the pigeon.

Moorehaven, Florida, Practically Wiped Out In Recent Hurricane

Three Hundred Of Town's 1,400 Inhabitants On Death List

Pestilence Stalks Community —All Residents Ordered To Leave

By JOSEPH P. LAUBE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1926 by International News Service)

MOOREHAVEN, Fla., Sept. 24.—Moorehaven's death list will reach 300, although the exact number of deaths will never be known because of the multitude buried beneath floating debris that was swept through this little city of 1,400 when the dikes holding back the treacherous waters of Lake Ockeechobee broke during the recent hurricane.

No attempt will be made to bury the remainder of the dead as the bodies are so decomposed, distinction between white and black cannot be made. Disease and sickness infests the waters floating through the streets. More than 100 bodies have been buried after being embalmed on boxes, counters, and improvised tables in what used to be the post office of the thriving little city. Morticians worked in water waist deep. The remains of those found will be burned.

Death List 300

As one of the rescue workers who waded through waist deep water for hours to help those still living in the former town, I am certain the death list will reach 300, if not more. There were 1,400 inhabitants in Moorehaven, 900 were rescued and about 140 bodies recov-

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 24. — Chester L. Slack, 18, confessed in United States Court that he sent a threatening letter to Rev. The church had been burned a year or so previous to this letter and it also is suspected that Slack had something to do with that. The court will have the boy committed to a detention home until a decision is reached as to what disposition is to be made of his case.

Section Of Ohio Hit By Tornado

SCORE REPORTED SERIOUSLY HURT

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24. — Scores were seriously injured, two perhaps fatally, in separate tornadoes, which whirled buildings to destruction and bowled over everything in their paths near Sandusky and East Liverpool, O., according to word received here today.

Originating near Clyde, the Sandusky storm entered Erie county at the southwest corner and twisted a northeasterly path to Huron, where it passed into Lake Erie.

The East Liverpool storm traveled in the some direction across Columbiana county, leveling one whole residential community and damaging others badly. No loss of life was reported.

First reports that Huron had been almost totally destroyed were disproved when telegraph and telephone service was restored several hours after the storm.

A funnel-shaped cloud, according to eye witnesses, swooped down on a farm house near Clyde and whirled its way through the small villages of Parkertown, Bloominville, Perkins and Bogart's Corners. Roofs of houses and tree branches sailed through the air, but as the tornadoe's path was narrow, damage was confined to a small portion of each village.

Kirker Returns From Philadelphia

Attended Meeting Of State Employment Bureau—Session Also Held At Harrisburg

Walter E. Kirker, state employment agent at the Y. M. C. A. here, returned Thursday from Philadelphia where he attended a meeting of the State Co-Operative Employment Bureau Department.

While in the Quaker City the employment agents inspected the state department of Labor and Industry at the Sesqui-Centennial.

Kirker also had occasion to see the big stadium where Gene Tunney was crowned heavyweight fight champion of the world,

The storm broke about 4:30 p. m. Thursday near the southeast corner of Erie county, sweeping northeastward, thence out into Lake Erie.

DAYLIGHT TIME ENDS SATURDAY

Clocks Will Be Turned Back An Hour On Saturday Night— Eastern Standard Time On Sunday

Saturday will end the era of daylight savings time in New Castle. Clocks will be placed on Eastern Standard Time late Saturday night, and on Sunday this city, as well as all other communities now on daylight savings time will be back on Eastern Standard time.

Because of the fact that clocks must be turned back an hour, in order to meet the Eastern Standard time conditions, suggestion is made that clocks be turned forward for eleven hours, instead of turning them back one hour, as it is not so hard on the mechanism of the clock.

Arthur Mometer

A champion's life is a short sweet trip, a ride down a gilded way, but it's only short for there always comes, the dawn of another day. And a new contender comes on the scene, to strive for the laurel and gold, and the fickle crowd lauds the new made champ, with never a thouhgt for the old. The champion's life is a short sweet ride with roses strewn on the car, but he soon wakes up as his wagon meets the contender's with a jar. But while he is champ, what a life he leads, but after he's done, he's done, and the new made champ starts the same old path, the weather is eighty-one.

The committee has worked to provide a lot of "fun-making" for the ball players other than having them sit through numerous speeches. However several of the officials of the league may be called on to say a few words.

The awarding of the watch fobs and pennants to Ellwood City and Hillsville will be the final number on the program.

Tickets for the banquet are being distributed among the players by the various team managers and they may also be procured at the Sporting Goods store.

Ivory Statue Of Venus Found, Is Many Years Old

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—Professor Josef Bayer, director of the prehistoric department of the State Natural History Museum, has found an ivory statuette of Venus, dating back to the glacial period.

The find was made at Wullendorf in the Wachau (a sequested defile noted for its scenery and legends) on the Danube, where the Professor found a similar figure in limestone in 1908.

The new Venus is carved from the tuck of the lower jaw of a mammoth, whose remains were discovered close by. A massive shisel of jasper was discovered near the spot.

The new statuette, which is about 10 in., is believed to be the largest belonging to the glacial school yet found. It is probably between 20,000 and 25,000 years old, and is in good preservation owing to the protection aforded to it by the deposit of loam and quartz.

The famous Venus de Milo was found by a peasant in the island of Melos, or Milo, in 1820 and sold to the French Government for $1,200.

Youthful Bandits Gag Watchman And Loot Worsted Mill

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24. — Gagged and bound to a desk with strands of copper wire, a 64 year old watchman was threatened with death by two youthful bandits today as the men removed bolts of cloth from the Brighton Worsted Mills here.

The watchman, Charles Robinson, was making his rounds on the first floor of the mill at 3 o'clock this morning when he was seized from behind by the masked intruders and bound to a desk.

The bandits then gathered up valuable bolts of cloth, reminded the watchman they would return shortly and kill him, and made their escape. Robinson finally struggled free and gave the alarm.

Town Talk

The era of big electric signs is coming back on Washington street. Two more immense electric signs are being erected in front of business places today.

Police officers of the city are planning to come forth in fine new overcoats at the beginning of the coming winter season. Negotiations with that object in view are now under way.

And the new coats will be of the nationally used uniform blue cloth and not of whipcord materials, such as the uniforms now in use are made of.

The new overcoats will be made in what is known as the New York police style, which is considered as the latest and most typical type of police uniform overcoat that is used any place.

Workmen are removing the small frame building on the property near the new Scottish Rite cathedral building on Lincoln avenue. It has been used as an office for the contractors in charge of erection of the building during the past two years. The site around the cathedral is now nearly cleared and an imposing view of the immense structure can be secured.

Sentiment of New Castle fight fans was with Tunney, if the reception of the report of the battle during its progress last night, as given by The News, is a criterion. The cheers were loudest when Tunney was apparently besting Dempsey during the battle.

Wet leaves on the streets are making a treacherous condition. Auto drivers and even pedestrians should use more than usual precautions for safety these days.

ered. Where the rest of the inhabitants are is not known, but there is a certainty that most of them are still in the water beneath the kindling wood that was formerly called homes. There is great need for anti-typhoid and anti-tetanus serum as the stench from the dead is almost unbearable.

Order Town Evacuated

Military authorities in charge of the devastated area have ordered everyone out of the former city because of the danger of disease. Although several families have refused to leave. They will be forced out if conditions become worse, according to the commander of the area. No one is permitted to enter Moorehaven without a permit.

Traveling into the devastated area is as though passing through a horrible nightmare. Buzzards cast shadows over the water as they fly through the air looking for food that they see floating in the water or lying on the debris. In many places a large flock in the distance is taken as a signal to the guardsmen to bring a piece of rope or the can of lye. The common method of transporting bodies is by passing a rope underneath the arm pits and towing it, it being impossible to lift them.

Hundreds of cows, snakes, rats, rabbits and barnyard fowls are seen in heaps where they had been carried by the onrush of water during the hurricane.

Funds are greatly needed to send the refugees that are being temporarily housed in Sebring to homes of relatives in the north.

Some people think they are broad-minded when they are simply too ignorant to form an opinion.

Akron Schoolboys In Traffic Jobs

(International News Service)

AKRON, Sept. 24.—The juvenile police force has made good here.

During the past week Chief of Police L. D. Carter has sworn in nearly 400 schoolboys as traffic policemen. His action is the result of a year's trial of the scheme which has resulted in a report that not one child was killed last year near a public school building.

The new "coppers" are all picked "men" who have undergone training and been given a probationary term of duty. They leave their classes a few minutes before recesses and take up their stations at the traffic semaphores.

The youths are trained by a motorcycle sergeant assigned to their command. Great rivalry exists among the boys for heavy posts and the sergeant has yet to receive any report of dereliction of duty.

Only three cases of refusing to obey orders were reported last year. One man slapped a juvenile policeman, spent five days in jail where he could mull over his faux pas. Another "sassed back" and was smeared with a $50 fine by the judge.

English Women Take Up Ancient Archery Sport

(International News Service)

CHELTENHAM, Eng., Sept. 24. —Archery is rapidly growing in favor among women in Britain, although some still object to having to wear a uniform of Lincolnshire green.

Out of 67 special competitors in the first day's shoot of the Southern Counties' Archery Meeting, 50 were women, and the Royal Toxophilite Society has 90 women out of 140 playing members.

With 5 foot bows, the women shoot from distances of 50 to 60 yards at wicker targets in an endeavor to get the "gold" — the archer's equivalent of bull's-eye.

Archery combines skill with physical development. To shoot an arrow from a 26 pound bow requires some strength. The archers stands erect, with the head perfectly poised, so consequently the whole movement of shooting the bow is very good for a woman's figure.

as communication within the stricken sone was cut off.

Eye-witnesses declare that the storm was actually a series of three small tornadoes, following parallel courses. The route taken was virtually the same as that of the cyclone in 1924 which caused approximately 75 deaths and leveled Lorain.

Yesterday's storm broke just as country schools were adjourning. Near Huron one school teacher, seeing the ominous clouds approaching, quickly herded her students to a point of safety a few seconds before the building was demolished.

Hundreds of trees were uprooted, roofs damaged and windows shattered when the tornado passed over Bowling Green, causing about $2,000 damage.

Gilda Gray Does The Shimmy In Her Latest Film

Gilda Gray, famous shimmy dancer, danced her way into the hearts of New Castle movie fans at the Penn Theatre last night at the opening show of "Aloma of the South Seas".

"'Aloma of the South Seas' was the perfect part for her, just as she was the obvious star for this story of a native girl who loved a white man. Palm trees swayed. Sun and beach sparkled in tropical sunshine and Gilda shimmied.

"Gilda Gray can dance with a heart as light as her feet for the next few months. 'Aloma of the South Seas' is just the kind of picture in which thousands will want to see this famous exponent of the shimmy."

The comical Lloyd Hamilton in "Here Comes Charlie" is the fun making picture and it is a good one.

The Penn orchestra, the Penn organ and the Penn Kinograms complete this fine program.

THE CAPITALISTIC LABORITE AMERICAN

THE capitalistic labor class which James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, predicts for the future of the United States is already more than well started. Mr. Davis's paper was read before the Congress of American Industry in this city by Theodore G. Risely, Solicitor of the Department, because the author himself could not be present. The forecast is grounded on something more substantial than statistical inferences. While stock ownership by employes has been cited among other conditions to prove that the wage-earning class earner has increased his own share in the financial power of the country, the truth may also be buttressed from another angle.

The ultimate source of wealth is land. Until the war many families in moderate circumstances were content to be renters. The ensuing real estate inflation compelled them to buy homes for their own safety. It was an unpleasant experience that many would rather have foregone. But after it was consummated they discovered a sense of security they had not previously known. In the redistribution of land in small parcels among a multitude of holders an agrarian revolution took place. Never before was direct control of the land so widely dispersed as is now the case in this country. We have, therefore, a landed class on a scale hitherto inconceivable.

This achievement was possible because the social organization of the Nation provides that poverty is not inevitably hereditary. Abroad, where caste systems prevail, the accident of birth confines a person as well as his descendants to the stratum of his ancestry. Here the case is different. The American may rise to the level of his natural endowments, the material endowments often being of secondary importance. In other words, the capitalistic laborite is an actuality here because there is no biological interference with his creation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

SLEEP DEFIES RULES

EDISON, apostle of work and advocate with Roosevelt and others of the strenuous life, admits that he has been compelled to slow down in his daily grind. For years he spent eighteen and twenty hours a day in his labortatory, sleeping only four hours.

The need for sleep varies with the individual. Babies sleep most of the day and night, and children can use nine or ten hours profitably. Some adults find six hours sufficient while others insist they require ten. A few experiments would determine the need in each case, and also prove that there is such a thing as too much sleep. The eight-hour rule is an instance of standardization which is not altogether satisfactory, but it is a safe one to follow.

Mr. Edison is more fortunate as a worker than as a teacher. Those who tried to follow his injunction to limit sleep, soon found it an expensive practice. The body and brain need relaxation and rebel if adequate opportunity to recharge themselves with energy is denied.

The mornings are getting to be rather sausage and pancaky.

Oh, Mr. Dempsey!

Wonder what the governor of the great state of Pennsylvania thought of the first heavyweight fight ever pulled off in this state and in his presence?

We were actually surprised at the number and kind of people who were interested in the fight. We did not see one, no matter what his opinions are, who did not want to know who had won.

Irving Fisher a professor of economics at Yale University figures out that the Volstead act has reduced drinking 90 per cent and quotes his own statistics to prove it. A prominet business men told us yesterday that while he was out near Mt. Jackson a few days ago he noticed a man painting sings for the Pennsylvania State Highway department. Last night in Philadelphia Pennsylvanians beheld the governor of this great state at a brutal prize fight. This was also the first heavyweight bout in this state. We are wondering what the good people of this state think of this after boosting the governor and upholding him in his great reforms. He even seemed to gloat over his going to the fuss. Maybe the good people who have supported him all along will think it is all right if he goes to prize fights and aides and abets them. Governor Smith of New York was not there.

WE GET A COMEBACK

A few days ago, in our ignorance, we made some reference to the value of dead languages, and it seems we were wrong. Our good friend, City Solicitor Robert M. White, wrote us the following letter and we also reproduce the argument he makes:

September 18, 1926.

Mr. Hints and Dints,
New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Fred:—I have had great content in observing for some months back your valiant defense of the public schools and in realizing that you were a true friend of higher education, so that tonight as I read, as usual, your inimitable column, it was with a certain degree of sadness that I came upon the paragraph questioning the practical benefits of Latin, Greek, Algebra and the other humanities.

I think you remember the Honorable Thomas R. Marshall. He was one time Vice President of these United States; of course you would not be expected to remember him for that; but several years ago he spoke in the high school here, and I am sure you recollect his visit. He has written a very entertaining book of Recollections; I wish you might read it all, for I know you would appreciate the fine wit of its pages and enjoy the intimate way in which he relates his contacts with some of his great contemporaries.

On pages 82 to 84 of that book he gives a very apt answer to the very question you have raised. I have taken the time to copy these pages and enclose them with the request that you give them the necessary time to read them. I am a little bit fearful that today too much stress is placed upon purely practical education and that old and young are neglecting those ancient elements of education that founded the destinies of Washington, Webster, Lincoln and the other great Americans upon whom we rely so much today for our liberties.

Perhaps many boys and girls today view your success with some admiration and are inclined to make your word as to what things make for success; and I do wish

Roosevelt's Warning.
Happy Young Couple.
Fighting the Devil.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

Theodore Roosevelt in his speech on Tuesday formulated a useful warning against intemperate measures to combat acknowledged evils.

A few rich men spent large sums at the primaries. It is suggested that the system of primary election be abolished. That would put complete power of nomination once more in the hands of crooked bosses. As well suggest return to monarchy or autocracy because government by the people does not always work smoothly.

* * *

To cure the evil of intemperance, says Mr. Roosevelt, "we jammed through by caucus, by propaganda, by every method known politically," a prohibition law that has produced bootlegging crime, drinking of whisky by high school boys and girls far more harmful than the condition we sought to remedy.

* * *

It is the old fable of the tame bear determined to kill a fly on the head of its sleeping master. The bear selected a large rock and did kill the fly. He also crushed his master's skull.

The Belgian crown prince will marry Princess Astrid, niece of King Gustavus of Sweden. It is a royal love match and "the princess can cook." The Belgian crown prince, 24 years old, is "democratic and likes a glass of the popular Belgian beer, taken at a cafe table."

* * *

Most idyllic, but how long will royalty and royal jobs last? If the czar could come out of the hole in which his body was thrust he would see hundreds of thousands visiting the Lenin shrine, where the body of the Russian "saint," embalmed and natural as in life, lies face exposed.

* * *

Only yesterday agents of that czar put Lenin's brother to death. The hour glass of history was turned upside down and Lenin put the czar and his whole family to death.

There are many businesses safer than the royalty business.

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, a lady preacher of Los Angeles, went off on a little trip and came back to announce her kidnaping and captivity in the desert. The district attorney says she was not kidnaped, "just went," so she will be tried, for deceiving justice—as though a high strung lady must tell the world about all her little trips.

* * *

Is the lady evangelist downhearted? No. She and her friends organize a "fight the devil fund" of $100,000 to prove that her story is truthful.

* * *

That catching title, "Fight the devil fund," must interest old satan, if he really does exist, with his spiked tail, horns and cow hoofs. In these bootlegging days, it would take a big fund to fight the devil on a really big scale.

THE CYNIC CHANGES HIS MIND

Life couldn't please him, try how-e'er it would.
Nothing on earth which he could find was good.
All men were fools. All pleasures commonplace.
God's greatest blunder was the human race.

Then came the day this pessimist fell ill.
He called the doctor, as a sick man will.
The grave physician looked him o'er and said:
"Cheer-up, old man! you'll very soon be dead."

"What's that?" the cynic muttered, with a sigh.
"Can you not save me? Am I doomed to die?"
"Doomed," said the doctor, "from this vale of woe.
This world of fools, tonight I think you'll go.

"I could perhaps restore your strength and save
Your pain-racked body from the peaceful grave,
But I refrain. My cures I will not try.
From all you've said I'm sure you want to die."

"Doctor," the cynic mumbled, "use the knife!
Do anything you will, but save my life.
Oft have I cursed the world, but 'twas a lie!
I've changed my mind. I'd rather live than die!"

In Day's News

Miles Lampson, whose appointment as British Ambassador to China is announced from London, is comparatively a young man to be honored with selection for the Peking post, which is regarded as one of the most important in the diplomatic service. He has had wide experience in British diplomacy, however, and has the further advantage of a personal acquaintance with affairs in the Far East. Mr. Lampson was born 46 years ago and was educated at Eton. Soon after completing his studies he entered upon his career as a clerk in the Foreign Office. In 1906 he accompanied the British mission sent to Japan, headed by Prince Arthur of Connaught, to confer the Order of the Garter upon the Japanese Emperor. In 1908 he returned to Tokio and remained there two years as an attache of the British embassy. Mr. Lampson later become head of the Far Eastern section of the British Foreign Office.

HINDRANCES TO TRAVEL

It ought to be commonly accepted that travel is good for a citizen and also good for the country in which he lives. A traveled man usually is a better citizen. He has a chance to observe the customs of foreign countries and it usually strengthens him in the love of his own and makes him more tolerant in his opinions about other nations.

For some unknown reason every country erects obstacles to travel; not only the United States, with its peculiar immigration policy maintained at Ellis Island, but other countries as well.

Recently a number of English visitors to Canada landed in New York harbor and were held up at Ellis Island. According to their story they were subjected to indignities. These indignities the officials of the Island denied, but the fact remains that they were annoyed.

Some time ago Signor Parodi, an Italian traveler of independent means brought his own motor car for a tour of England. When he arrived at Newhaven he was held up for six hours and finally sent back to Europe. Appealing to English friends he once again journeyed to Newhaven, where he was again detained, but was finally released.

If you take passage on an ocean steamer they ask your nativity, your age, and all sorts of things. What difference does it make where a man was born if he wants to travel, or what difference does it make how old he is?

Political unity and the abatement of nationalism, or rather chauvinism, will come when travelers from one country are welcomed into another instead of impeded by all sorts of regulations.

The travelers into France, Italy and other countries in Europe from the United States do nothing but bring money and spend it. They are a benefit to the countries and not a hindrance and they should be encouraged and not embarrassed.

Bible Thought For Today

THE CHRISTIAN'S MISSION:—Preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give. Matthew 10:7, 8.

Isn't It a Fact?

That many a pink complexion hides a blue girl green with envy?

That staying up all night may make you as wise as an owl, but that owls have no sense during the day?

That people who don't look before they leap usually land in disgust?

That even sharp eyes won't scratch a keyhole?

That one drawback to living at home is you can't throw your cigar ashes on the floor in the lobby?

That most radio in the summer sounds as if dishpans were being broadcast?

THE FARMER'S TARIFF.

All of the unsuccessful farmers and some of the successful ones, together with their friends, have accused Congress and the advisors of Congressmen, that Congress legislates for the benefit of everybody but the Farmer. Particularly, has the Farmer insisted that the tariff didn't interest him in the least, that it only caused him to spend more money for things necessary in his life.

The American Farmer is as fully well protected as the American Manufacturer, against the produce of the whole earth. The following is a table showing what he gets out of the American Tariff:

It must be remembered also that all of the implements required for the doing of farm work are on the free list. Not that the Farmer is not particularly interested in the quality of the implements manufactured abroad. The American Farm Machinery is the most efficient of the world, but if the American Farmer wants to buy foreign farming tools, he can do so without paying any duty.

One Year Ago

San Francisco welcomed Commander John Rodgers and his crew on their return from the attempted non-stop flight to Hawaii.

Somewhat Skittish.

A girl and her bashful lover sat on the beach. The full moon silver-plated the waters of the lake. The night was full of romance.

The girl let her hair touch her lover's face. No results. She rested her head on his shoulders. Still no results. Then she asked, "Why don't you kiss me?"

"I can't he said, "some sand got into my mouth."

"Swallow it, boy, swallow it!" she said. "If any one ever needed sand, you're the guy."

The League of Women voters calmly announces that women's influence has cleaned up politics. This is very interesting but not necessarily conclusive. Even to the untrained eye there seems to be a few corners that might be touched up a little.

The bonds of matrimony are still holy but a lot of chaps will tell you they are still bonds.

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"A Balad of Trees and the Master,"

By Sidney Lanier.

Lanier was a Southern poet of much distinction. In some of his long, swinging, Spencerian measures he is amazingly effective; yet I think I like him even better in the simple, yet profound mood of a short poem like this.

Into the woods my Master went,
Clean forspent, clean forspent.
Into the woods my Master came,
Forspent with love and shame.
But the olives they were not blind to Him;
The little gray leaves were kind to Him;
The thorn-tree had a mind to Him
When into the woods He came.

Out of the woods my Master went,
And He was well content.
Out of the woods my Master came,
Content with death and shame.
When Death and Shame would woo Him last,
From under the trees they drew Him last,
'Twas on a tree they slew Him—last,
When out of the woods He came.

Bursts Of Speed Not Recommended

Intelligent Driving Is Urged By National Automobile Association

SUGGESTIONS ARE MADE FOR TRAVEL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24.—Intelligent driving rather than occasional spurts at high speed is recommended by the American Automobile Association as a time-saver for long distance motoring.

Speed alone will not aid the motorist to reach his destination in the shortest time, a statement issued from A. A. A. headquarters here asserts.

The automobilist who makes long distances with ease is the one who anticipates the turns and the stops ahead of him, it is pointed out by Thos. P. Henry, president of the A. A. A., whose transcontinental trip with Ernest N. Smith, general manager, in 96 hours, still is fresh in the memory of motorists throughout the country. Mr. Henry contends that the intelligent driver makes time where the short-sighted bungler is merely waiting for a long stretch of perfect road where he can step hard on the gas. The A. A. A. president believes it is not even necessary to have an exceptionally fast car to get from city to city in the best time.

The American Automobile Association has drafted some definite suggestions which, if followed carefully, should enable the motorist to make long distance in far better time and entail fewer risks than when he depends on speed alone.

"First know where you're going," the A. A. A. advises. "It is quite surprising the number of tourists who travel blindly, depending for guidance upon misinformation handed out to them en route.

"Know ferry schedules so as to be able to make quick connections. Passing one or two cars at an advantageous point often means saving a long wait by the river's edge.

"Learn the importance of quick acceleration and make every effort to keep the engine in such condition that it will help you to save time when starting off from crossings, after having rounded curves and when passing other cars.

"Learn how to make a quick shift into second gear so as to save the brakes when descending hills and to forestall the possibility of having to wait at the bottom of the hill until the brakes cool off.

"Climb more hills in second gear. A great many cars are now built with second gears which enable the driver to climb steep grades easily at twenty-five miles an hour or more as against a struggle at twenty to twenty-five in high gear.

"Drive at an even pace and avoid stopping. A few unnecessary stops cut the speed average considerably.

"Remember that at high speed the chances of tire or engine trouble always are greater.

"Get behind a good driver who is making good time in safety. He is a good man to follow.

"Buy your supplies before you start. It saves slowing down to look for filling stations that serve your favorite gas.

"Before passing through an unfamiliar city it is better to stop and ask if there is a route that avoids traffic. It's the one stop on any tour that may save considerable time.

"Learn to watch the speedometer more. Don't set out with the idea of only seeing the fifties and sixties come up on the dial, but see how often you are driving a little below thirty or thirty-five when you could just as well be going at exactly these speeds.

"Take no chances of any kind. It takes time even to lecture someone who has scratched a fender."

NUNN MAKING FINE SHOWING IN GOLF PLAY

Survived Eliminations And In Semi-Finals At Cambridge Springs —Plays Today

Word was received here today that W. M. Nunn, golf champion of the New Castle Field Club, is making a spirited bid for the Northwestern Golf Championship in the tournament which is now being held at Cambridge Springs.

Nunn has survived the eliminations and this morning competed in the semi-finals. He is scheduled to play in the finals this afternoon if he emerges victorious.

Nunn in reaching the semi-finals displayed unusual ability on the golf links inasmuch as he was in competition with the best golfers of this section of the state. Nunn won his first match 4 and 3 from Roscoe Rider of Cambridge and beat Parsons in a second match. He is billed to play Long of Pittsburgh today, one of the Smoky City's crack golfers.

Fifteen men from New Castle were in the tournament but all except Nunn have been eliminated. Golf fans here wait with interest as to the outcome of the final event.

Prisoner Asks For Death Penalty But Gets Ninety Days

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—Ralph Asbury began his 90 day sentence in the workhouse today although he asked Magistrate John Orie in the Penn Avenue police court yesterday where he was arraigned on the charge of having threatened to shoot Bessie Fulton, 18, and her mother of Spring Way, a suburb, that he be sentenced to death.

Asbury, when informed that capital punishment is not provided for a threat, asked the court that he be given the heaviest penalty possible.

Ninety days and a $100 fine was his punishment.

STATE COLLEGE MAN GIVES TALK HERE ON POTATO

Dr. E. L. Nixon, plant pathologist from the Pennsylvania State College gave a most interesting talk on potato problems at the Potato Field Meeting held yesterday afternoon at the David Byler farm on the Mt. Jackson road.

Mr. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce also attended the meeting and gave a short talk. Chilton expressed the desire of New Castle, the business men, and the Chamber of Commerce in co-operating with the agricultural interests for community development throughout the county.

Souvenir Grenades Blow Up Part Of Town

(International News Service)

BELEZNA, Hungary, Sept. 24.—A section of this small town has been destroyed and a boy killed by the explosion of several souvenir hand-grenades in the house of a retired army officer. The grenades were brought home by Lajos Fischer as war trophies and have since hung on the walls of his house.

Two of the grenades fell from the wall and exploded causing a number of other shells and grenades to explode also. Fischer's six-year old son was killed and his house entirely destroyed. Several other houses were wrecked and a number of people slightly injured.

California Women Declare Equality

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Men and women meet on a common ground in business circles of the West; but in the East women are handicapped by tradition.

Miss Z. Clements of San Francisco, who presided at the recent convention of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club in Hollywood, is authority for the statement.

"In the East women in business are fighting conservative tradition", Miss Clements declared, "but in the West it is different. When Horace Greeley sent the young man westward; the young woman went right along with him, and the further west you go the better the chances for progress by women."

"We have the most capable women in the world right here in California", the club president said, "and in the business world here there is no such thing as sex—no men or women—just 'people'—putting over affairs through sheer force of ability."

Approximately 90 per cent of the organization's membership of 6,000 women has bobbed hair.

If business men talked as they spelled there would be a serious interpreter shortage.

Healer Stirs Throng As She Cures Ill

About 25 Persons Throw Away Canes And Crutches At Meeting

ROCK HILL, S. C., Sept. 24.—Miraculous cures of the sick, blind, deaf, lame and other afflicted is claimed for Mrs. Willie Laurel Olive, "Four-Square Gospel" evangelist, by her followers and people who say they have benefitted by the powers.

About twenty-five persons from within a radius of 100 miles have declared themselves cured after taking her "faith" prescription. Some who went to the platform on crutches or with the aid of canes threw them away and walked off with shouts of thanksgiving and hallelujahs.

Hundreds had gathered, some of them through curiosity and some through faith, to witness the miracles. Mrs. Olive, however, says she is not the healer, but only "an instrument in His hands, to direct, through prayer, into the channel of blessings."

The service, which had been widely heralded, was a simple ritual. The afflicted filed to the platform. Their heads were annointed from a phial of olive oil. They were put through an examination to determine their infirmities, and deep prayer was offered for each individual. The changes stirred the throng.

One man came from Concord, N. C., from whence Mrs. Olive came. He was blind. He had been unable to benefit from the "Divine Healing," he said. First prayer was offered for his cure one week ago. He followed Mrs. Olive here. He now says he can see.

Hollywood Supplies European Actors

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 24.—Turn about is fair play. Now that the Hollywood companies have imported most of the famous European actors and directors, the European film concerns are scouting for material right in Hollywood.

Emmett Flynn, well-known director, has been commissioned by leading film producers of Europe to survey the cinema capital for possible "finds" to be starred in productions made abroad.

While the Europeans feel they cannot compete with American producers for the stars, because of tightened budgets in Europe, the foreign executives believe that many real "finds" are being overlooked in the abundance of talent in Hollywood.

Smith En Route To United States

James Smith, president of the Shenango Pottery company, who has been making an extended tour of Europe with his family, sailed Wednesday on the Olympic from Cherbourg, France, and is scheduled to arrive in New York City Tuesday, September 28. It is anticipated that he and his family will arrive in the city on or about September 30.

Ancient Fossil Found In Canada

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—What might be described as a 20 million years' old "tank" is now being exhibited at the Natural History museum, South Kensington.

It is an armored dinosaur, collected in 1915 by the late William E. Cutler, and was found in sandstone cliffs at Red River, Alberta, Canada, whence many dinosaurs have been obtained for United States and Canadian museums. This sandstone is in the Belly River series and authorities would date it from 20 to 30 million years back.

The fossil is 15 feet long and 6 feet broad and weighs after removal of all unnecessary rock, 2,000 pounds. The reptile was preserved, because when it died it was rapidly entombed by blown sand, and consequently remained excellently preserved, especially as regards the skin.

The armored dinosaurs or stegosaurix are characterized by their defensive armor, which, in the family to which this fossil belongs, takes the form of bony plates in the skin. These plates are usually found isolated, and preservation as in this case is extremely rare.

Biggest Hydroplane Is Tested In France

(International News Service)

SAINT NAZAIRE, France, Sept. 24.—The world's largest, heaviest, most powerful hydroplane believed to be a forerunner of Trans-Atlantic commercial planes, has just been successfully tested here.

The giant plane, of the monoplane type, has a wing spread of 130 feet, weighs twelve and a half tons, can carry twenty passengers and several tons of baggage and is propelled by five 420 horsepower motors.

One motor is installed in the nose of the plane and can be completely demounted and reassembled during flight. The other four motors are twenty-five feet high with passage ways permitting mechanics free access to the motors for repair work and supervision.

The fuselage is divided into three stories. Two pilots and a navigator occupy the top platform. The middle compartment is reserved for the mechanics, with access to all five motors. Wireless instruments with a broadcasting range of 1500 miles are also installed there, as well as the control of a special firefighting apparatus by which a special liquid can be sprayed automatically upon all important parts of the plane where fire is likely to break out.

Fuel tanks are installed in the wings, as far away from the fuselage as possible, reducing the danger of explosion or fire.

The plane is the result of five years of experimentation by the Penhoet works. On a recent test flight the plane carried five tons of ballast, rose gracefully and easily from the water and carried out a thirty minute flight in inclement weather.

Strong Program For Convention

Call Is Issued For State S. S. Convention At Reading, Pa.

LOCAL WORKERS ARE INTERESTED

The programs for the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association convention which is to be held at Reading October 13, 14 and 15, has been mailed to a number of the Sabbath school leaders of the county and those planning to attend from Lawrence county will be pleased to know that the program is an especially strong one with speakers of unusual ability and experience in constructive Sabbath school methods.

The following is the "convention call":

To All Sunday School Workers in Pennsylvania, Greetings:

Only as the principles of Christianity are inceasingly applied in all the activities of life can we save our nation and the world!

Only by the educational method can the principles of Christianity become increasingly known and applied!

Only by an increasingly better trained leadership can the educational method be employed with any hope of success!

Only as we meet in convention, conference and institute, can we see, hear and learn from the leaders the need, the remedy, the method and be inspired to do our part!

Only once a year are pastors, superintendents, teachers and workers asked to gather in state-wide convention in Pennsylvania!

Only in proportion to the readiness and unanimity of the response from every county and community can the result be achieved!

Only at Reading October 13-14-15 will this opportunity come this year! Only those who hope for enlarged vision, increased knowledge and intensified purpose will want to come!

Only about 2,500 can be cared for, but these will be they who shall change habit, build character, determine destiny!

This is a call to you to be one of this leadership group! Your answer will determine definitely your future part in the coming kingdom! We shall expect you!

(Signed) PERCY L. CRAIG,
President.
JAMES A, LANSING,
Chairman of Board.

TOD'S FLORIDA HOME WRECKED

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 24.—The $150,000 home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tod at Miami Beach was practically ruined by the Florida storm.

A message received today from Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mansfield of Montclair, N. J., cousins of Mrs. Tod who have been spending the summer there tells of the wreckage.

All the doors and windows are gone and the first floor is entirely wrecked. The high tide comes into the living room. The roof leaks like a sieve.

Mansfield says members of the family are safe.

Mrs. Tod said today the home is partially covered by insurance.

Thousands Hear Fight Returns At News Office; Mercer Street Is Packed

Philadelphia may have had 130,000 fight fans in the Sesqui-Centennial stadium last night to see "Leatherneck" Gene Tunney administer a tasty bit of a licking to Jack Dempsey, but New Castle had its fight crowd also.

Five thousand would probably be a good guess of the crowd which packed Mercer street from the postoffice to below Sycamore way to get the blow by blow account of the big battle in the Quaker City.

Certainly Were Packed In.

Brother, they certainly were packed in, in front of the News building. New Castle folks expect up to the minute service from the News and as usual they got it. The News had a leased wire in at the ringside of the fight and as each blow was struck it came through on the telegraph wire. And as it was coming in Charles P. "Bugs" Walther assistant sporting editor of the News broadcasted it to the crowd.

For the broadcasting service the News had a special installation of amplifiers installed by James Moorhead and the M. and D. Radio shop and Ted Woodrow expert radio mechanician of the same company was on hand to see that everything was right. In the telegraph room E. W. Grasser, mechanician of the Bell Telephone company was on hand ready to repair any break in the wire service machinery.

Out in the city room a battery of reporters was kept busy answering several thousand telephone calls and taking the evening as a whole the News had eight men busy just to provide the fans of New Castle with the service they deserve.

Mercer street was a picture. Caring little for the inclement weather the five thousand or more packed themselves in and while some of them got jostled in the mob there was nobody out of sorts. They were down town to hear the fight and they were not disappointed.

At the close of the fight it was a job to get down to Washington street. The crowd moved out enmasse and for a few minutes pedestrians had to take their chances of getting to the main artery of the city. They were litterally carried along with the crowd.

It was one of the largest, perhaps the largest crowd that ever shoehorned itself into Mercer street to get the returns of a sporting event and the appreciation of the News service was most apparent.

The News wishes to go on record now by promising that the same sort of service given in the fight last night will be duplicated in the World's series augmented by the player board which will reproduce every play.

The New Castle News believes it is obligated to give the people of New Castle the very best service possible and this will be done by telegraph, by radio, by player board and by annunciator system, the most modern it is possible to secure.

Plans Three Days Of World Praying

TAMARACK, Minn., Sept. 24.—Vernon Ewing, backwoods "miracle man," has announced the completion of plans for a "world's prayer" starting Friday, October 1, at 6 p. m., and lasting for three days.

Ewing, on June 1, conducted a "silent prayer" in a popular grove near here, which failed to produce the miracle he anticipated.

Clergymen who opposed the "silent prayer" last spring have indorsed the proposed "world prayer" Mr. Ewing an itinerant fitter of eye glasses, said.

"The first session of the world prayer will be silent and wordless and those participating will fall silent wherever they happen to be at 6 p. m.," Ewing declared in an interview with International News Service. "They will yield and submit their bodies and souls to God for one hour. Worshippers in New York and Washington will fall silent about one hour before the people who pray in Chicago, and thus the prayer will travel completely around the world.

"At 6 p. m., the following day the people who participated in the silent prayer will pray fervently for 15 minutes or so aloud or silently depending upon the choice of worshippers.

"Commencing at 6 p. m., Sunday October 1, the third and last prayer session, in which worshippers will pray for one hour, will begin to circle the earth. Either silent or audible prayers may be offered up."

Those who pray will ask "the cleansing of sinners and the healing of the afflicted," Ewing said.

Shenandoah Builder Believes England To Be Real Air Leaders

By BEN STERN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—America will soon be outstripped by European nations in the race for the mastery of the air. England is forging rapidly to the front in this respect and will soon be leading the world.

This is the belief of Captain Otto Heinen, famous German Zeppelin commander and supervising constructor of the 'ill fated dirigible Shenandoah, which crashed a year ago in a storm in the foothills south of Cambridge, O.

In an effort to awaken American business men to the need for nation-wide cooperation in pushing America to the front in the aeronautic field Captain Heinen is visiting many of the principal cities of the nation and adressing luncheons and booster clubs.

In proof of his statement that this nation is lagging behind, the Zeppelin expert said that Germany is now beginning to construct rigid airships and that England now has under construction two 5,000,000 cubic foot airships of the Shenandoah type.

In spite of several recent accidents air transportation is the safest mode of travel known to man today, he believes. Since his release from Navy connections Captain Heinen has set out to put his own beliefs to a practical test. He is the founder of the recently organized Aero corporation of America, a New Jersey corporation, organized to furnish daily airship transportation between Atlantic City and New York City and Philadelphia.

He announced that the corporation would contract for construction a dirigible of 65,000 cubic feet dimensions, capable of carrying 45 passengers and a crew.

"In a few years, if the American businessman and man on the street awaken to the possibilities," he said, "fleets of passenger-carrying airships of all classes will be winging across the continent in regular air lanes, much as it is being done in Europe today.

Insect-Killing Birds Increasing In Number

But For Them There Would Be No Grass For Cattle And No Food Crops

According to William L. Finley, president of the Oregon Audubon society and formerly state game warden, there has been a noticeable increase in the number of song and insectivorous birds in the United States, due to the federal law which now protects all valuable insectivorous birds, and a wakened sense of responsibility all over the country relative to these necessary adjuncts of life itself.

Few people stop to realize the economic importance of some very insignificant birds. Few realize that were all the birds exterminated, it would be only seven or eight years before humanity and all life itself would follow them. Insects would eat every green and growing thing. There would be no forests. There would be no grass to support cattle. There would be no crops.

So astoundingly prolific are the insects that, were they not checked, such a condition of affairs would speedily come about. The boll weevil, for instance, is capable of leaving over 12,000,000 descendants in one season, provided all goes well with the little family! Others are quite as productive of progeny.

At present the insects get about 20 per cent of the farmer's dollar. As the valuable bird population rises, the rate of insect loss will decrease.

So much had the bird life of the country been depleted a few years ago that there was serious doubt whether there were sufficient birds left to maintain the balance in nature which provides for the ascendancy of bird over harmful insect life. There is not any too wide margin now.—Birmingham News.

St. Louis To Spend $76,000,000 To Get New Rapid Transit

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.—A rapid transit system which would cost in the neighborhood of $76,000,000 the major part of which to be defrayed by the general public through a bond issue, is contemplated here as a means of relieving St. Louis of its congested traffic condition in the downtown area.

The plan which will be completed next month and submitted to the special aldermanic committee on rapid transit by E. R. Kinsey, president of the board of public service, would provide for an underground street car system throughout the downtown section and extension to these lines to six points in the city's midsection by either elevated lines or subways.

Whether the extensions would be above or below the surface would depend on the comparative costs and other conditions at the time the underground street car system is complete.

The first step in the plan—the underground system in the downtown area—would take about five years to complete after it was authorized and would cost approximately $40,000,000. It is the plan of those studying the project to get the first step completed as soon as possible to make way for the extensions to the midsection, which it is estimated would cost about $36,000,000.

Later they plan to make the system complete by giving such service through Greater St. Louis by extensions to the suburbs.

The cost of the system would be split three ways—among the street car riders, the benefited property owners and the general public.

The street car riders would pay their share of the cost by a slight increase in fares, not more than one-half cent over the present rate, which is seven cents. Assessments would be made against the benefited property owners and a bond issue to be subscribed by the general public probably would be proposed to take care of the major portion of the cost.

A year had been required to complete the survey, for which the city appropriated $25,000.

Man Kills Self Rather Than Face His Imprisonment

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 24.—To prevent his arrest, Joseph Champagne, alias Barnes, 25, of Cleveland, O., was dead Thursday by his own hand.

Champagne, in an automobile, was being pursued by police through Lancaster streets here yesterday. As police neared him he sent a bullet through his head. He died instantly as his speeding automobile mounted a street curb and stopped.

The man was wanted on a charge of seducing minors, police said. For the past two weeks he had been in Lancaster with his wife, a local woman, and his small child.

Despondency was responsible for the suicide of her husband, the widow said Thursday.

Ohio Bus Lines Get Deluxe Cars

(International News Service)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Sept. 24.—Deluxe motor busses, with unbreakable glass enclosed observation platform, tiny electrically equipped pantry, washroom, and cozy chairs of the chair-car type, will become a part of the travellers life, according to Earl R. Lewis, local attorney and president of the Ohio Bus Association.

Some of the machines, capable of carrying 20 passengers are already being tried out, Lewis said, and they are to be improved for long distance traveling.

The glass enclosed observation platforms will become a feature, Lewis predicted. The roof over the platform will also be made of the unbreakable glass so that passengers will be able to see mountain scenery, where the busses will be used for touring canyons.

Larger windows also of the same material are seen by Lewis. "Curtains, coming together in the middle will keep out the sunlight, or may be thrown wide open to afford the tourists an unobstructed view," he said.

Sin In Politics Under Fire By Ohio Crusaders

Drive Against Crime Is Organized To Purge State Of Lawlessness

Political Protectors To Get No Mercy From Fighters In Two Probes

By PAUL E. BROKAW
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O. Sept. 24.—Two units of that organized crime concern known as the underworld are now facing the exterminating fire of crusaders in Ohio.

In Canton, where Don R. Mellett, vice-fighting publisher went down to his death while making an expose of conditions, a well-organized drive against crime and its political protectors is underway.

In Steubenville, an industrial center of about 30,000 population, a ministerial association is carrying on a determined fight to purge that thriving little city of crime.

Both investigations are being aimed at alleged political sinners.

Steubenville and Canton, both known for years in the Buckeye state as two small, yet highly important links, in that chain of crime which connects the east with the middle west, have long been 'white elephants' on the hands of law enforcement officers.

In Steubenville

Steubenville, in the past years, has been the scene of many bloody encounters between federal and state officers and bootleggers.

A few years ago a bitter Klan and anti-Klan spirit expressed itself in the form of murderous bullets during a Ku Klux Klan parade and several were killed.

Canton officials admit they have had more than their share of unsolved murders.

The vice-fighters in both cities have succeeded in ousting their police chiefs.

Seranus A. Lengel, former head of the Canton police, and Blaine D. Carter, erstwhile chief of the Steubenville force, have been relieved of their official titles.

Lengel is staging a fierce legal battle for reinstatement.

Carter is reported to have left Steubenville.

Mayor John S. H. Patton of Steubenville, has also had his official crown lifted.

Several Canton policemen have been fired, as well as two members of the civil service commission.

Threats of Death

Threats of death have indirectly reached the ears of Attorney W. R. Alban, counsel for the Steubenville ministers, and Charles E. Morris, publisher of the Canton Daily News, who filled the vacancy caused by the murder of Mellett.

Both men have emphatically declared that they will "carry on" until "righteousness reigns again."

Since the murder of Mellett and the activity of the Steubenville ministers, several anti-vice drives have cropped out in other Ohio cities and in surrounding states.

Federal investigators working under the direction of U. S. Attorney A. E. Bernsteen, with headquarters here, are believed to be amassing evidence against a whiskey and narcotic smuggling branch of the organized chain in Pittsburgh, Toledo, Detroit and Chicago.

War Pictures Now Are Order Of Day

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—War pictures are the order of the day in Hollywood. In practically every one of the larger studios the war motif is found in feature productions now under way. The pictures do not necessarily deal with the World War, but each has a historical conflict as its underlying theme.

Paramount alone has five big war pictures in production, including Pola Negri's "Hotel Imperial", work upon which prevented the beautiful Polish actress from rushing to the bed of Rudolph Valentino when word first came of his serious illness in New York.

B. P. Schulberg, associate producer in executive control of Famous Players-Lasky west coast studios, explained the popularity of the war theme.

"The great purpose behind motion picture production", Schulberg declared, "is the presentation of life's great drama on the screen. The greater the drama, the greater the appeal to the public. And the greatest drama of all human history is war."

Troubles never come singly. This proves troubles are pikers.

Rum Runners Use Tacks And Smoke To Foil Police

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Sept. 24.—A deadly smoke screen together with a barrage of tacks has been laid down by rum runners here speeding through the night with their cargoes of liquor.

This new method of warfare has rendered the runner very difficult of capture and police declare it is a "menace." Two automobiles equipped with such smoke screen contrivance have been captured in one week but only after the runners lost control of their cars and collided with the officers.

The "menace" to police comes in when after the chase is fairly started the runner throws out his smoke screen and lets go his cargo of tacks rendering the chasing policeman soon incapable of further pursuit. There is considerable chagrin among the police too because at this time there is no law preventing use of smoke screens here.

The only charge on which the driver using a smoke screen could be held if captured is speeding or unless his car is found to contain liquor.

The cars examined after they were wrecked were found equipped to burn iodine and ammonia and ether. In any case an impenetrable wall of black smoke covers the road and the speeding police car must either come to a stop or run the risk of a fatal crash the police declare.

Silver Trophies To Be Given At Fair On Display

Silver trophies to be awarded to the winners of the horse races at the New Castle Fair next week are now on display at Mather Bros. Jewelry Store on Washington street. An unusually large number of cups will be awarded next year and the display is a most interesting one.

France And Italy In Border Dispute

By SAMUEL A. ROBINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NICE, Sept. 24.—Franco-Italian frontier incidents caused by the tightening of Italian border control regulations threaten to disturb the hitherto very friendly relations existing between France and Italy.

For the last two years it has been the custom of both countries to allow motorcars carrying passengers free access across the frontier. The arrangement worked well until recently when a French autocar company, owing to a fete being held across the border, doubled their number of daily trips.

One car crossed the border and returned without difficulty, but in attempting to make a second crossing the driver was stopped by Italian gendarmes. Driver and passengers were escorted back across the frontier and Italian authorities requested French police to arrest the party. After two hours' discussion and argument the car was finally allowed to proceed on its way.

Since this episode Italian authorities demand a deposit of 10,000 liras before allowing a car to cross the Riviera border. In many cases, passengers, especially those of French nationality, have been forced to pay 25 francs for passport stamps.

The new ruling is particularly onerous to French citizens who live in Breil, close to the Italian border, who, in order to reach Mentone, have to cross Italy or make a detour of 15 miles.

Yale Starts Work On New Galleries

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn. Sept. 24.—Construction work has started on Yale's elaborate new art galleries that are to form an important feature of the University school of fine arts, and will create a real art center for Connecticut besides. More than one-half the total art galleries are to be erected now, Yale having a gift of one million dollars for the purpose.

The rest of the galleries will follow in short order, it is believed, and the fine arts section of the University will be in its new home in 1931, the year that will mark the centennial of the real beginnings of attention to art at Yale.

The new Yale galleries will occupy the block on Chapel street from High to York streets. An overhead bridge is to connect the present art school building on the old campus at High and Chapel streets, and the recently finished architectural building will complete the finest arts group. A campus for the exclusive use of fine arts students is already finished though so hidden that the general public knows but little of its existence.

A feature of the million dollar art building will be the more than half mile of galleries on the second floor. These galleries are to have a total of 27,410 square feet and extend 2,710 linear feet. Included in the layout will be a Renaissance European art group of five galleries; a gallery of 1,080 feet to house the noted Jarvis collection; one of 3,248 feet for the priceless Trumbull collection of paintings; four for eighteenth centery and American art; two for modern paintings, two for prints, a gallery for miniatures, and a Belgian room.

The ground floor is to have the office of the dean and his staff, class rooms, a hall of casts, a large lecture room, sculpture galleries, and galleries for Asyro-Babylonian, Greco-Roman, and Egyptian work beside library quarters and a temporary loan exhibition gallery.

The first section of the new art galleries will be ready for use about December 1, 1927.

Present Style Show At New Castle Store

Dame fashion aired her views for the fall and winter season before a large group of spectators at the style show Thursday afternoon at the New Castle Dry Goods Company.

A silhouette for every type was the keynote, and the adult models, all employes of the store displayed the gowns and coats in a most professional manner. Baskets of dahlias and softly shaded floor lamps, together with rythmic strains of popular music formed an appropriate setting for the occasion.

Milady who wishes to be up to the minute must wear the bat or dolman sleeve in her new gowns. Sleeves are the mark of distinction for the season, caught tight at the wrist with wide armholes extending to the waist line.

Channel red, jungle green and black are outstanding colors for street and afternoon wear. Black made up with tints and shades of red are particularly popular. Velvet and satin combinations, Elizabeth crepe, metal cloth and crepe satin, bloused and paneled, must all have their place in the wardrobe. Formal dinner and dance frocks in pastel shades of chiffon scintillate artfully, set off with rhinestones and brilliants, still have the straight lines.

Deep armholes and the drop shoulder line were noticed in the coats of brown, green, grey and black, beautifully trimmed with fur collars and cuffs of fox. Dull finished velverett and gerona cloth coats were shown in number. Outstanding in the line of coats were the gorgeous models of Hudson seal, black muskrat, cocoa squirrel, each set off with chick little hats in corresponding or blending colors, and all other accessories necessary for the well dressed woman.

Novel styles are always popular, and this time it is the pony and plaid reversible coat having a distinctively new touch and striking in appearance.

Not only are the grown-ups to step out in tasty finery, but the teen age, school children and tiny tots will all have their individual styles. Blue and red combination frocks in flannel and serge appear to be popular with the young miss, while clever jersey frocks in tan and blue are serviceable colors for the younger generation, both for the girls' dresses and boys' suits.

Something dainty and sweet must always be found for the very tiny tots, and knitted coats and hats in pale pinks and blues and made in new styles will be the latest.

As a special feature of the afternoon performance little Miss Geraldine Fleck entertained with a splendid interpretation of the Charleston.

A distinctly new angle to the style show followed at the evening performance for ladies when Miss M. Bickerton of New York, representative of the Gossard Corset Company, showed a number of corsets and foundation garments on living models. Boneless garments and the new charmosetts elastic fabric were shown, and the correct method of adjusting the wrap-around were explained in detail. Black saline negligees trimmed with brilliant colors are popular.

Both performances of the style show will be repeated today.

Original Linotype Machine In City Goes Into History

Machine Has Served New Castle News For Twenty-Eight Years

In the plant of The New Castle News, which is as modern as any newspaper plant in the country, is taking place today, a little event that is really historical in the life of the newspaper, in the progress of The New Castle News.

Another new modern linotype machine is being placed in the battery of machines in service. It will replace a machine that has been in service for 28 years, the first linotype machine that was ever used in New Castle.

On May 3, 1898, this machine was installed in The News, along with a companion machine. At that time the linotype was comparatively new, and the installation of such a machine was a noteworthy feature in any newspaper office. It marked the beginning of the development of the modern newspaper. Linotype machines supplanted hundreds of men who had set type for newspapers by hand, and have enabled the rapid progress made by newspapers in the past 25 years to be accomplished.

The particular machine that was the first to be used in New Castle, has about served its day. While it is not beyond its period of usefulness, it is not sufficiently modern to allow of the many diversified uses of a linotype of today, and for this reason is being replaced. It is only capable of setting two type faces while the new machine will set six or eight different kinds of type.

The companion machine of the one replaced today, was displaced by a newer machine years ago.

British Hotels To Check Heavy Labels Traffic

By F. A. WRAY.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 24.—British hoteliers are adopting an ingenious device to stop the traffic in hotel labels. They are determined to check the vanity of a certain class of traveler.

The idea comes from E. M. Pick a hotel manager of Zurich. After many years of experience he has tired of the man who has his baggage pasted with labels of the most expensive hotels in the world—although he has never stopped in one.

Pick's advice is for the leading hotels each to issue its own travel stamp to be issued to the hotel guest at the time when the bill is paid. These stamps are about four times the size of the ordinary stamp. They express some characteristic of the hotel its wonderful view, its architecture or some other distinguishing feature.

Artists are now designing interesting and attractive travel labels and they are to be issued not only by hotels but by air lines, steamships, railroads and even town. Placed in a special album they should be an interesting souvenir of travel.

Polish Thieves Get Big Haul

(International News Service)

WARSAW, Sept. 24. — Thieves succeeded in stealing from a jeweller's window in the Hotel Europe here more than $60,000 worth of jewelry, although at least 20 detectives and policemen were in the immediate vicinity.

The thieves accomplished their work in daylight. There were three house detectives in the building, two outside and six policemen on permanent duty in front of the hotel, which is the abode of most foreign diplomats and several governmental officials. Directly across the street is the garrison for the city detachments guarded by a score or more soldiers.

No trace of the thieves had been found since they closed the door on the shop clerks and walked away with three bags of loot in their hands.

Heavy Damage Due To Storm

Butler County And Part Of Allegheny Hit By Severe Storm

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Thousands of dollars damage was done throughout the northern part of Allegheny county and the southern part of Butler county, according to reports reaching here today, the result of lightning and wind followed by a heavy downpour of rain, which was still falling this morning.

The lighting system at Tarentum and the telephone service at Brackenridge, Pa., were badly crippled, due to the severe electrical disturbance.

In some places in this vicinity it was reported that the rain caused small rivers and creeks to overflow their banks. Two small bridges were carried away over creeks in Allison.

George Fisher's barn at Gibsonia was wrecked by the high wind, it was said, and high tension wires were torn down making the road near the Fisher farm impassable for more than two hours.

Traffic on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was delayed by small landslides near here. However, trains were running on schedule today, railroad officials said.

Cost Of Wooing High In Ireland

(International News Service)
DUBLIN, Sept. 24.—"Love them and loot them" seems to be the slogan of many young girls in Dublin today, where the cost of wooing is higher than ever before.

Young men here are complaining that the flapper, and, indeed, her elder sister expect too much and that "keeping company" has become prohibitively expensive.

The boys declare that the flappers' appetite for ices and candy has become abnormal, that she insists on sitting in too expensive seats at the theatre—which is visited too often—and that she expects to be taken to and from a dance in a taxi.

Gone are the times when the young girls were content with a quiet walk along some lonely lane and an occasional bunch of flowers. Nowadays the girls want gaiety all the time.

It is also said that the affection of many girls in these days is too fleeting, and that, after they have had a good time for a while, new cavaliers are sought.

"Oh for a nice demure, domesticated girl" is the vain cry of the boys whose pockets no longer jingle thanks to the modern Miss and her methods.

Weather Bureau Forecasts Control Over Restaurants

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Sept. 24.—Weather elements both fair and adverse and their relations to commerce even playing a prominent part in the menus prepared for our daily sustainance, have long been an obscure consideration. Now comes a United States government official to cite the importance of weather forecasting and the effect that the predictions have upon the daily walks of life.

Before the national annual business conference at Babson Park, George A. Loveland of the United States Weather bureau, Boston stated that prominent restaurant owners in this city frequently call the bureau early in the morning governing the preparation of their respective noon-day and afternoon meals in accord with the predictions as compiled by the weather forecasting experts. Hot weather increases demands for lighter food while cold weather sees a much larger consumption of heavy staple foods acocrding to Mr. Loveland's survey.

The attending meterologists stressed particularly the importance of weather forecasts for commercial activities. Mr. Loveland pointed out the importance of the forecast by stating that many lines of business would be crippled if weather bureaus were closed and forecasting information discontinued.

Pointing out the importance of weather forecasting and its relationship to commerce, Mr. Loveland stated that accessible information including forecasting predictions, climatological conditions and meteorological phenomena information can aid business men materially.

Baby Lives After Drinking Kerosene Oil And Eating Soap

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Sept. 24.—Emmett Craft, Jr., baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Craft, is alive today after eating soap and drinking kerosene. Convulsions developed from the mixture, but the baby survived and is expected to recover.

Schwab To Try Luck At Farming

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—In a short time it will be Charles M. Schwab, farmer. In a talk to the Association of Commerce he said he was going to say good-bye to steel and "try the less profitable but more intellectual occupation of farming."

"I'll pass along to you men the advice a caddie gave me yesterday in Minneapolis," he said. "I asked him to advise me about improving my game. He said, 'You big slob, why don't you keep you eye on the ball?' I say the same to you. Keep your eye on the business ball."

Light Weight Street Car Used In Cleveland, O.

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—A street car constructed of duralumin—possessing greater resistance than steel yet with one third less weight—has been manufactured here and will be introduced to the transportation world soon.

The car is fashioned throughout of the allow with the exception of wheels, axles, springs and sills. It is expected to inaugurate a new era in electric railway construction.

Not only does this new mode of transportation afford greater safety to passengers but it cuts the weight of a single unit from 42,000 pounds to 32,000 pounds. This means a diminution of power necessary to operate it, of approximately 15 per cent.

The allow used in constructing duralumin cars contains an admixture of 4.5 per cent copper; 0.75 per cent magnesium and 1 per cent manganese. It is fabricated by extrusion instead of rolling as in the manipulation of steel.

The allow is heated to a jelly-like mass, then rammed through dies formshaping. Instead of trimming with imense shears as is done with steel, a power saw is employed.

Oklahoma Boy, At 101, Visiting Best Girl, 104

(International News Service)
WILLIAMS, Okla., Sept. 24.—Gustavius H. Namon of this city is 101 years old—but not too old to retain an interest in his girl friends.

In fact, Mr. Namon is now on the way to Kentucky for a visit with his "best girl," who is 104. He sees and hears well, and claims the honor of being the second oldest Mason in the United States.

"Work hard and dont' worry" is his answer to those who would live long.

"I've never seen a moving picture," he said. "It's a shame to pay for entertainment when there are so many good shows out on the street." And as a group of young girls passed by, dressed in ultra-modern fashion, the centenarian waved a languid hand.

"Just look," he said.

What Makes Home Happy?

FOUR walls can make a house, but it takes a woman to make a home.

The woman who prepares nourishing and attractive meals, does her housework without grumbling, raises a family of healthy boys and girls and still finds time to be a pal to her husband and a friend to her neighbors, is accomplishing the biggest job in the world. Homes like hers—little havens of peace and love—are the bulwark of the nation.

To be a successful homemaker a woman must guard her health. When the mother is not well the home is upset. Women everywhere are learning through their own personal experiences, as Mrs. Riessinger did, the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. RIESSINGER was in poor health after the birth of her first baby. She weighed only 98 pounds. One day a neighbor told her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she decided to try it. "After taking four bottles," she writes, "I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework without one bit of trouble." Her address is MRS. M. RIESSINGER, 10004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

Smith Sees Mills As His Opponent

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, Sept. 24. — Governor Al Smith's political opinion is worth anything—and there are thousands in the state who believe he is one of the greatest political leaders the state has ever produced—then Representative Odgen L. Mills of New York, will be nominated for Governor at the Republican convention at Madison Square Garden, September 27 and 28.

Governor Smith, according to reports at the Capitol today, has frankly told friends he believes the Republicans will nominate Mills after the booms for a half dozen other candidates have been given an airing at the convention.

All doubt that the governor might refuse renomination at the Demonocratic convention at Syracuse has been dispelled and the Democratic leaders are now going ahead with their plans for the remainder of the state ticket. They have agreed, it was said here today, to nominate Supreme Court Justice Robert F. Wagner of New York, for the United States Senate to oppose Senator Wadsworth and Franklin W. Cristman, of Herkimer, the candidate of the "dry" forces.

Representative Mills has said several times of late he is not and will not be a candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket this fall. There are some Republicans who believe Mills will be drafted, the same as Democratic leaders have done with regard to Governor Smith.

Charleston Dancers Head Big Bill At Capitol, Fight Pictures Tonight

Lots of us imagine that we can Charleston a wee bit. That peculiar knee action and odd steps of the dance have been tried by most of us, but it remained for two boys and two girls to come to the Capitol Theatre to demonstrate to the folks hereabouts, just what its all about.

Shelby Singer and Thomas Nolan, two champion Charleston dancers and Anna Gida and Harold Spencer have an act in the Capitol the last three days of this week and after watching them a while, you wonder whether or not they have bones where you and I do.

They take one's breath with their lightning-like gyrations and their work is so pleasing that the audience on Thursday night seemed to break loose with a tornado of applause.

Two other acts are on the bill, Georgia Hunter and Burns and St. Clair.

Hunter is a scandal monger, admits it himself, and his confidential talk to the audience gets a laugh. Burns and St. Clair have a high class comedy act. It's a satire on present day dresses and is a sure fire act.

As a special feature of tonight, the Capitol will show the pictures of the Dempsey-Tunney fight of last night in Philadelphia. The camera boys had to do some snappy work to get these pictures over the mountains, but they're here, ready for you tonight.

The picture is "The Lady Of The Harem", a screen dramatization of an Arabian Night story. It's wonderfully well directed, and has a cast of such stars as Greta Nissen, William Collier, Jr., and Ernest Torrence.

MARINE CORPS RESERVES MAY ENTER ANNAPOLIS

Must Submit Application By January 1—Must Pass Rigid Examination

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Members of the Marine Corps Reserve, who desire to enter the Naval Academy at Annapolis, will submit their applications to Major General John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, before January 15, and will be given a competitive examination in April, according to an announcement at the headquarters of the Reserve here.

Only highly-qualified men will be considered, however, as stringent regulations limit the number of eligibles. The candidate must be a citizen of the United States, under twenty years of age, who has been in the Reserve for at least a year, and has attended the prescribed number of drills. He must also pass a rigid physical and mental examination.

The Secretary of the Navy may appoint not more than twenty-five midshipmen in any one year to the Naval Academy from the Naval Reserve and the Marine Corps Reserve, and these candidates must meet the same qualifications as other enlisted men who are so appointed.

that when you have the opportunity you would tell them to get all the old-fashioned learning they can: Latin, that they may know their English better; mathematics, that they may think more logically; and literature that they may think the great thoughts c' all the ages.

Most respectfully yours,
ROBERT WHITE.

"I was compelled to study the Greek language under this old man. He was perhaps as fine and great a Greek scholar as America had at that time. It is related of him that once, in the city of Boston, he was going by the police headquarters and heard a man chattering away in an unknown tongue. The officials were unable to understand what he said. Calib Mills stopped, recognizing that he was a Greek, got into conversation with him, acted as interpreter and had him discharged from custody.

"I had then, as I have now, the happy faculty of superficiality. It enabled me quickly to learn any subject to which I put my mind and just as quickly to forget it when I no longer used it. This faculty came as a valuable asset afterward in the trial of lawsuits where there were technical questions. During the preparation and trial of a lawsuit involving either medicine or mechanics I was just as good a doctor as anybody until the verdict came in, and just as good an engineer; but two days afterward the only way I could tell quinine was to taste it, and the only way in which I knew the throttle of an engine was to see another man pull it. With this facility I succeeded in imposing upon this old professor of Greek, and he labored with me for many hours, urging me, after my graduation, to go to Greece, become conversant with modern Greek and to devote my life to teaching that language. I did not see it that way, however. Perhaps I made a mistake. I might have been, for aught I know, a distinguished Greek professor, down on my knees begging some young man in some institution of learning to study that language in which was written the words of the greatest teacher the world ever knew, Jesus of Nazareth. Save two or three brief Greek phrases all this has passed from my mind and memory. I can hardly recognize the characters when I see them. It is the old, old story that with more or less facility we lose the things we do not use. How clearly I am enabled to express myself I do not know; but of one thing I am quite convinced: that I should have suffered a far greater handicap in life than I have in the way of expression of thought and of clarity of statement had I not studied the classic languages. I realize that few now are paying any attention to them, and that a man may be a master of arts with a mere smattering of Latin and no Greek whatever, but I am not convinced that the loss of these two languages is contributing to accurate English.

There were great men who agreed with me. I remember that Judge Francis E. Baker of the appellate bench in Chicago was one of these men. Years ago, in the lull of a trial in Goshen, Indiana, we were discussing various questions in the lawyers' retiring room. Among other things, the preparation for the law and the ministry came up, and Baker and I were the only ones insisting upon the advisability of the study of Latin and Greek. There was a popular preacher in that town who came into the room while the discussion was going on. He took the opposite view of it and said that there were glossaries, dictionaries and encyclopedias that would give a man all he needed and that struggling through the Greek and Latin classics was a a waste of time. I have never forgotten the answer of Judge Baker to this man. He said to him: "Doctor, I observed you walking down the street this morning with your head thrown back, at peace with God and the world, and well satisfied with yourself. I knew this arose from the fact that you had just returned from conference, and that the papers had said that while there you were the cynosure of all eyes. Now, Doctor, you would not have walked so egotistically if you had studied Greek instead of the encyclopedia and had realized that the word 'cynosure' literally means 'dog's tail'." I think all of those who have gone through the grind of the study of the Greek language will admit that it is the whetstone of the human intellect. None of the stone may be left upon the knife after the sharpening process, but the knife is the keener for the use of the stone."

UNCLE JOE TRAX AND CANNON IN DES MOINES, IA.

Veteran Soldier Making Big Hit In Western City—Writes Of Trip To Des Moines

Uncle Joe Trax and his little cannon made a big hit at Des Moines, Iowa, according to information received from the Western City today.

William Bowen of Prairie City, Iowa, writes that the people of New Castle should feel proud of such a worthy old veteran as Uncle Joe. He stated that although Des Moines was a large city, the boys there were all acquainted with Uncle Joe and liked him very much. Weather is bad in that locality the report stated but in spite of inclement weather conditions a large number of veteran soldiers are in conference there. Bowen hopes that he can meet all New Castle veterans at the convention in Dayton, Ohio, next year.

A brief letter from Uncle Joe Trax was received at the News relating of his trip to the west. Joe stated that they had a hard time reaching Des Moines due to heavy rains which necessitated their going for nine miles in three feet of water.

Uncle Joe marched through the streets with his little cannon accompanied by twelve girls. He said the men were taking excellent care of him and did everything possible for him. Trax will be home a little later than he expected due to washout along the route caused by rains according to the letter.

8,000 Miles Of Penna. Roadways Just Complete, Cost Quater Billion

By G. ROSS DOWNING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24. — Pennsylvania today was preparing to spend the last ten million dollars of her second 50 million dollar road bond issue. At the same time advocates of good roads were outlining a campaign whereby an additional 50 million dollar issue which will require another amendment to the state constitution may be launched. If this bond issue is put over, the money cannot become available before 1928.

During the past four years the state department of highways has spent nearly a quarter of a billion dollars on highway construction and maintenance. In this four-year period 3,000 miles of hard-surfaced road have been constructed and 1,200 miles of stone-based road have been re-surfaced.

The ten million dollars, which, under the terms of the last bond issue, will become available next month, will be required for projects already under contract. These projects under contract practically will complete the major trans-state arteries of traffic as well as a number of important connecting links.

According to Plan.

In the last decade road building in the Keystone state has been carried out entirely in accord with a carefully mapped plan. A decade ago it was decided to stop the practice of building segregated stretches of improved road to reach country estates of prominent politicians and instead follow the important cross-state routes.

More than 12,000 miles of road of which 7,581 miles are hard surfaced comprise the present highway system of Pennsylvania. These hard surfaced roads are kept free of snow in the winter and are under constant repair in the summer.

When this year's building program is completed next summer, the state will have more than 8,000 miles of improved highways. Regardless of how carefully its surface may be maintained with drag and oil, no road is considered or marked "improved" in Pennsylvania until it has been hard surfaced.

Nearly 4,000 miles of dirt road were placed under the control of the highway department by a recent act of the legislature. It has been estimated that 200 million dollars will be necessary to hard surface these stretches of connecting highways.

Roads Widened.

Necessity of widening sections of the main routes has added to the expense of maintaining the primary system and has reduced the mileage of improvement in the more outlying sections. The majority of the highways originally were built 18 feet wide. It has been necessary to widen the routes approaching the larger cities to 40 feet. Surveys have been completed for a similar treatment to other congested sections.

During the height of the working season 25,000 men are engaged in the construction and maintenance of the state highways. Approximately 10,000 of these men are permanent employes.

Besides the two bond issues of 50 million dollars each Pennsylvania has secured money for road work from the usual license fees of various sorts and from the gasoline tax of two cents on the gallon. Laws passed at the special session of the legislature last January have tightened the collection of the gasoline tax, ending years of petty grafting by many small retailers and increasing the amount available for road construction and repair.

Traveler's Guide For State Motorists

Secretary Of Highways Issues Guide For Roads Of State

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—W. H. Connell, engineering executive and acting secretary of highways, today announced that a new edition of the traveler's guide, Facts Motorists Should Know, is ready for distribution.

The traveler's guide is crammed full of interesting material for the tourist in Pennsylvania. It is profusely illustrated with new photographs taken along Pennsylvania's splendidly paved highways.

Of special note is a sectional map of the state, which occupies eight pages in the center of the guide and shows the state highways and the important local roads. It shows the small local communities, as well as mileage between all points on the main highway within the state.

Each of the several principal north and south east and west routes in the state is described in great detail, with note of the outstanding features which may be seen along each route. The tourist is also given a brief but comprehensive sketch of the points of interest in each section of the state. There is a description of the many state forest parks of Pennsylvania and of desirable camp sites in every county of the state.

Finally, the motorist is given a digest of the motor vehicle laws and rules of the road, which must be observed to make touring safe in Pennsylvania.

The guide will be mailed to all persons requesting it, upon receipt of five cents for wrapping and postage. Address the Publicity Office, State Department of Highways, Harrisburg, Pa.

Order Contractor To Remedy Paving Defects Reported

Second Payment For Arlington Avenue Paving Temporarily Held Up

City council today acted favorably upon Councilman Lou Genkinger's motion instructing the John B. Thorson company, contractors, to remedy defects in Arlington avenue concrete paving.

Councilmen inspected the concrete recently and discovered depressions. The street is rough, due to "rolls," councilmen state. Specifications declare that shall not be any inequalities greater than 1-4 an inch.

Today the city clerk read a certification from City Engineer Miller stating the contractors are entitled to a second payment of $13,414.37.

Councilman Tyler asked colleagues "to let the certification lay". He pointed out that, to pay now, would mean the city would be virtually accepting the job as satisfactory.

"Let us do one thing or another" replied Davies.

"I will say" replied Tyler "that as far as we can see the concrete is as good as any other but time alone will only answer this. There are depression. This might have happened after the workman went home at night. I believe the mixture was lighter than it should have been."

Miller was asked to give his opinion and he said: "I was given to understand that council would pass my certification in regard to the second payment. That is why I presented it." Mr. Miller made this statement for the enlightment of Councilman Burns who did not attend the conference, Miller referred to.

"When council accepts the certification the thing is done" said Burns, implying that thereafter the city would have no recourse. He said that there is a two inch depression in one place and that specifications prohibit inequalities in excess of 1-4 an inch.

"If we approve it, it looks as though you are excusing it and future jobs" remarked Engineer Miller.

William P. Dout, an interested party, spoke to council and said, "It is as good a pavement as has been laid. It is nearer 8 and 10 inches than 8 inches. K slips. We had lots to contend with—with rain and other conditions. You will not find any better pavement anywhere." He explained that the same situation has appeared on state highways. "It is a tamp job and is put in solid. I hate this" said Dout, "but I know it is an honest job."

He was asked: "You can ship off the rolls?"

Dout answered "yes."

"If this second payment binds the city I am not ready to vote in favor of it" said Mayor Dunlap.

"I move that John B. Thorson company be notified to remedy defects in Arlington avenue paving" said Genkinger.

Davies seconded the motion, other councilmen voting favorably.

INDICT TWO IN SECRET PROBE

State Police On Guard As Negroes Are Indicted For Slaying

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—With state troopers on guard against threatened mob violence, a secret inquest into the death of Walter "Budd" Harden, 19, of Chester, Pa., was held today at the court house here and was followed ten minutes later by the indictment of two negroes as the slayers of the youth, who met death fighting to save two youthful girl companions from attacks.

Secrecy as to the inquest which was conducted behind closed doors was maintained after threats had come from Chester that the two negro prisoners, Walter Webb and Amos Hughes, would be lynched. As a result the two terror-stricken prisoners, who confessed to the slayings and attacks, under heavy guard, were rushed into the court house opposite the jail.

The girl victims, Florence Scott, 14, and Anna Klemsky, 17, were present at the inquest, but were not called to testify.

Immediately after the coroner's jury returned a verdict, that Harden met death from two gunshot wounds fired by Webb and Hughes, Assistant District Attorney Wm. C. McClenahan hastened before the grand jury and obtained the indictments, while District Attorney Taylor made arrangements for an immediate trial of the men.

They were: Hugh B. Smith, Harrisburg; Martin Mante, Pittsburgh; Max W. Hoppe, Philadelphia; John E. Detweiler, York, and George B. Horn of Chambersburg. The decorations were given for outstanding service to humanity.

Plan To Inspect Disposal Plant

New Sewage Disposal Plant To Be Publicly Inspected October 5

City council has designated October 5 as inspection day at the municipal disposal plant, and indications are that citizens will appear at the $328,000 plant to see how city council has invested their money. The plant was ordered built by the state health department.

Construction has been going on for a year. Fuller & McClintock prepared the plans and the Pitt Construction Company built the plant.

Council wants the citizens to view the plant before the sewage is turned into the tanks.

Today Resident Engineer Jones said that members of civic organizations have been asked to visit the plant October 5.

He said the plant would not be in operation until after October 5.

Picturesque Sheik Tells Of Customs And Life Of His Tribe At Mesopotamia

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 24—What is a sheik? He is the whole show. He is the burgess, the mayor, the leader of his community or tribe. Thus Sheik (pronounced Shek) Raphael Emmanuel informed his interested hearers at the Kiwanis dinner meeting Thursday evening in the Methodist church. Just a bit different from the Sheik as pictured in the movies, and after one has had the opportunity of hearing the Sheik from Mesopotamia, the Sheik as he actually lives and rules his tribe, is something of power, but according to Prince Emmanuel he is not the caveman who drags women into his tent.

A picturesque speaker, wearing the costume of his people which consisted of a head dress or Kaffier, linen tunic, dark girdle, baggy knee trousers, brightly blocked socks that had the appearance of golf hose and sandals, he made his appearance after the hearty chicken dinner at which the wives of the Kiwanians were the special guests.

The Sheik told of his arrival in this country. He was in California at the time when the picture "The Sheik" was being completed. When the director learned that a real sheik was on the grounds he sent for him and offered him a part in the picture. He appeared as one of the men in the section where the girls were being sold at the slave market.

"But we don't do that in our country," Sheik Emmanuel objected. "Oh, well we must make this picture snappy for the people who see it," was the reason given for this part. The prince said that the late Rudolph Valentino had never been in the country where Sheiks lived, in fact only one of the actors in the company had ever been there. He says that the picture "Ben Hur" is not accurate in one incident.

No Movies

In Mesopotamia, we do not have the movies. We do not read, we do not have amusements. After the sun has gone down, we gather together and tell stories. We believe that these stories are true, even as you believe the stories given out by the screen stars. We have no laws in our country, no courts, no judges, each community is ruled by a separate Sheik. We do not have medical doctors. Just a few weeks ago, I was made ill by eating too many dates. I was poisoned, and felt very bad. I was sure that I was about to die and a doctor was called. I couldn't sleep even in the grand hotel where I settled in such a delicious room. The doctor came, he put something in my arm that looked like grape juice and measured my degrees with an instrument called a thermometer that he put under my tongue. My I was sure I was going to die. But he said I had Hay Fever and gave me some pills.

"I have travelled all over the world, but in America I find the people more highly educated. They are much farther advanced than other countries. It is funny, in my country, the women cut their hair when they are in mourning for some one very dear to them. When I came to America and saw so many young women with their hair cut, I think they must be sad, but I soon find that I am wrong.

Many Wives.

"The sheiks, some of them very wealthy, have many wives. Never are there any divorces. Should a wife flirt, make eyes at another, she is merely replaced by one more consistent. When we see the maiden's eyes shining from behind the heavy veil which covers all of her face with the exception of the eyes, we say, 'what lovely eyes, so much like a cow's.' If the man wishes to take a wife, his parents make arrangements with the young woman's parents and give a dot consisting of cattle, fruit and other worldly goods. They are accompanied by the girl and 200 or 300 members of the tribe to protect the bride to be from being kidnaped by other tribes.

"Always when we meet another tribe we fight. Sometimes with clubs and other times with daggers. Men and women of this country do not have conversations. The bride brought to her husband, sees no one else for 40 days and nights.

"I saw something very funny in a western city not long ago. A bride still wearing her wedding gown was dancing with everybody and nobody stole her at all. My that was funny." Saying this, the sheik gave one of his hearty laughs, which proved so very contagious during his talk which was so straightforward and simple.

No Neuter Gender.

Continuing with his speech he said: "There is no neuter gender in our language. One would say, 'My thumb, he is cut', or 'my finger, she is sick.' We do not speak of smoking tobacco, we talk of drinking tobacco. Instead of telling the inquiring traveller how long it will take him to reach a destination, you tell him to fill a certain number of pipes and after he has finished drinking them, he will arrive. The tribes have no dealings with each other. We have no statistics and have no idea as to population etc., as you do in America.

Three Sundays a Week.

"We have so many religions in my land. The Christians have their Sunday on the same day as we have it here in the United States. The Hebrews have their Sunday on Saturday, and just for spite the Mohammedans have theirs on Friday. As for me, I am a Christian." With a smile of real joy brightening up his face the sheik continued: "There is no religion that has anything to offer but Christianity. It is clean, it is spiritual. The Hindu who is posing as the Messiah and who is being boosted by newspapers and press agents, is a fraud. There cannot be two Messiahs.

"I was in Germany and heard Kaiser Wilhelm give his declaration of war, which was very brief, like Lincoln's Gettysburg address, and of course very different. He was heartily applauded by heavy set men surrounded by stiff mustaches.

American Jails—Paradise.

"Your American jails are a veritable paradise. I can see why men continue to kill and get put there, where they are fed and clothed and even give music. In Mesopotamia we have no jails. The man is strapped to a pole (head down) and his feet lashed.

"Some people in America make large sums of money interpreting the Hindu dance. It is a farce. I witnessed one where a girl wearing a few sheaves for a dress danced, with one hand at range with her neck and the other up in the clouds some place. It's funny, how they do it. We have what is known as the sword dance, and we also carry a shield. In dancing with a young woman we are about a yard away from her and our little fingers are linked as we sway to the music made by the drum and a clicking sound which we make with our hands."

When asked what their mode of transportation was, the sheik replied: "Camels, they are the Cadillacs and the donkeys are the Fords". He interpreted the love song and said that the singers place their finger on their ear, claiming that it supports the voice. He further said that people of his country never shake hands and never kiss as the people of America do. In greeting, one takes the the left hand of the friend with his right, kisses it and places it to his forehead.

Prince Emmanuel had a very full program yesterday, speaking to the seniors in the morning and to the juniors in the afternoon. He was brought to Ellwood City by Prof. Ray Smith, who had learned of his splendid message from excellent authority, and the hundreds of people privileged to hear him feel amply repaid for any effort on their part to be among those present.

During the business session final plans were made for the clinic to be conducted Tuesday by Dr. Wallace of New Castle, in a building adjoining the local hospital.

Girls Is Sissies And Umbrellas Nuisances, According To Small Boy

By KATE MOORHEAD

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 24.—Girls is sissys cause theyre scared at everything. Why theyre even scared of rain. Yestiday, when we wuz coming outta the school portable at the Circle, Miss Reynolds, my teacher, said, "now children you better stay inside until the rain is over." Jest as tho she hadn't been keepin us there for more than a half hour overtime aready. Jest cause she is so scared to get wet, she thinks us boys is like that too.

Well, I didnt wear no coat yestiday afternoon, on account it wuz too warm, and coats is nusances enyhows, when you forget where you lay em down when you play baseball, like we do at noon, before the man rings the cow bell. Even if it wuz rainin, I couldnt very well neglect my duty, which is holdin up the stop sine and tellin the kids when they can cross the street on Spring avenue, and blowin the whistle to give the guys in autos a chanct sometimes too.

Of course I got awful wet and when I wuz walkin back to the school house I seen one of the Stevenson kids wearin a black rain coat and hat and carrying a black bag with his books in. I yelled at him he wuz a sissy cause he wuz skeered of some rain but he jest didnt pay no tenshun, so it wusnt much fun to jest keep yellin.

There wus three girls and a boy walkin under one umbrella, and I laffed at them but they got mad and started throwin mud at me and I had to hurry some to keep outta those ruffnecks road. Lots a mothers come for their children in automobiles and some men waited for their kids outside of the school house, and some of them had to go home without their kids on account they didnt see them.

I seen some little girls without no umbrella and I took a stick and splashed water all over em. Gee they squealed, which goes and proves there jest scaredy cats. I yelled at three other girls under a rose-colered rain coat, but they jest stuck out their tongues at me and wouldnt even speak to me. Huh, they think there such a much. Why they aint even smart nor else they wouldnt do that, on account I mightnt speek to them next time, and I might have a lolypop.

Well after awhile I got back to the school house and there wuz two girls wearin white middies and blue skirts who was stayin in to help teacher clean the board and dust the racers. Well I took fore racers and showed em how easy it wuz to clean em that way. Some other kids in back of me yelled and said I wuz a big baby, and it made me mad and I threw the racers after them, and they fell in the mud and teacher got mad at me and whipped my hand.

Now do you blame me for sayin that women is sissys? That wus all the thanks I got for helpin clean the racers and showing the girls I wuz a gentleman. Jest then, if I didnt look up and there wuz my sister standin in the doorway with a big girls rain coat over her arm and a big umbrella in her hand what she made me carry. Imagine ME, havin to ware a girls rain coat and carry a numbrella jest like a sissy girl, but enyhows I had fooled her and got jest soaked before she even saw me.

Judge Says Marriage Is Give-And-Take

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—"Marriage is a give-and-take proposition."

So declared Judge Frank L. Harvey, of Clarion county when he discharged Peter Secret, 28, whose wife Catherine, 16, accused him of beating her.

"In this case, the wife was too 'sassy'," continued the judge, "and the husband too critical."

After telling Secret and his wife that they must trust one another more, if they expected to live happily together the court directed the husband to pay the fine and costs and the couple left the court room arm in arm.

New Park Will Save Homes Of Mound Builders

144-Acre Tract With Prehistoric Earthworks To Be Preserved

State Road Being Built To Make Site Accessible To Tourists

(International News Service)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 24.—All possible speed will be used in beautifying the 144 acres comprising the Cahokia Mound Park in Southern Illinois and in completing the second state bond issue road to this park. Contracts for work on the park will have been let and the ground will be broken up and seeded.

The Mounds will not be disturbed.

The Great Cahokia Mound, or "Monks Mound," is easily the largest prehistorical artificial earth work in the United States and is to the "Mound Builders" what the Great Pyramides were to the Pharoahs of Egypt.

Dimensions of Mound

The dimensions of Monks Mound are: base, north and south, 990 feet; east and west 721 feet; height 99 feet. It covers 16 acres and is estimated to contain 84,000,000 cubic feet of earth. It has been figured that it would take 2400 builders working 10 hours every day for two years to complete this mound.

The Mound won its name because in 1804 the order of Trappist Monks built a mission there. The name Cahokia comes from the tribe of Indians LaSalle met in 1681. In addition to this mound there are 45 smaller ones scattered about.

The Cahokia mounds, scientists say, are identical with structures which the Spaniards found the Aztecs using in Mexico City for religious ceremonies in the early part of the sixteenth century.

Age Not Known

Just when the mounds were built has never been determined. It is believed, however, their construction antedated the arrival of the white man by several centuries.

It has ever been agreed upon by archaeologists as to who built the mounds. Some believe they were constructed by Aztecs who wandered north, others thinking that the relics found in the mounds indicate greater culture than that possessed by the Indians found when Columbus discovered America.

Appropriation was made by the Illinois assembly so that this heritage might be preserved.

Barber Decorates Shop Walls With Rare Paintings

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—George Sandman, adventurous barber artist, finds time to produce the faces of his friends on canvas. The walls of his famous little Golden Gate avenue shop are adorned with his works. Sandman was a friend of Jack London.

"I went to Nome with the gold rush," Sandman said reminiscently the other day. "I thought I would make my fortune—not as a miner, but in my own business as a barber.

"But is was so cold that winter that nobody shaved, and with thousands of men sprouting wiskers on every side, I had to go to work in the kitchens.'

In the summertime, however, the tide turned and wiskers fell fast and furiously under Sandman's shears. From those wiskers alone Sandman earned enough money to get back to the States

Back in San Francisco, Sandman reestablished himself in business where between hours and after hours the shears were cast aside for palette and paint brush and the shop began to bloom with paintings queerer still.

In his art Sandman follows a fanciful streak that luckily is not duplicated in the way he cuts customers' hair.

Sandman remembers Jack London well and recalls him as a moderator in the midst of rabid Marxians—a mild socialist continually endeavoring to subdue the revolutionary theories of his comrades.

"London was not an extremist," the aged man positively declares. "No matter if he seemed violent in his writings, he was the tamest of us all at the socialist meetings in those days."

Explaining why he continued barbering, Sandman said: "People do not need pictures so much as they need a haircut—at least, except in Alaska."

Plan To Utilize Evergreen Trees

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—Instead of using evergreen decorations stripped from living trees for the November and December holiday decorations, the city of Allentown this year will utilize the branches of those felled in lumbering operations.

Officials of the State Department of Forests and Waters today said that Allentown is the first city in the state to take this "important conservation step." The officials expressed the hope that the example will be followed in other cities of the state.

The state department has arranged with the city for the delivery of a carload of hemlock and pine boughs about November 1. The boughs will be obtained from the Mont Alto State Nursery. They will be used to decorate light standards along Allentown streets.

The practice of stripping boughs from young evergreen trees especially is condemned by the department. Although lower boughs may be taken from large trees without seriously damaging their value, the same practice on smaller trees may kill or at least seriously retard their growth, forest experts declared.

Because of the exceedingly slow growth of evergreen trees, the state department takes every possible step to save them from destruction.

Belief In Evolution Held By All M. D's., Dr. Morton Thinks

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 24.—If doctors of medicine would announce their belief in Evolution, people in general would come to believe in Evolution, according to Dr. Dudley J. Morton, widely known as a member of Yale University's department of surgery. Dr. Morton recently addressed eighty members of the Cambridge, (England), University Medical School who came here to look over Yale and urged that medicos throughout the world express themselves on the controversial subject which he calls "The Phenomonon of Evolution."

"I believe that fully one hundred percent of those to whom we owe our important advances in medicine are fully assured of the fact of Evolution," Dr. Morton said. "They are also strongly convinced that the scope and rate of our future advances bear a direct ratio to our better understanding of the biological laws which have guided its course.

"The particular confidence and regard with which we are held by the public imposes a fearless seeking after truth on our part wherever it may result to their advantage; and probably nothing would do more to convince people of the truth of Evolution than some openly manifested declaration of our acceptance of its principles and of our firm belief in the advantages to be gained by its further study."

Artificial Flowers Have Ready Market

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—United States is one of the world's best markets for artificial flowers, fruits, leaves and other articles of this character.

Department of commerce experts said that although this country supports a sizable domestic industry, the bulk of these commodities sold in America come from Germany, France and Czecho-Slovakia.

Artificial flowers and fruits are largely used in women's millinery and other decorative purposes.

Imports into United States for the first six months of 1926 were valued at $1,457,000, as compared to exports of $267,000. In 1925 the imports were $3,142,000 and exports $533,000 and in 1924, imports $2,899,000 and exports $606,000.

New World Parrots Apartment Dwellers

Monk Parrakeet Joins His Neighbors Jn Erecting Community Nest

It is a widespread superstition that to enable a parrot to talk (in imitation to human speech) it is necessary to split the tongue. This, however, has no foundation in fact and when practiced only inflicts an unnecessary cruelty, says Alexander Wetmore in Scientific Monthly.

Birds make sounds in a little organ known as the syrinx at the lower end of the trachea or windpipe, and as the tongue has little to do with the process, splitting it has no connection whatever with the ability to imitate sounds.

Most parrots lay their white eggs in cavities in trees, where their young are free from dangers, but a few vary from this habit. In southern South America the monk parrakeet joins in bands that build in company a structure of sticks that forms a veritable apartment house in which each pair of birds lives in a separate cavity.

These communal nests are used year after year and often grow steadily in bulk. I have seen several that were six or eight feet in diameter and contained enough sticks and twigs to fill a wagon. In early days in the Pampas these birds nested in the low trees that formed occasional groves on the plains.

Man introduced eucalptus trees which grow to a great height, and now the monk parrakeet build nests in the branches of these trees often sixty or eighty feet from the ground. A species of duck known as the tree teal, somewhat similar to our green-winged teal, pre-empts a chamber in this same communal structure, lines it with soft down and hatches its own young amid the noisy chatter of its companions.

Offer Of Prize Shows Hosts In New England Are Anxious To Fly

(International News Service)

SALEM, Mass., Sept. 24. — All New England wants to fly. At least Miss Lydia P. Grove of this city, the first woman to cross the continent as a passenger in a commercial plane thinks so.

Miss Gove has offered a free plane trip to Los Angeles to the two students who write the best letter on air travel and its future, and she has received thousands of letters from all parts of New England.

Miss Gove believes her offer will tend to increase passenger traffic in the air. If all who take part in the contest were to fly, the sky would be black with airplanes.

Grove City Returning To Normal Conditions

Real Estate Business Looking Better—Industrial Conditions Good

Twelve Ladies In Golf Match For President's Cup—Other News Notes

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 24.—Real estate in Grove City after a summer of the most sluggish business since the war, is looking up, it is stated. Not that there is any increase in number of properties sold or that there will be but conditions are coming back to normal, is the prediction. Available homes for rent are becoming scarce. This in the opinion of real estaters means but one thing, that when no more can be rented that are right the buying will start again for homes must be had. It is said it was this urgent need that brought about the buying boom here following the war. Home building in Grove City this summer has been nil. This is the first summer since the war time period close that a summer building program from 50 to 100 houses has not been under way here.

Business at the Lawrence Foundry the best of any time since the war period boom times, is the announcement of that busy plant's manager, W. H. Christy. Mr. Christy says that not only are present indications good but the future as well. Orders for heavy tonnage stuff are keeping the Lawrence men busy. If any prophecy is embodied in industrial conditions in the town, Grove City is set ready for the best winter since the war, for every shop is working full time with demands for their product booked far into the future.

The Bessemer Gas Engine company reports employment of 1,330 men and women. this number being 100 more than were enrolled during the war time period. They report a summer of rushed business conditions which shows no abatement as yet. Such business prospects sweeten the remembrance of several winters when things were not so good.

Cashier F. W. Daugherty of the First National bank is a member of the panel of the petit jury at the federal court session held at Erie this week.

J. P. Henry, superintendent of the Bessemer Gas Engine company, is in New York.

There are 12 ladies in the golf match at the Grove City Country clug for the Presidents cup. They are divided into two flights of eight and four. The match will be completed this week, is the promise of the members of the committee in charge of the play. On the committee are Mrs. H. M. Carruthers, Mrs. D. R. Morris and Mrs. H. O. White. This is the fifth annual match of the ladies for this city which along with one for the male golf championship was presented by D. F. Black when president and called the presidents cup as a result. Three wins takes the cup home. Mrs. A. J. Calderwood, three-time champion of the women's matches and H. M. Carruthers, who this year annexed his third win, may alone claim this distinction. Neither Mrs. Calderwood nor Mrs. Carruthers, who won the women's championship one year, are in the matches of this season.

The osteopathic physicians of Mercer county, 11 in number, with their families and nurses located in hospitals operated by them held a picnic last evening at Memorial park. Rain caused an adjournment to the residence of Dr. O. O. Bachline, who with Dr. W. F. Rossman were hosts. The party numbered 60. The picnic brought together osteopaths from all over Mercer county.

The many local friends of Prof. Harry S. Manson will be glad to learn of his election to the head of the science department of Clarion State Normal schools and his acceptance of the position. Prof. Manson of the faculty here for a number of years following his graduation from Grove City college was elected to a Pittsburgh high school last year as an instructor. Prof. Manson recently completed his postgraduate work here for a Masters degree.

A baptismal fount is being given as a memorial to the First Presbyterian church as well as a new Bible for the pulpit, it is announced today by the church officials. These memorials along with windows will constitute one evening of the program of dedication of the week of October 17.

WOMAN JUROR SPEAKS HER MIND IN COURT, JUDGE DISMISSES HER

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 24.—When Miss Anna Day of Uniontown a juror in the case of Richard Ronsinger of Brownsville, charged with the sale of liquor, attacks on girls and operating a gambling house declared audibly "That's right' 'as the counsel for the defense was scoring the testimony given by girls against Ronsinger Judge Henderson directed the woman be dismissed from further jury duty and the case was decided by 11 jurors. Ronsinger was acquitted.

SPENDS 47 OF 63 YEARS IN PRISON

HUNTINGTON W. Va., Sept 24.—Charles F. Kline, known nationally as "Dollar Charlie" has spent 47 of his 63 years in prison and looks forward to 19 years more behind the grey walls.

He was sentenced today by United States District Judge George W. McClintock to 15 years in the Atlanta penitentiary on a counterfeiting charge. An additional four years remains to be served of an old sentence. He entered a plea of guilty.

Acute form of eczema yields at last to soothing treatment

Chicago, Illinois, April 14:—"A few months ago I had what I presume was an acute form of eczema. Red blotches and cracks, which refused to heal, appeared on the fingers of my left hand, then spread to my right hand. Both became raw, inflamed and blistery. I began to apply Resinol Ointment and after using three jars my hands are again in perfect shape. Your ointment is wonderful not only for its soothing effect to burning, itching skin, but for its quick healing qualities. From today on I am a volunteer booster of Resinol." (Signed) F. R. A Message From Mr. Julian Goldman

After months of elaborate preparation and close contact with my manufacturers, I am at last privileged to announce the great sensation I have planned for you—

The Great 1926 Fall Sale

My aim in preparing this sale was to demonstrate the tremendous purchasing power of the Julian Goldman chain of 55 stores and its ability to offer at the very start of the season the superior values which prevail usually only at the very end of the season.

And the same generous terms of my famous Convenient Payment Plan which has been adopted and followed throughout the country, will prevail thruout on every purchase you make. Sincerely yours,
JULIAN GOLDMAN, Pres.

Now Comes The Idea That Boys Should Wear Engagement Ring Too

It does seem sometimes as though the women would never let up on thinking up new tricks for the boy friends. The last word at the time of going to press is that the lads who are engaged are to be decorated with an engagement ring, purchased by the sweet young thing.

It may be intended as a little present, but it has all the earmarks of a ball and chain. The custom is an old Roman one, and following out the admonition of "when in Rome, burn Roman candles," the ladies are beginning to pass out engagement rings to the man.

What a life!

If a fellow gets all enthused over a member of the fair sex, mortgages his wages for the next six months to get her a ring topped off with a diamond, she retaliates with a ring which he is to wear, "till death do us part" and all that sort of thing.

Fraternal emblems are worked into the men's engagement rings. For instance, if a chap belonged to the Yellow Dogs, the idea would be to have a yellow dog rampant on a field of hot dogs. Signifying that he was about to lead a dog's life.

Other orders will be worked out in similar style no doubt. The question will be what to do with an Odd Fellow. If he's engaged he won't be an odd fellow long.

The women claim that now they have reached financial and economic independence that a man should be forced to wear the badge of his troth. And furthermore he's not to take it off. All of which marks an out for a little party now and then with a couple of blondes.

Back in the old days the young lady asked the boy friend over to the house for a meal and demonstrated how well she could cook. These days she usually knows little about cooking so she hands him an engagement ring.

It might be all right, this thing of engagement rings for men, but certainly is going to crimp the style of some of the local lads.

To date the jewelers are bearing up well under the impending blow.

Aged Auto Driver Has Narrow Escape

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24. — E. W. Brinton, 80, said to be one of the oldest automobile drivers ever granted a learner's permit in Pennsylvania, escaped injury on Thursday when he was unable to swing the car he was driving around a sharp curve here.

Brinton clung to the steering wheel and successfully guided his machine down a 50-foot embankment, witnesses said.

C. L. Brinton, the aged man's son, a passenger in the car, was slightly bruised.

The leaves are falling from the trees. This is the season of the sneeze.

New York's Marrying Rabbi Gives Couples Guarantee Against Divorce

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 24.—And so they lived happily ever after. That is, they lived happily if they were married by Rev. Dr. Jerome Lawn, "the marrying Rabbi of Washington Heights."

"The marrying Rabbi," as Rabbi Lawn is called in his own neighborhood, boasts that marriages performed by him do not end in the divorce court. He gives a personal guarantee with every marriage vow, and every wedding ring that is placed on a fair maiden's finger during one of the Rabbi's ceremonies is on to stay "till death do us part."

Rabbi Lawn boasts that during all the years he has been "marrying" in his ministry at Beth Israel Temple, never have one of his couples ever been seperated by the axe of divorce.

"How do you do it?" the Rabbi was asked.

"Before I perform a ceremony, I take the pair into my study and I talk to them. Often, during the course of these little interviews, we discover that the marriage would have been a mistake. I say we, because it is not only myself that comes to this conclusion. If a mistake is discovered, it's too bad, but by finding the mistake before the marriage, we save making a greater mistake by uniting unsuitable couples.

The Proper Mood

"If after my talk, we still feel that marriage is to be desired, we are in the proper mood and fully cognizant of the responsibilities it will entail," answered Rabbi Lawn.

Rabbi Lawn often discovers during these talks that no one has ever discussed with young people about to get married, the solemn truths in a human way.

"Naturally we become fast friends before the discussion is over," he said, "and that perhaps, is the secret of my successful marriages, for long after the wedding, these young folks come back to me and patch up their little differences."

Like a country doctor, the rabbi has a calling list, and he looks in on the homes threatened with martial discord and "repairs the damages."

"I have my reconciliation cases and my 'too many in-laws' operations. You know, removing an inlaw is a serious and major operation, but often absolutely necessary before a cure can be brought about," advised Rabbi Lawn.

Living with the in-laws, is, in the mind of this marriage specialist, absolutely fatal to successful married life. In fact, it heads his lists for causes for divorce.

"Young people must live alone if they are ever going to establish real understanding. Nothing imaginable is more deadly to their happiness than the interference of a third party who is prejudiced one way or the other when a quarrel commences. No one is quite capable or clever enought to remain netural when one of the combatants is of their own flesh and blood. A slight quarrel that might have been blown over, becomes hopelessly involved as soon as it becomes a two against one affair, and that is the beginning of the end. This can only be cured by the removal of the in-law," advises this expert.

Among his other causes for divorce, Rabbi Lawn lists extravagance, morgantic marriages and December and June marriages "All of these," he says, "must be treated with the utmost tact."

The Rabbi, happily married himself, will never admit a failure, and as though to uphold his faith, his couples have made up their minds to be nice and live happily ever afterwards.

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 24. —William (Ababe) Dowden, 63, a recluse, whose charred body was found in the ruins of his cabin on the outskirts of town Wednesday, was murdered, Coroner J. B. Walkinshaw said following a preliminary investigation today.

First reports were that the man had been trapped in his cabin and burned to death.

District Attorney James Wilkin and two state police went to the scene of the murder this afternoon, shortly after Walkinshaw made the result of his investigation known.

First Meeting Of Fall Is Held At Westminster College Wednesday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The first regular meetings of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. of Westminster College were held Wednesday evening. The men's organization met in the "Y" rooms while the women met in the college chapel.

Joe Dickson of Pittsburgh, president of the "Y", presided at the men's meeting. The address of the evening was given by Prof. R. X. Graham of the English department.

Miss Helen Davidson of Crafton, led the Y. W. C. A. meeting. A musical program was rendered. Among those on the program was Miss Ruth Lewis of New Castle.

Plans are now being made for the annual campaign of the two Christian Associations to raise funds for their budgets. It is probable that the opening gun will be fired the second week of October.

Find City Built After Abraham-Lot Parting

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Ruins of the first Hebrew settlement in Palestine after the parting of Abraham and Lot have been discovered near Nablus—the Shechem of the Old Testament—by the international archaeological expedition headed by Prof. Ernest Sellin of Berlin University, says a despatch to the Daily Express from Jerusalem.

The excavations revealed, among other things, the walls, gates and towers of the city where Abraham built the altar to sacrifice Isaac, and where Jacob buried his idols, and where, according to tradition, Joseph was buried. There also were found the remains of a Canaanitish temple and Baal images.

Georgia Judge Would Give Auto Thieves Chain Gang Term

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Sept. 24. — Longer terms on Georgia chain gangs were urged by Superior Judge John T. Humphries in denouncing the practice of giving suspended sentences to youths convicted of stealing automobiles. Judge Humphries made the recommendation in charging the county grand jury.

Pointing out that 1,308 cars were stolen in Atlanta in the space of one year, Judge Humphries declared automobile thievery will never be curbed unless stiffer sentences are imposed.

Judge Humphries also hit the practice of discriminating in favor of youths who came from good families.

"Before I would discriminate in favor of boys with good families, against the boys who have never had the chances of life they enjoyed, I would rather resign my judgeship," he declared.

Mules, Birds, Teapots, In Foreign Demands

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON Sept. 24.—Mules, birds of the air, fishes of the sea, teapots and corncob pipes—these varied commodities are listed by the department of commerce in its summary of foreign demands upon American production.

Every week the department as a result of information obtained from its foreign representatives, furnishes to American producers a comprehensive list of sales opportunities.

This service is said to stimulate vastly the foreign trade of this country. More and more is American foreign business widening its scope both as to markets and as to the goods shipped abroad.

Nearly one thousand different commodities are listed weekly as wanted in foreign countries. Most of these American produced articles dominate the markets where they are in demand.

The birds should build in the fall when they could use many straw hats without even altering them.

DORCAS CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

Class Members Guests At Gardner —Other News Notes Of Gardner

(Special To The News)

GARDNER, Sept. 24.—The ladies of the Dorcas class of the Epworth church in New Castle were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. E. O. Alexander at her home in Gardner. The rooms were tastefully decorated in tones of white and yellow. Mrs. Dickson furnished a lovely centerpiece of a great variety of flowers, while the splendid blooms of the dahlias were admired by all. One very amusing feature of the evening was a playlet called "An Old-Fashioned School". Mrs. Harry Hinger was the teacher and "Tubby" was a prize pupil. Some of the pupils were dressed as boys and their outfits were laughable in the extreme. Forty members of the class were present and fun and merriment were there also. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Alexander and the following ladies, who were joint hostesses with her in entertaining the class: Mrs. Laura Sankey, Mrs. Harry McCurdy and Mrs. Albert Brooks.

GARDNER NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson of Gardner entertained their children at a family dinner last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fenton of Wilkinson Stop spent last Sunday with Mrs. Fenton's father, John P. Fife, of Bridgeville, Pa.

Richard, eight-year-old son of William Stephanov of Gardner, was trying to do some work with a corn sheller when the little finger on his right hand was caught and injured so that it had to be amputated at the second joint. The finger seems to be healing nicely and the little boy was a brave patient at the New Castle hospital, where he was taken last Saturday, and was able to go home on Sunday.

The following were recent guests at the Comstock home: Mr. and Mrs. James Cowan, John Dock and Mrs. Margaret Parker and daughter, Olive.

Miss Mary Sherger drove her automobile on Wednesday for the first time since the accident to her foot which occurred on July 3 when she was a student at Madison University in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Richard Williams and children, Maxine and Dorothy, spent several days with their relatives, the Dunlap family, at East Palestine, O.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robb and children motored to Butler last Sunday to see Master Kenneth, who is going to school there.

Miss Florence Zehner is teaching in the Ellwood City High school.

Henry Robison is suffering from an attack of grippe and being unable to work, has gone out to his parents' home near Portersville.

Misses Selma Benson and Margaret Colquhoun of Gardner spent last Sunday with Miss Victoria May of New Wilmington.

Rev. Albert J. R. Schumaker of Pittsburgh spent a day recently with his mother and sister at Gardner.

Robert Groetsinger of Leetsdale, Pa., is spending a few days of vacation at the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. John J. King, of Shenango Stop.

Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Stamm of Shenango report something very unusual, a second crop of red raspberries. The berries are larger and finer than the spring crop; also they have two turnips which weigh three and one-half pounds, and a 10-pound squash.

On Wednesday night Ted Costello of New Castle gave a weiner and marshmallow roast for the football players of the New Castle Senior High school. The party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beson of Gardner. About 30 students from the high school were present and the boys and girls enjoyed music and games until a late hour.

Mrs. Dietrich, a sister of H. W. Alborn, and her two daughters, Mrs. Strinert and Miss Marie, and Mr. Snyder, all of Pittsburgh, were guests at the Alborn home at Gardner on Wednesday.

Mrs. E. L. English of Ray street and daughter, Miss Eva, a teacher in Ben Franklin Junior High school, were recent callers at the Schumaker home in Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walker are now living in their new home which they built on the lot next to his father's property.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Hasen and daughter, Mrs. Jones, of Frisco, and Mrs. Hasen's mother, Mrs. John Marshall, of Wampum, and Mrs. Jessie Wilcox of New Brighton, called on friends in Gardner on Tuesday morning.

SOPHOMORES DEFEND FLAG IN ANNUAL RUSH

Class Teams Battle Desperately For Honors At Westminster College Today

Five Boys Overcome With Heat—One Wrenched Elbow—New Castle People See Event

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—Game to the core, but unable to show any superiority over their rivals, the freshmen of Westminster College were humbled again today by the sophomores when the upper classmen successfully defended their flag in the annual flag rush, which was held this morning at the college athletic field.

The freshmen put up a stubborn fight, but the "sophs" held their own, and after battling desperately for two lengthy periods, the older students of the United Presbyterian school were adjudged the winners.

Big Crowd There

An unusually large number of people were present to see the annual event, including many interested folks from New Castle and vicinity who motored here early this morning to see the flag rush. Students and townspeople were lined all around the college field to witness the heroic battle.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the two representative teams, numbering 50 boys apiece, assumed their positions on the field to uphold their class.

The freshmen took their positions 100 yards distant from the sophomores and at the sound of the gun they swooped down upon their rival classmates. The "sophs", with their hole already dug in the ground, hurriedly placed the 25-foot pole in place and made it firm. The freshmen tried to overpower the "sophs", but all efforts proved futile. The first period lasted 10 minutes and the second eight minutes.

Pole Is Greased

The sophomores had the pole greased ten feet up from the bottom and the bark skinned from the pole, making it almost impossible to climb, in the event that the freshmen would reach the pole. The "sophs" made their trip into the woods last night after dark and after securing their pole hid it at the college field until this morning, when it was placed in use.

The flag rush this year was the best held in some time. The close air and weather conditions prevailing this morning played havoc with five boys, who were overcome with heat. One lad has his elbow wrenched, but no other injuries of any nature were reported. The freshman class was better organized this year than ever before, but in spite of the fact were unable to score a much desired win over the sophomores.

Agitation over the annual flag rush has broken forth again and possibilities are that the yearly event will be done away with in the future.

Sues For $30,000 For Injuries In Fall At Junction

Andy Paglia has filed a suit against the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Company in which he claims $30,000 damages for injuries sustained on a coal tipple, operated by the defendant company at New Castle Junction. Paglia, who was employed as a laborer by the company claims that he had gone up on the tipple to see why it was not operating properly. In going up he was compelled to walk across some boards, forming a sidewalk, with no railing. He claims that one of the boards, being insecurely fastened turned with him, causing him to fall. He was badly injured, and claims that his injuries are of such a permanent character, that his earning power has been greatly diminished.

Commissioners Go To State Meeting At Philadelphia

County Commissioners Davis, Matthews and McCullough, with their attorney, John P. Lockart, and clerk, James Lamoree, will leave Sunday morning for Philadelphia, where they will attend the fortieth annual convention of the state association of county commissioners, which convenes on next Tuesday. They are starting early in order to make a trip to Atlantic City on Monday. After the convention they will visit the Sesqui-Centennial.

Last Registration Day On October 2

In answer to many inquiries as to the next registration day for voters, it may be stated that it will be held on Saturday, October 2. This will be the last registration day on which voters who desire to vote at the November election, can enroll. Registration on the two former days was very light. Unless it is greater on the next day, indications are that a very light vote will be cast.

To Immunize School Children At Mercer

Will Be Treated For Diphtheria Prevention—Treat 10,000 in County

Local Man Asks $20,000 Of Pennsylvania Railroad Company In Damage Suit

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 24.—Applications from the 12 school districts in Mercer county for diphtheria immunization treatment of the children in their public schools by the state medical workers are now on file here at the office of Dr. S. J. Dickey, county medical director who states that his plan of operation this fall and winter will be to work in the country districts as long as the weather will permit, then come into the towns.

This immunization treatment started in January of this year and worked through the schools of Sharon, Sharpsville and Farrell is the treatment recommended by the state who furnish the virus free of charge.

The doctors and nurses in the communities where the treatment is given assist Dr. Dickey, giving their services gratus. Of the 30,000 school children in this county about 10,000 have already been treated. Applications are in for Mercer and Jamestown, Sandy Lake, Stoneboro of the town schools.

Only a limited number can be completed for the treatment calls for three injections a week apart.

Among the important damage suits listed for the November common pleas court of Mercer county that opens its trial sessions on November 15 is the action in which Joseph Buntman of Mercer, is suing the Pennsylvania railroad for property and personal damages sustained in July of 1925 when Buntman had his truck demolished and was injured at the Turner grade crossing. Buntman brings suit for $20,000 for his combined damage.

He was in the Mercer hospital for a long period of time recovering from his injuries. His case is one of a number of damage suits at this term that will be of interest.

The Reznor Manufacturing company officials announce shipments already of 60,000 of their gas heaters with their shops busy on unfilled orders.

One more week of summer weather and the corn crop of Mercer county will be out of the danger zone of premature cold weather preventing its ripening. Silo corn is being cut at the present time and stored.

In a county where dairying is such a county prevading industry, cutting of this crop of silo corn is no small undertaking. The corn reached 7 and 8 feet in height in some places where the soil was especially fertile. The field corn is hardening fast.

At the county home Superintendent T. C. White reports the corn crop ready for harvest within a week. He will harvest 85 per cent of the 1925 chop which at the home went over 100 bushels to the acre.

The late potato crop is the most serious damaged of any county crop this due to the heavy rains of the past two weeks which in the low lands has resulted in rot.

A county health association was organized last evening at the Penn Grove hotel, Grove City, by the election of Guy Thorne of Greenville, as president; George Mahoney of Sharpsville, first vice president; Mrs. B. A. Rhodes of Sandy Lake, second vice president; Dr. S. J. Dickey of Mercer, county medical director secretary, and County Treasurer M. M. Simons, treasurer.

The executive committee named were Mrs. W. C. Pettit of Greenville Dr. J. E. Ferringer of Stoneboro, and Smith Sharp of Sharon.

The nominating committee, Mrs. Hazel Smith of Grove City, Miss Anna Wiant of Greenville, M. M. Simons of Mercer. The next meeting will be the first of the year. A membership committee will be named at once by the president to solicit members. Out of 73 present last evening 36 joined.

Mrs. T. C. White is reported recovering. She is now able to be about her home.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN FROM MERCER STREET

The Chevrolet touring car of Robert Pascariello, 422 Uber street was stolen last night from South Mercer street near the Hupmobile garage where it had been parked by the owner. It is a 1925 model and bears Pennsylvania license 934-382. The police hope to be able to locate it today.

Rev. Stump To Speak At Meeting Of Ministers

Rev. Stump will speak on the subject, "Paul's Prayer for the Philippians".

It is very important that every minister of the city be present at this meeting, as some special matters will be presented during the business session.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW OF WEEK

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—The Iron Tade Review says:

Major developments in iron and steel the past week have been on the side of continued confidence. Railroad inquiry for cars and truck material has broadened. Fourth quarter pig iron purchases have topped 100,000 tons and prices are stronger. Automobile production is bowling along at a rate which, if maintained proportionately in later months, should surpass the 1925 total. Mahoning Valley sheetmakers have put up their prices $2 and are lengthening their backlogs.

Demand for semifinished material is improved. Orders for finished steel in the first 20 days of September have exceeded those for the corresponding period of August despite the Labor Day handicap.

Opposed to these favorable factors are a decline of several points in the steel ingot rate at Pittsburgh, although Youngstown and Chicago operations are being maintained, and a disposition on the part of western implement manufacturers to specify more moderately pending determination of the extent to which adverse weather in the Central West will check fall implement purchasing.

In steel the heavy lines such as plates, shapes and bars have surrendered the leadership for the time being to the lighter lines particularly sheets, notwithstanding the heavy ordering this month.

Pig iron requirements for the fourth quarter and for the first quarter as well at Buffalo, are receiving more attention. Sales at Cleveland the past week have totaled 65,000 tons, or more than four times the recent weekly average. Higher quotations on coke, some loss in merchant iron production and increased melt in some directions have contributed to a generally stronger iron market.

NEW FRATERNITY CLUB ORGANIZED AT WESTMINSTER

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON Pa., Sept. 24—With the opening of school at Westminster college a new men's fraternity appeared on the campus known as the Epsilon Theta Pi with a membership of 30 young men.

The new fraternity has a beautifully furnished house on Neshannock avenue which has been completely renovated, painted and placed in first class condition.

The officers of the Epsilon Theta Pi are Louis Lytle of Pittsburgh, president; Carl Triola of Meadville, vice president; Roy Vance of New Wilmington, treasurer; Charles Lawton of Shelocta, secretary; Paul Robinson of New Wilmington, corresponding secretary and Albert Dodds of New Castle, business manager.

The new organization promises to be one of the best in the United Presbyterian school.

Cleveland Has Subway Plan To Cost 40 Millions

One Penny From Every Fare To Pay Loans City Needs For Work

Twelve-Mile Tunnel To Average About $4,000,000 Per Mile

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—A $40,000,000 subway system for a penny from every man, woman and child who rides a street car.

That is the plan of Raymond T. Cragin, organizer of the Cleveland Subway company, and formerly representative in Cleveland of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Figures prominent in the nations' financial affairs are behind the "Penny Subway Line," it was learned. Through the backing of the Rockefellers, Sr., and Jr., who have extensive holdings in Cleveland, a New York bank has agreed to lend the necessary money, estimated at $40,000,000 to Cragin and his associates with which to build the subway. The Van Sweringen's Cleveland's prominent railroad promoters have also signified their intention of backing the project.

Plans Soon Ready

Cragin's plans, which he will present to the Cleveland City Council when the necessary papers for a franchise are prepared call for the construction of a 12 mile subway at somewhat less than $4,000,000 a mile.

The subway is to be built with money borrowed from the New York bank and in order to pay off the debt street car and bus fares are to be increased one cent per ride, the increase to be turned into the city coffers, under Cragin's proposal.

Estimates reveal that one and one-fourth of the population of a city is moved via street cars each day, Cragin said.

Cleveland's population is hovering about the 1,000,000 mark and at that average the penny a ride for each person would add $12,500 a day to the city's treasury; or $4,562,000 a year. In twelve years the city would be able to take over the system at the cost of construction plus accrued interest, according to Cragin.

City officials can then lease the subway system to any railway company desirable and the city treasury will be the recipient of a large yearly rental, the promoter declares.

This will be the first time that a subway project to be paid by the people's pennies will be tried in any city the promoter said. The present carfare in Cleveland is 6 cents, with a penny extra for transfers.

Kansas University Bans Kampus Kar

Students Must Leave Their Automobiles At Home While At School

(International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 24.—Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas is receiving many letters of commendation on his request to parents and prospective students to leave their automobiles at home.

The chancellor set out that a motor car is no part of an education. In this action Chancellor Lindley says he is following in the footsteps of the heads of the great universities in America.

The press of Kansas is practically unanimous in the opinion that better results along educational lines can be attained if young men and women who contemplate attending the university leave their automobiles at home. Probably William Allen White stressed the matter in the strongest language.

"Too many people go to college chiefly because it is socially a good place to go" Mr. White says. "Too many university students in America are from homes without books or the intellectual background; rich homes of course but none the less homes of the intellectually poverty stricken.

"The youngsters from these homes come pretty nearly seting the social pace for our great universities. In Kansas they crowd into the fraternities; they are the rooters of the athletic sports but they have a mighty poor standing in the registrar's office. The head of every university of any importance in the United States has to struggle with this outfit a cheap vulgar, noisy arrogant snobbish crowd."

Two Steubenville Prisoners Saw Way Out; Woman Helps

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 24.—Two prisoners sawed their way to freedom from the Jefferson county jail yesterday. William G. Neal, 46 years old said to be an ex-convict from Pittsburgh who was jailed here for automobile theft and Jas. Guido, 23, Bellaire, held for highway robbery sawed through cell doors, then through heavy tier bars and climbed 40 feet to the ground floor where they cut the bars on the outside windows.

Jail officials say a woman carried the saws into the prison.

Says Canal To Lake Great Need

International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24.—If Pittsburgh wishes to remain the greatest steel production district in the United States a canal from the Ohio river here to Lake Erie is necessary.

This is what W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the Lake Erie canal board, told members of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, at their monthly meeting last night.

The canal must be built for the growth and prosperity of the community, Stevenson added.

C. O. Haines secretary of the Steubenville, O., Chamber of Commerce; William S. Cook of Beaver Falls, Pa.; H. A. Corcoran of Wheeling, W. Va., and W. J. Williams of Youngstown, O., who also addressed the Chamber of Commerce favored the canal.

They seem to average about 20 miles to the gallon or 60 miles an hour to the pint.

Local Fat People Get Thin N. Y. Way

Influenced by reports that many New York society women have adopted a new method to aid in reducing fat, local stout persons are using the same plan. This new method consists of establishing proper eliminative regularity through the use of a harmless, tasteless ingredient originally discovered in Vienna. Reductions of several pounds a week are reported in many cases. It acts quickest when well chewed—hence it is embodied in a deliciously flavored chewing gum called "Slends". Local druggists have already arranged to supply this new medicated gum. Start to chew Slends today—you will note effects tomorrow.

Sees Overthrow Of Bolsheviks By Russian Peasants

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—The Russian peasant will rise and overthrow Bolshevik rule in Russia, Count Ilya Tolstoi, son of the late Leo Tolstoi, noted Russian author, declared today. Count Tolstoi and his wife are now in Southern California to supervise the "movie" production of "Resurrection" his father's famous novel.

"Bolshevik rule today is minority rule" Count Tolstoi said. "As a natural sequence in the development of Russia the peasants will overthrow the soviet."

The peasants today according to Tolstoi are not fully conscious of their own strength. When they do realize their power they will revolt and a real Russian republic will result.

The count said that agitators in the United States for the recognition of the Bolshevik government by Washington were actuated by greed.

"They hope to secure trade concessions. If the United States recognizes the present regime it would put the stamp of approval upon the communism and delay the day when Russia will become a republic."

Deceased Judge Lover Of Trees

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—Judge George B. Orlady, 76, who recently died at his home in Huntingdon, Pa., was a great lover of trees according to this week's bulletin of the State Department of Forest and Waters. Judge Orlady for thirty years was a member of State Superior Court, having retired that position last January. He was an active Mason.

In a letter to Joseph S. Illick, of the forest and waters department about a year ago the prominent jurist made the following statement concerning trees:

"The boys and girls of Pennsylvania are interested in the coming trees of our state—the study of trees should be compulsory in our common schools. Of course I am interested in Pennsylvania trees from the monarch of the forest down to the vagrant shrub of the wayside.

"At the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown I think we have a specimen of every tree, shrub and vine native to Pennsylvania and a whole lot more in groups, clumps and avenue linings. Our special exhibit is our memorial grove of five acres on which we have planted 264 of our splendid native oak trees in fraternal recognition of our hero dead, who were killed in battle, died of wounds or resultant illness in the World War.

"We contributed 11,323 service men in that world horror—1914-18—and our purpose is, at the proper time, to have a tablet placed on each tree with the name, military and lodge relation of each brother. The whole surface of this grove is profusely planted in oriental poppies as a tender suggestion of Flanders Fields.

"I think with Kilmer, 'I shall never see a poem lovely as a tree. A tree that looks at God all day and lifts her leafy arms to pray.' The only way to know of it is to go to it and see the present conditions as healthy foundations of the hopes of the next 100 years, and where old age is confronted and youth is developed for the future controversies of all America."

Boston To Fight Telephone Rates

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Sept. 24. — This city flung down its gauntlet on behalf of American telephone users and will lead the fight against the American Telephone and Telegraph company to compel lower rates.

Following the suggestion of the city solicitor of Grand Rapids, Mich. a general conference of attorneys representing cities throughout the United States will be called to discuss opposition to existing telephone rates.

New York has lined up with Boston. It is understood that the conference will devote its battle to local rates rather than long distance costs, the later being generally conceded fair enough in most districts. according to E. Mark Sullivan, Boston attorney and one of the prime movers in the fight.

It lifts up and supports the bust, snugly rounds over the hips, curves the waist line to symmetrical appearance and brings the entire figure into slenderizing proportion.

On Free Trial

Made in the famous W. S. Rice factory at Adams, N. Y., and designed by a noted corsetiere, it needs but a try-on to prove it the first and only perfect Reducing Corset ever made for stout women.

In every neighborhood and community are women who have undergone surgical operations leaving weak places that sometimes break apart with most unfortunate results. A simple attachment of air cushions to the conformer gives perfect support and protection.

The personal representative of W. S. Rice is now here to give the ladies of New Castle every opportunity to fully test this wonderful Reducing Corset.

Put it on and see how charmingly it feels, how perfectly it brings you into shape, how nice and comfortable you feel, how easily you breathe, how actively you become, how you can bend over without strain, walk upstairs like a girl, and wear modern gowns with all the appearance and freedom of a perfect figure.

Imports New Insect To Local District

H. F. Bott Brings New Insect Here From Jersey Section

Tells Of Interesting Sights In Visit To Eastern United States

Insects of a destructive tendency in the North Hill district must now fight for their lives as a result of the local importation of an insect that preys on other insects but does not destroy foliage or crops.

This new insect is a native of Japan and was brought back here by Howard F. Bott of 225 Meyer avenue, who has just returned with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Bott, from a visit with relatives in Trenton, N. J., and in Philadelphia, Lakehurst and other eastern points.

It is known as the "praying mantis" and is the largest type of an insect ever seen in these parts. Green in color, with brown or reddish colorings on the wings, for it flies as well as hops like the grasshoppers. It is at least four inches in length. Its body is probably three inches in length. It has a long neck with a snake-like shaped head and great eyes and large jaws for an insect. It has long legs which fold up and enable it to spring on its natural prey, other insects and bugs.

At the front of its body are two long folded arms with which it reaches out and grasps its victims. Once in these arms or tenacles, the other insect or bug hasn't a chance in the world. The arms or tenacles have short clawlike teeth on them which assist the praying mantis to hold its victims without trouble.

Mr. Bott has two of these insects in captivity, a male and a female, and hopes to propagate them so as to assist in fighting the insect pests of this district. He is feeding them with grasshoppers, which they appear to enjoy immensely.

He plans to place them at liberty in the hedge about the Bott home. He secured them from Philip Billingham, a brother-in-law of B. S. Bott, his father, who two years ago secured two from the state of New Jersey, which imported them to fight the Japanese beetle. There are now at least two score of the praying mantis on the Billingham hedges.

Sees Big Dirigible

One of the most interesting experiences of Mr. Bott was the visit to Lakehurst, N. J., the naval station at which the gigantic dirigible Los Angeles is stationed. While he was there the dirigible made a landing. It made the landing very easily and 350 marines stationed there to take care of it grasped the ropes with which to hold it and guide it into the hangar, but a heavy wind blowing at the time swung it to one side and the spectators, fully 350 in number, were called on to assist. The young Mr. Bott was one of the number. When the ballast of water, which is carried in a very considerable quantity, is released and the big airship settles to the ground, it is attached to a car and drawn into the hangar, which is eight stories high and has great sliding doors which roll away to each side through electric energy. It is then allowed to rise to the top of its hangar. It is made of material three times as light as aluminum, has a large cabin in the front from which the movements are directed, and five smaller cabins in which the machinery which drives it is located. It carries a crew of 60 men. The younger Mr. Bott had every opportunity of getting a close-up on the big airship.

Visits Sesqui

Another interesting feature of the trip was the visit to the Sesqui Centennial at Philadelphia. According to the younger Mr. Bott, it is a wonderful exhibit and one of exceptional educational value to every person having the opportunity of visiting it. While there he had the opportunity of hearing Secretary of State Kellogg make an address.

The Pennsylvania state building is a place to be visited and one of the finest at the exposition. Its outstanding feature is the continuous belt electrically operated and 350 feet in length and on which there are samples of every known natural and manufactured product of the state.

One of the most beautiful sights to be seen, especially at night, is the immense electrically lighted bell at the entrance to the exposition, according to Mr. Bott. There are 25,000 lights in it and they shade from a light yellow to a golden color. They appear as one immense light when all turned on at night. The exposition is something that every person should endeavor to see.

Alleged Chicken Thieves Arrested By State Troopers

Ellwood City Merchant Alleged To Have Bought Chickens From Gang

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 24.—A gang of alleged chicken thieves said to have been operating in Muddy Creek township and vicinity for several months, during which time hundreds of chickens were stolen, were arrested by Troopers Bridge and Henicheck, of Troop D, State Police, Butler barracks at the scene of their alleged operations last night.

Those arrested were: William Kennedy, aged 30; Mrs. William Kennedy, aged 19; Dallas Weimer, aged 21, and Norman Weimer, aged 14, all of Muddy Creek township. Sabeno Sabino, a storekeeper at Ellwood City, was also arrested by the troopers on a charge of buying the chickens from the gang,

According to the police the gang has been operating for several months, using a motor truck to haul their loot to Ellwood City and other points where they are alleged to have disposed of the chickens. The exact number of chickens stolen is not known but large numbers were taken from R. C. Weller of near Portersville, Willis McCartney, near Ellwood City, Roy Cleeland, William Thomas, George McGee and John Brenaman, all of Muddy Creek township.

The local state police have been investigating the chicken stealing for the past four or five weeks but were unable to catch the alleged operators until last night. They are being held at the Butler barracks for additional information.

Chicago Hotels Not To Raise Rates For Big Football Meet

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—There will be no increase of rates for hotel rooms stopping in Chicago for the Army-Navy football game on Soldier Field, November 27, it has been officially announced.

An agreement has been reached by the leading hotels to help support the city's best civic standards by maintaining the old rates, instead of boosting prices for the thousands who will pack the loop hotels and the leading ones in outlying districts.

"Regular room prices will prevail," John Burke, manager of the Congress Hotel, and president of the Hotel Association of Chicago says.

This stand of the hotels followed efforts by Mayor Dever and others, including President William R. Dawes of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Congressman Fred Britten through whose special efforts the game was brought here—to save Chicago from the stigma that fell upon other cities where the national classic has been played.

Complaints of overcharging invariably followed the game in most of the cities where it has been played,

Rooster Is Mothering Brood Of 100 Chicks

Cockerel "Shoos Off" Hens And Takes Full Charge Of His New Family

NORFOLK, Neb. Sept. 24. —A rooster with a keen sense of paternal duties is acting as mother to 100 chicks in the back yard of the G. V. Madsen home on South Ninth street. A few weeks ago he decided to enact a mother's role, and promptly proceeded to entice the major part of several flocks that had been cared for by hens with groups of twelve to fifteen chickens.

He was successful in his allurements, and also in chasing off the indignant hens he had bereft of their progeny. They stood around "jawing" about it for several days, but evidently gave it up as a bad job and paid no further attention to their recreant offspring.

The rooster shirks none of the responsibilities of motherhood. He calls his brood to him as evening approaches, stretches his wings and with no traces of awkwardness enacts the role of a hovering mother.

During the day he scratches furiously for worms and choice vegetation, and calls his scions to the feast when all is ready. He also acts as most efficient protector and gives vigorous chase to any prowling cats or curious, or unwelcome hens. When a rain storm approaches he stands in the door of the coop and sounds a warning to the chicks to come inside, and they obey his every call with promptness and enthusiasm.

And he's a regular "he" rooster. He greets the dawn with the clarion call of his breed and practices it at times during the day.

The machine was stolen from the flying field at Iola and Kansas officials believed the thief had headed East. The fugitive is said to have a cork leg and is an expert aviator. COUNTY WILL SEND GROUP

Large Delegation From Lawrence County To Attend State Convention

Sunday School leaders of Lawrence County will be pleased to learn that again the railroads are granting a reduced fare for the round trip to the State Sabbath School Convention at Reading on October 13, 14 and 15, and that credentials entitling delegates to this reduced fare can be secured from the County Secretary Mrs. W. J. Marshall.

In this county there should be quite a number of Sunday School Veterans who would be entitled to the Gold Medal which the State Sunday School Association presents during the convention each year to those who have been either officers or teachers or both continuously for fifty years, and information concerning these can be secured from our County President, Robt M. Strickler, Jr.

In Lawrence County practically one out of every four is enrolled in the Sunday Schools and in Pennsylvania almost two hundred thousand consecrated officers and teachers are engaged Sunday after Sunday in giving instruction in order that conduct and character may be rightly cultivated.

Religious Education can never be effectively accomplished without trained and enlightened leadership, and one of the agencies employed by the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association in the training of leadership is this Annual Convention which will be held at Reading, October 13, 14, 15.

For the coming year a working budget of $74,250.25 will be asked by the State Organization in order to carry on its various departments and maintain its present splendid field staff. Of this amount Lawrence County last year contributed $800.00.

The local committee at Reading have all arrangements completed for entertaining twenty five hundred delegates in homes and hotels. The main sessions will be held in the Rajah Temple, the largest auditorium in the city, while Divisional meetings will be held in five of the nearby churches.

Lawrence County is making preparation to send a fine delegation to this large gathering, and information pertaining to the convention can be had from the county President or Secretary.

In The News Here And There

NO BLAME THERE

NEW YORK—Franklin Chase Hoyt of the New York children's court rises in defense of children in general and youngsters of less than 16 years in particular. While he admits a startling increase in the number of youthfud bandits and a lowering of the average of first-offense criminals, he cites statistics to prove that the moral upset has not taken place among the city's real youngsters. The obvious conclusion to be drawn is that there is a lessening of restraint and a lowering of precept during the high school years. Justice Hoyt urges the same standard of moral guidance for adolescents as for juveniles, as one method of correcting the tendency toward youthful outlawry.

TWO ITEMS

CLEVELAND—Two news stories appear simultaneously, and with a fine ironic gesture—presuming that items can gesture, and why not—ask the world to make the most of a coincidence. The first item concerns a western writer who, with his family and a friend, is sailing in a small boat for Tahiti in search of peace and quiet, away from all modern noise and botheration . . . The second item is hidden away in a commercial report. It states simply that there is an increasing demand for phonographs and powerful radio instruments among the natives and white settlers of south sea islands . . . Go ahead, try to get away from noise!

NO SANTA CLAUS

NEW YORK—There really appears to be a minimum of cosmic justice after all. Sweeping improvements in living conditions in one of this city's former slums has practically removed the immediate need for charitable or "social" workers. The hitherto busy workers find themselves without work. "What'll we ever do to earn our living," one of them was heard to wail, "if things keep getting better?"

Clocks Centuries Old, But Still Keep Time

One In Glastonbury Abbey Ran 500 Years Without Ever Stopping

Glastonbury Abbey clock ran for about 500 years without a stop, whilst the church clock at East Hendren, a Berkshire village, which was stopped recently for repairs, has told the correct time day in and day out for four centuries.

It is claimed, however, that the clock in Rye parish church, which also has just been renovated, is the oldest public clock still in service with its original mechanism. It was built in 1515. Cannon balls were used as weights and the quarters were sounded by two life-size bronze figures of "quarter boys".

Eight-day movements in clocks were introduced about 1690. About that time nearly all clocks were constructed with calendar dials, then considered to be more important than the minute hand .

Freak clocks were greatly favored years ago. Fan-shaped clocks were constructed, also some in the form of a suspended bird cage. There was a sudden fashion for mystery clocks—just two hands on a glass dial. Where were the works? Usually the mechanism was about the size of a penny and concealed in the knobs opposite the pointer ends of the fingers. Moving weights inside the knobs caused the fingers to revolve. In Munich, Germany, there is a clock made entirely of straw, no glue even being used.

Astronomical clocks once enjoyed considerable popularity. A good example is found in an abbey in the New Forest. Another, with its sun, moon and signs of the zodiac, can be seen at Hampton court. It was made about 1540.

Many stories are told of this famous timepiece, which is known as the "clock of death". On the death of Anne of Denmark, wife of James I, it is said that the clock stopped suddenly.

The biggest clock in the British empire, now being built at Clydebank, and which has four dials each 26 feet across, will be controlled electrically from Greenwich.—Tit-Bits.

American Soldiers Get Greatest Pay of Any Fighters In The World; French Get Least

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24. — That the American soldier is the best paid soldier in the world has been known for many years. That at the present time he is getting more than fifty times what the French poiluis paid has not been so weele known. That is so, however, according to figures secured at the San Francisco Presidio.

The American soldier's yearly pay is $252 The French soldier soldier's yearly pay is $4.38. How they do it over there is a mystery to Uncle Sam's boys.

Only Great Britain approaches the United States in the amount of pay allotted to the individual soldier. The British soldier gets $240.90 per year.

Japan pays her troops at the rate of $23 per man per year. At that this figure is better than three times what Mussilini's soldiers are paid. The Italian trooper can save $6.20 a year if he puts his entire yearly salary into the bank.

Soldiers in some of the Central American armies are happy if they get their daily ration of tortillas and beans.

Honolulu Plantation Has Record Crop

(International News Service)

HONOLULU, Sept. 24. — More than 6,000 persons, 2,000 of whom were employes of Ewa plantation, this island, celebrated the end of the successful harvesting of a recard crop of 52,841 tons of sugar. This is the second "harvest home" at Ewa plantation and one of the few such celebrations ever held in the islands.

Last year Ewa had a crop of 50,800, which was itself a record. On "harvest home" day, every worker on the plantation is given a holiday and paid a full day's wages besides. Japanese, Filipinos, Chinese, Porto Ricans, Koreans and Portuguese make up the laboring class of the plantation.

POTATO CROP MAY BE SHORT

Federal State Crop Reports Indicate Drop In State Production

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—A decrease of approximately 780,000 bushels in the Pennsylvania potato prospects during the previous month is indicated by the September 1 report of the Federal-State Crop Reporting service. Slight decreases are also reported for the other eastern producing states while crop prospects in the central states show a five per cent increase.

The Pennsylvania crop is estimated to be 23,800,000 bushels as compared with an average of 25,000,000 bushels for the past five years. The condition of the crop is best in the counties north and west of the mountains and lowest in the southeastern quarter of the state, the condition in the commercially important eastern district being 78 per cent, identical with the average for the whole state. Digging has started in the southern counties. No reports of serious frost damage in the northern potato producing counties have been received.

The present forecast for the United States is 352,000,000 bushels which is 11 per cent below the average but 8 per cent above the 1925 crop.

In spite of the decrease in prospects in the east, more potatoes will be available in the eastern states this year than last season because of a 25 per cent increase over the 1925 crop in New York state.

Shipments from the leading eastern and central late potato states up to Septemberf 18 were 10,985 carloads or 7,674 less than those for the same period a year ago. Maine and Long Island are the only eastern areas showing increased shipments so far this season over 1925.

Adopt Report That U. S. Reservations Be Given Acceptance

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—The world court delegate conference Thursday adopted the report of the judicial committee, proposing that all of the United States reservations to the world court be accepted, providing a satisfactory interpretation is given by the United States on the second part of the fifth reservation.

Each member state is expected to send a separate note to the United States announcing its acceptance of the reservations, but delicately suggesting that the acceptance is conditional upon a satisfactory interpretation of the fifth reservation's latter part, which provides that the world court shall take up no cases affecting United States interests without the consent of the United States.

Chicago Gold Coast To Pay High For Army-Navy Football Seats

CHICAGO
By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—This city's Armours, Swifts and other rich families of the "Gold Coast" along the castle-studded banks of Lake Michigan will pay from $2,000 to $2,500 to witness the Army-Navy football tilt in Soldier's field here November 27.

The game, played for the first time away from the east, will be the mid-west's outstanding sporting-social event.

Faced by the tremendous cost of bringing the entire membership of the United States military academies at West Point and Annapolis here to witness the game, Chicagoans in charge of arrangements for the gridiron clash have announced that 500 boxes in the stadium will be auctioned off to society leaders.

Each box contains six seats and all are located in desirable sections.

Thirty boxes are to be used for the army and navy and a special box has been reserved for President and Mrs. Coolidge, who may attend.

Prices for regular tickets to the game have not yet been announced, but the choice seats will cost in the neighborhood of $10 each.

If the sale of boxes to Chicago's wealthy brings a large sum, it is possible some seats as low as $5 each will be offered the public.

The agreement under which the historic game will be played in Chicago provides that not only must Chicago transport the two teams and the school's membership here but in addition 40,000 tickets are allotted to each academy. These tickets are to be sold by the academies to their alumni and the proceeds will enrich the schools' athletic funds.

Forty thousand tickets will be offered the public in addition to the select box seats.

It is estimated that more than $300,000 will be needed to entertain the teams and the middies and cadets in Chicago. They will be brought here on special trains and assigned quarters in the city's most luxuriant hotels.

Congressmen, who in past years have received several tickets each for the Army-Navy game, will be disappointed this fall. The committee in charge has announced that congressmen and their friends will not be permitted to buy any large amount of the much-sought pasteboards.

At least ten per cent of the tickets, it is already admitted, will fall into the hands of speculators and it is predicted that ordinary tickets calling for space in the far-flung sections will bring as high as $50 each on the day of the game.

To prevent ticket scalpers from operating to any great extent a careful check is to be made of the names of all individuals making reservations for a large number of seats.

Travelin' Pair Also Listen In On Fight; Heard It All Too

(By KATE MOORHEAD)

Zekiel Brown come up to Hepsibah and me sittin on the bench in the park the other day and sez to us, "what you folks goin to bet on the fight? Whos your man?" Well I had forgot about there bein a championship fight but Hepsy allus reads the sports page and is jest a step ahead of the sport writer when it comes to noshuns.

"Did you say, who wuz goin to win that boxin match? she sed, Well who has been winnin it since Demsey wuz champeen, I wanta know?" Then she and Zeke had a jawin match right then and there, and I hurried that old maid friend of mine away, cause I thought there would be somebody with a black eye there in the park.

Before we left, as Hepsy wuz jest in the act of putton on her white cotton gloves and pickin up her umbrel, Zeke suggested mebby wed like to come over and here his radio brodcastin the fight on Thursday night. Of course Hepsy didn't like to say shed go, but then she did wanta hear who won, so she sed she'd be a good sport even if he wuz awful illbred and she would come and bring her nittin.

Well we arove at Browns house and Mrs. Brown seemed right pleezed to see us, and sed she wuz awful tickled we come cause we could sit in the living room with her and nit, while the men folks lissened to the Dempsey-Tunney fight over the radio in the dinin room. But Hepsy soon informationed that we had come to lissen to the fight.

Well we wuz sitting there talkin about the dreary wether and Hepsy sed "My my, It is so close. I think mebby the closeness is caused by the humility in the air." Zeke sed he hoped it wouldn't humiliate that Static and keep the wires buzzin sos we couldn't here the blows in Philadelphia. "Well," sez I, "Any way the wind blows, I dont wanta here it. I have red so much about that Hurry cane in Floridy and I dont think much of blows." But he explained he ment—blows—punches, uppercuts, knock outs. Of course I pertended I knowed what he wuz talkin about and smiled real sweet like.

Then the pronouncer come and yelled thru his nose that Dempsey wuz enterin the ring. "What ring is that, I wanted to know, but Zeke sed that wuz where they fought. Then the man with the adenoids sed they wuz bandagin the fighters hands. "Bandagin there hands," Hepsy sed "Now I gnowed there wuz bad business goin on, the poor fellahs and they aint even started to fighten yet. I wonder who did it. I spose some smart aleck in the crowd whod bet a lot of money."

Mr. Macafee sed that Dempsey wuz wearin a bathrobe lined with red silk. Now can you imagine that, wearin a bathrobe right out there where everybody's lookin at him. I thought it was scandlous and sed as much, but Zeke sed women folks wuz a blame nuisance when it come to lissen in on a fight.

But jest think, wearin bulky thing like a bathrobe, he mighta knowed he'd trip and that Tunney fellah would punch him good. Now I jest bet Mr. Tunney wuz wearin a swimmin shirt and plus four pants, sos he could get around real quick like the real estate men in Floridy last winter.

Then the bell wuz rung and we dug our nails into our palms for all get out while Dempsey, the whirlwind boyish fighter as described by the pronouncer, wuz given a lotta uppercuts and punches. The man kep tellin the radiant crowd how it wuz drizzlin and how Dempsey wuzn't near as good a fighter as he wuz three years ago until I jest couldn't stand it eny longer and went over to that drum on top of the radio box and yelled, "Sos your old man." But Hepsy sed that didn't do no good and she got to argufying with Heskiah about Dempsey bein the best even if he was standin up to blows.

Then there wuz another yell. The pronouncer sed a fellah wuz usin his back for a tablet and tryin to write. "Dempsey and Tunney is in the center of the ring, now there sparrin, now there in a clinch, Tunney plants opponent with left hook." "I knowed any person gettin up and bein a champion fighter would be a fish, but what do you know about batin them with hooks" Hepsey sed.

"Gee Whillikens, Dempsey got his nose mashed in and a black eye," Zeke sed, all excited. "Jest think, now he'll have to get it all parafined up again." My, I felt right sorry for his wife, she bein so young and purty like, why they mighta killed him. Then the fellah sed that Tunney give him two black eyes, and even mugged his ear. My he must be a nawful fighter. Hepsy wuzn't paying much attenshin to the fight now, she and Mrs. Brown wuz lookin at the pictures of Mr. Dempsey and Mrs. Tunney in the New Castle News. Mrs. Brown was takin Tunneys part and Hepsy wuz standin up for her favrite of course. Mrs. Brown wuz so mean she picked a flower from an old bokay on the stand and put it on the hed of her favrite. When she wuzn't lookin, Hepsy took the flower and put it on his chest and sed it otta be a lily, or words to that defect.

After that they started to argufyin and Mrs. Brown sed she had planned to make some lemonade cause we wuz her guests but she'd be obliged to give the lemon to Hepsy, and after sayin that, she up and put that citrus frute right on the head of Dempsey. When I looked at Hepsy next, what wuz that old maid doin but jabbin the eyes out of that Mr. Tunney with her nitting needles and jest lookin black as enything.

The fight seemed over, and the fellah speakin in Philadelphia sed that they would be charitable and give Dempsey 2 rounds and enyhows he took his likin like a gentleman and he wuz goin back to his famly and wuzn't goin to fight no more. He shook hands with his frend who wuz the new fightin champeen of the world.

At them words, Mr. and Mrs. Brown danced up and down and simply yelled at Hepsy, "Who did you say wuz the champeen fighter of the world?" She went over and give them both the high fallutin look she gives on occasion, and sed in a high shrill voice, "It ain't Tunney, but it's sum people I know what dont stand very far away." With that thrust she handed them the lemon and flower and we walked out with our heds in the air, right glad Dempsey had wore his bathrobe, cause he wouldn't get a bad cold after stayin out in that drizzle.

Dozen Boats Prepare For Shark Hunts Along Pacific Coast Line

FAMOUS JOCKEY ENTERS MOVIES

By THOMAS C. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—A dozen or more boats are fitting out in Los Angeles harbor to hunt sharks this fall down the Lower California coast.

The industry, although new to southern California fishermen, is said to be profitably maintained by Japanese in Baja, Cal. The fins of the predatory fishes are esteemed a delicacy by the Chinese.

As in hunting whales, the fishermen use a harpoon. The fins of the sharks are removed and dried in the sun.

Beautiful girls who come to Hollywood with the hope of breaking into the movies are often handicapped by an imcomplete wardrobe. The Screen Sister's league is an organization now being formed for the purpose of giving film candidates access to modish apparel from evening gown to riding suits.

The league, according to Mrs. Clarence Brown, wife of the well-known director, will rent the garments to the girls for a nominal consideration.

"Clothes mean everything to a girl trying to get into pictures," Mrs. Brown explained. "We will start out supplying clothes to a group of about 20 'extras', and when these girls win better parts, we shall adopt another group."

Women are preparing to usurp another "masculine" occupation. Miss Gertrude Jeffers, 18, a recent high school graduate, applied to a downtown theatre for a position as a stage carpenter.

John Kelly, manager of the theatre, placed her name at the top of his waiting list.

"I am well qualified to become a stage-hand," the slender little applicant declared. "I can shift scenes, place spotlights, paint scenery and do anything a man can do."

The success of the song, "Valencia," and the impending introduction of a dance by the same name, has been reflected in the movies by a tremendous vogue for Spanish stories.

Enthusiastic over the reception given "The Torrent" and "Mare Nostrum," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio is now producing three more stories with a Castilian setting. Greta Garbo, the Cosmopolitan player who made her debut in "The Torrent", has just completed the leading feminine role in another story by Ibanez, "The Temptress".

Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry are now working on "The Great Galeoto," a picture which gives an intimate glance into the life of the Spanish aristocracy.

Uncle Sam's weather department has joined forces with the government and county forestry departments to reduce the menace of forest fires in Los Angeles county, it was learned today. Three observation stations of the new "fire-weather service" will be established.

The stations will collect data on the velocity and direction of winds in the timbered regions and will chart temperature and humidity tables. These observations, it was said, will be invaluable to foresters. Each of the stations will be connected with the forestry department bureau headquarters by telegraph.

HE WOULD NOT GIVE UP

James Smith, residing at 104 Jefferson street, employed at B. & O. R. R. this city, said when interviewed today: "I knew that the All-wise Creator must have put on earth a cure for asthma and other afflictions in the way of growing plants or weeds, so every time I would hear of a new medicine or an advertised treatment for asthma or catarrh, I tried it. I also tried all the doctors and they did not do me any good, so a friend of mine advised me to try World's Tonic, so I bought a bottle and after taking it for several days, all my asthma and catarrh is gone, and I feel like a new man. I not only suffered with asthma, but I had to take physics all the time. I would bloat up after eating and I had a sour stomach and severe headaches. I lost flesh all the time. My nerves were poor, but all of that is now over. I advise everybody to try this new medicine, which I understand has been the means of saving many lives here in New Castle in the short time it has been here.

World's Tonic is for sale at Smith's, also McKee's, Paisley's, Eckerd's, and all other reliable drug stores, $1.00 a bottle.

The operation will be performed in a government hospital. He is widely and favorably known and has many friends, who are hoping for his speedy recovery.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

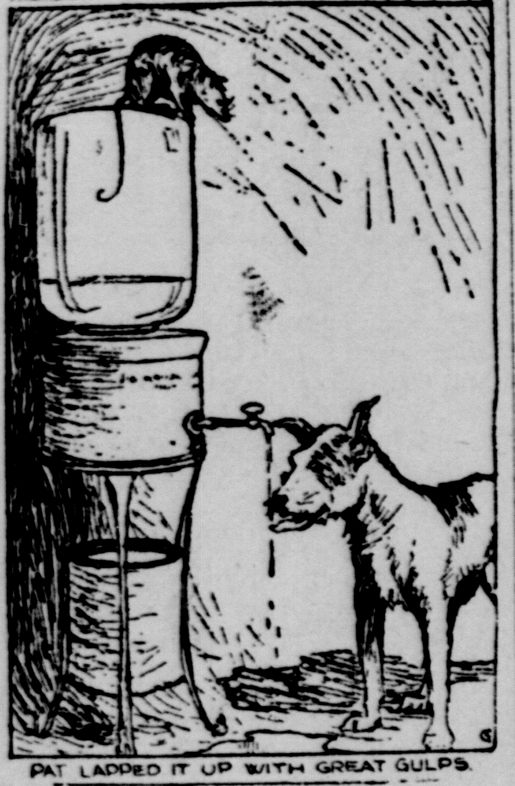
PAT TAKES TO DRINK



PAT LAPPED IT UP WITH GREAT GULPS

Pat looked up. From sheer surprise he opened wide his mouth, but he did not close his eyes, and who could blame him?

Ratty was leaning for over the edge of the stand up which he had climbed holding something in his cupped claws and squealing at Pat as though that Dog was deaf. As Pat stared upward, mouth and eyes open, Ratty opened his claws and down spattered something that was cool and refreshing. Drops—Pat could feel them trickling down his nose! One splashed into his eye and for the second almost blinded him, but Pat blinked it out, giving scant heed to the smart of it for the joy in the feel of the drops upon his tongue.

"Water!" gasped Pat, and wagged not alone his tail, but his whole shaggy body. "More, Ratty, more!"

Pat stuck out his tongue just as far as it would go and the faithful Rat, as pleased as Punch at being able once more to help a friend in need, turned himself into a sprinkler and worked just as fast as he could.

But Ratty's claws were small and Pat's thirst was great, and falling as fast as the Rat could drip them, the drops of water did not satisfy poor Pat's thirst. At last the poor little Rat grew weary and began to pant for breath, and then just in the nick of time Pat came to his senses.

"Nothing like being shut up in the dark to make a fellow stupid!" grumbled he. "I must have left some of my wits in that box when I jumped out. Hold on, Ratty! Stop sprinkling me!

"Sure and my ears are catching almost as much water as my mouth. I thank you from the tip of my tail for all that you've been doing for me, but 'tis time you stopped. Be after resting yourself, my fine lad, while I drink my fill. Sure, 'tis a water cooler you're standing on the brim of. Nothing but my own blindness kept me from spying it this long time. Not for nothing have I watched the trainmen fill their glasses. No glass need I, though! Stand by and see how a Dog drinks from a Two-Legs fountain."

Standing on his hind legs, Pat with his forepaws braced himself against the cooler. Then with his nose Pat pushed the spiggot. It moved. Down flowed the water in a swift stream into the basin beneath and Pat lapped it up with great gulps.

Next: "Shuffle 'Long, Ratty!"

GENE TUNNEY WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Outboxes Dempsey, Gains Decision

Jack Dempsey Only Shell Of Former "Killer"; Takes Neat Lacing From Ex-Marine

TUNNEY LACKS K. O. WALLOP

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—"When I lose my title I'll be flat on my back and thoroughly socked on the chin."

That has been Jack Dempsey's story for years, but last night he was not flat on his back, nor was he too thoroughly socked on the chin. But he lost the heavyweight championship of the world, and he lost it in a manner that was not dramatic nor even impressive. He simply had a fight with another man and the other man won.

Tunney Lacks Punch.

The other man won. It wasn't close, it wasn't even a good fight. The man that everybody has been talking about for years went down to defeat without flying the colors of a good, game fighting American. He had his chance. He hit the challenger on the jowl often, but he didn't have the punch and a second rate fighter went out to win the heavyweight title, the greatest gift competitieve sport has to offer.

Gene Tunney is not a fighter. Personally, I could think of three men who could beat him today and for all I know, his winning of the heavyweight title may mean a round robin series of fights in which it would be entirely possible for a contender like Johnny Risko to win the title. That's how bad Gene Tunney is.

Tunney had his chance to make a showing in beating Dempsey, but he would not take advantage of it. He fought a retreating fight, scoring only because the former champion couldn't hit him, and the challenger, soon to be crowned, was able to land with counter punches.

Tragic End For Champion.

But it was a tragic thing to see Dempsey lose as he did lose. Whatever idea he may have had in mind became a futile, empty gesture. When he went back to his corner, from the first round, in which he took thorough shellacking, Gene Normile attempted to tell the champion what to do. It was one of the few laughs of the occasion. Jack simply pushed Gene's wagging jaw away with his gloved hand, and that was that.

The champion, soon to be shorn of his title, was Jess Willard all over again, a man who was due to take a punch on the jaw and thought he was the only guy who knew what it was all about.

When Willard was socked on the chin at Toledo he went down and he tried to laugh. Dempsey was socked on the chin last night. He did not go down, but he tried to laugh. He couldn't. That's why it was tragic. A man who had popped off all his life about dying with his boots on died a competitieve death, and in the dying failed to give the customers so much as a thrill.

That made it tragic for the customers as well, but the poor saps thought they had seen something and went yammering out of the place imbued with the idea that their $27.50 had been well spent. The writer can understand the fifty cents.

Details By Rounds.

The fight was worth just about that much. Here are the gruelling details:—

Round One—Mr. Dempsey stepped out, bobbed his head, made overt gestures at Mr. Tunney, and that unimpressed young man proceeded to make a fellow that he had touted to high heavens look foolish.

Round Two—Also in favor of Mr. Tunney. Dempsey, supposed to be a man-killer, was not quite the same gent we knew in the old days. As a matter of fact, he never was what the boys were pleased to believe he was.

RoundThree—More of the same.

Round Four—Ditto.

Round Five—Ditto, ditto.

Round Six—The champion let go his best shot. It caught the challenger on the button, but failed to drop him. Which surprised both the challenger, the champion and the customers. The boy thought he had something, but when the punch landed and nothing else landed the beef was on. It was Dempsey's one round.

Round Seven—The champion kept coming but the challenger kept countering. Even round.

Round Eight—The champion was all through, but he did not know it.

Round Nine—He was beginning to suspect it.

Round Ten—He knew it all to well.

There's a new heavyweight champion of the world today which is, perhaps, just as well. But there might have been a better choice.

Largest Crowd Hears Bout Returns At News

Although Crowd Favors Dempsey To Win, Fans Switch To Tunney

Downfall Of Champion Comes As Surprise To Many Local Fans

The largest crowd that ever gathered at The News to receive the returns from a sporting event clustered every inch of space in North Mercer street last night and heard Gene Tunney crowned heavyweight champion of the world, the ex-Marine wresting the title from Jack Dempsey, on points, after 10 rounds of fighting.

The crowd commenced gathering at eight o'clock and at 8:30 p. m., a large crowd had gathered as the returns were being broadcasted by The News. Due to the excellent arrangements which had been made by The News, the special telegraph wires carried a minute account of the fighting, direct from the ring in Philadelphia.

The crowd was a "Dempsey" crowd but the Tunney element asserted itself lustily as the returns of the first round were received and toward the middle of the fight the sentiment had changed to Tunney as the fans figured that the ex-Marine was fighting the champion blow for blow, meeting him half way and giving more than he received.

When the decision was received there was a mighty roar even though it was a surprise to most of the fans as throughout the country, not only New Castle, Dempsey had been considered a three to one shot to win and very few critics picked Tunney to win. Here in New Castle, Dempsey was favored, excepting by a few.

Bicycle Race For H. S. Pupils

Physical Director Klee In Charge Of New Feature At High

Something new along the line of athletics is to be introduced at the Senior high school Saturday morning by William Klee, director of physical education, when a bicycle race will be held in which all members of the High school are eligible to enter.

The race has been talked up considerably of late and a goodly number of students are expected to be on hand to take place. Extra class activities such as this are to be introduced to give all those who have nothing to do on Saturday a chance to have some real wholesome fun and also get a little credit in the bargain for the marks of all those who enter will be raised considerably.

Pennant Races In Both Leagues

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—If Cincinnati wins only one game of its doubleheader with Philadelphia this afternoon, St. Louis can clinch the National league pennant by beating the Giants. Should the Reds win all their remaining games, including the contest with St. Louis on Sunday, St. Louis would be forced to defeat the Giants both today and tomorrow in order to do better than tie Cincinnati.

The Reds had a close call yesterday, barely managing to hold the Phillies to a 15-inning tie. This game will be played off in this afternoon's double header.

The Yankees play the St. Louis Browns today while Cleveland engages the Athletics in a doubleheader. New York needs three victories out of four to clinch the pennant, providing Cleveland makes a clean sweep.

St. Louis led the Reds by two and one-half games this morning, while the Indians trailed the Yankees by two games.

Marines Happy As Tunney Wins

(International News Service)

QUANTICO, Va., Sept. 24—Some 3,500 marines went to bed, hoarse but happy in the small hours of this morning.

All night long they surged through the camp yelling, cheering and telling the world that Gene Tunney, the new heavyweight champion, once was a marine. It was in utter defiance of the rules and regulations, their staying up all night but the company commanders and the commandant himself winked at it and even joined in the celebration. Nowhere perhaps was Gene Tunney's victory over Jack Dempsey more sincerely celebrated.

Tunney Defeated Me Fair And Square Says Former Champion

By GEORGE BARRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 24.—"No alibis to offer," declared Jack Dempsey today after he was dethroned by Gene Tunney "I was whipped fairly and squarely.

"Tunney outmatched me, he outpunched me, he outboxed me, and he couldn't do anything else but win," Dempsey said. "I couldn't get started, nothing worked right with me. I was missing punches by a foot that I used to land on the button. Why I missed them I don't know—shall I say it was because I was off form—or because Gene was too clever?

"Let's say it was because of Gene's boxing skill, for he did duck and he did stidestep and he did block. Several times it seemed I was under way at last, that the old steam was back and that I could bring down Gene, but I'd just flash and the legs wouldn't carry me into fast attacks and fast follow-ups."

Dempsey had nothing but praise for Tunney. "I think that in meeting Gene Tunney, I met the best man—by far—that I have ever faced in my career," he declared. "He was fast, he was skillful and although his punches didn't drop me they had enough force to batter my complexion out of shape.

"Gene has been a credit to the game, through all the years he has been fighting and the real comfort I have in surrendering my title to him is that the new heavyweight champion is an honor to the game, a fine young American and one who will always uplift boxing."

"Inside Stuff" On Big Fight

By "BUGS" WALTHER

It's only natural that you folks should look to me today to tell you about the great fight in Philadelphia last night, in which a new champion was crowned and anotner champion was downed.

Well, the "I told you sos" have it today. At the last calculation the boys who pick winners after the fights are over had a big lead and only half the votes had been counted.

That was a great throng gathered here in front of The News on Thursday night. The rain didn't dampen their spirits one bit, and when I announced that Tunney had won the crowd went wild—that is, the Tunney followers; but the boys who had picked the other fighter were not so wild in one sense of the word.

If you will remember back several days you will find that I really did pick the winner. Here was my prediction: either Dempsey or Tunney will win. Right.

Tunney took the crown, Dempsey took a beating and Tex Rickard took the coin. It is hard to find out what the fans took or received, unless they brought home a piece of the Sesqui-Centennial real estate.

Dempsey was not the fighter last night that battered down Jess Willard at Toledo, O., nor the man who, after being out in his bout with Firpo, came back to sock the South American into the next county.

Jack was either over trained or overrun to death with process servers and court suits. Dempsey said before entering the ring that he wasn't worried, but after a few hard socks in the chin he changed his mind and started to worry.

Expect Throngs At Horse Races

Unusually Large Entry List For Races At New Castle Fair Attracts Many

BRILLIANT FIELD TO TAKE TO POST

With 225 entries received for the fair races at the New Castle Fair next week, horse race fans here are anxiously awaiting the start of the opening event which will send the best horses of this section of the country to the post.

Entries have been received here from 11 states and one province in Canada. They include Mississippi, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, North Carolina, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, Kansas and Brussels, Ontario.

In the 2:12 pace an unusually large number of entries have been received. Thirty-three horses, including some of the fastest horses in the Grand Circuit will make a bid for the prize.

Thirty-six horses have been registered for the 2:17 pace, 47 for the 2:17 trot, 36 for the 2:24 pace, 54 for the 2:24 trot and 29 in the three-year-old trot.

With such a brilliant field of entries it is doubtful if the local racing program has ever or can be surpassed by any half mile tracks in the state.

Four thousand dollars in cash prizes will be awarded, in addition to a large number of beautiful silver trophies donated by local concerns.

With good weather conditions prevailing next week all attendance records at the race track are expected to be shattered.

Class B. Schools Clash On Saturday Afternoon—Good Game Expected

Coach Burnham Has Fine Team Rounded Together —Meet Wilmington Next Friday

Coach Burnham and his Union high school gridiron warriors will invade Slippery Rock Saturday afternoon to meet the strong Slippery Rock high school in the first class B high school game of the season.

Union high was beaten 18 to 6 last year by Slippery Rock, but hopes are being entertained for victory tomorrow which will avenge the setback received last year.

The team under the tutelage of Coach Burnham, a Michigan man, has been progressing very nicely, and indications are that Union high school will be represented by a formidable eleven this fall.

Probable Lineup.

The lineup which will start for Union high tomorrow will probably consist of Funkhouser and Reck, ends; Hughes, Wochner or Chill, tackles; Annualla, Wiech or Hoffmaster, guards; Rishel or Wallace, center; and Carr, Schiek, Marlow and Thompson in the backfield.

Both teams are evenly matched and a lively tussle is sure to result.

Friday, October 1, Union high meets New Wilmington at the Union field. The college town boys won a verdict over Union last year at the Ben Franklin field in a hard fought encounter, and another good game is in the offing.

To Play Bessemer.

Union's third game will find them pitted against Bessemer on Ocotber 9. Interest is running high at Union high school this fall and considerable enthusiasm is being shown by students, faculty and people of that district. Record throngs are expected to turn out for all home games on the schedule.

BULLDOGS TO PLAY ON GRID

Coach Jack Reader Is Having Hard Time Picking Regulars

New Castle Bulldogs formerly the South Side Bulldogs will have a fast team on the field this coming season. Thirty candidates have reported for practice and Coach Jack Reeder is having a hard time picking a regular eleven.

The following candidates are seeking a regular berth on the South Side eleven: Genock, Van Fossen, Rowe, Hanna, Harris, Taylor, Merriman, Eardley, Jones, Bogden, Cuba, A. Thomas, F. Thomas, Williams Kulkin, Lewis, Kulha, Davis, Parker, Shook, Mariacher, Copperthwaite, Watson, Rogovin, Nocera, Steinbrink, Mails, and several others whose names were not learned. The Bulldogs would like to schedule games with all lightweight teams in the county.

Any teams desiring games write to J. N. Parker, 1026 South Mill street, or call Bell Phone 44.

Last Night's Fights

AT PHILADELPHIA—Gene Tunney won decision and world's heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey, 10 rounds. Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia won decision over Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul, six rounds. Harry Persson of Sweden defeated Sergeant Jack Adams, St. Louis, on tecnical knockout in fourth of scheduled six rounds. George Godfrey of Leiperville, Pa., won decision over Bob Lawson, Alabama, six rounds. Monte Munn, Lincoln, Neb., knocked out Hugo Clements, Camden, N. J., in first of scheduled six rounds. Jack De Mave of Hoboken, N. J., knocked out Joe Stoessel, New York, in third of scheduled six rounds. Yale Okum of New York won decision over Martin Burke, New Orleans, six rounds.

My Greatest Ambition Is Realized-Tunney

By GARRY SCHUMACHER
I. N. S. Special Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—"What has been the greatest ambition of my life has been realized. I have won the heavyweight championship of the world.

"But in winning the championship I set another goal for myself. And that is to be worthy of the title; to be a champion in fact as well as in name."

In that earnest and modest manner did Gene Tunney, the devil dog pride of Greenwich Village, New York's first heavyweight champion, accept the honors he won with the weight of his first in the rain soaked sesqui arena last night.

Praises Handlers.

Gene paid high tribute to his handlers.

"Without their help I never could have won," he declared. "Lou Fink brought me into the ring at the very top of my fighting form and once there the advice of Billy Gibson and Jimmy Bronsen was invaluable to me.

"I never had any doubt as to the outcome. I was confident when the match was made that I would be the next champion of the world and my confidence increased as my training progressed. I knew I was 'right' and I was ready to make the fight of my career.

"In the ring I was sure of myself every second. Not one of Dempsey's punches hurt me. I think I proved to the great crowd that I was his master.

"Jack fought a clean fight and the referee, Tommy Reilly, handled it perfectly. It was rather unfortunate the bout was marred by rain but I think it handicapped me more than Dempsey.

"My plans for the immediate future are, of course, uncompleted. They are in the hands of Billy Gibson, my manager. But I know that he is just as anxious as I am that I be worthy of the championship."

Concerning Harry Wills, Gene was a bit reticent.

"There is time enough to discuss Harry later on," he said.

NEW CASTLE AND CRAFTON PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Visitors To Present Strong Combination

New Castle High Hopes To Secure First Grid Victory Of Season

Revised Line-Up To Face Crafton—Game Starts At 3:30 O'clock

By "BUGS" WALTHER
Assistant Sports Editor

Having suffered the ignominy of a swift kick in the region of the anatomy commonly known as the "neck" by deadlocking with Mars High in the opening game of the season here last week, the New Castle High gridders are rarin' to go tomorrow afternoon, when they will have the strong Crafton High team as their opponents on Ben Franklin field.

The game, as formerly announced, will start at 3:30 o'clock, daylight savings time.

Crafton on Edge.

Crafton high has been grooming for this important battle for the past three weeks, and in the opening game of the season last week dusted off Ben Avon high 13 to 6, just to prepare for the tussle with the Bridenbaugh coached outfit in the Lawrence county seat. Crafton high has not forgotten the fact that New Castle's powerful 1925 team ran rough-shod over them here last year, and neither have they overlooked the fact that it is quite a trick to out-smart Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh, former Geneva college mentor, so with these two things uppermost in their minds the boys from the Pittsburgh district will invade Ben Franklin high stadium tomorrow afternoon to do battle with the team they have learned to fear.

In Kalloway and Huth the Crafton team has two mighty dangerous backfield men, and New Castle high will do well to keep at least one eye fastened on this pair during the encounter, otherwise one of them might be found standing behind the goal posts with a well defined smile breaking forth over his clear countenance. In the game with Ben Avon high last week the work of this pair of backs stood out like a sore thumb and they are prepared to open up with a few of their well known tricks when the time is ripe in the New Castle-Crafton battle.

Boys Perk Up.

If Crafton high had scouts at the New Castle-Mars game here last week they may have gained the opinion that New Castle high has an easy team this year and that they will do well to finish in the first division baseballically speaking, but Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is not one of those coaches who after suffering a sock on the nose waits for it to heal up. On the other hand the high school boys have been out there at Ben Franklin field every night this week and they have not had what one would call a pleasantly spent afternoon. Yes, New Castle high is ready to show the stuff that made championship here in other years.

Coach Bridenbaugh on Monday afternoon drew out his first string team with the following boys being assigned berths: McGrath, Millison, Christman, Kirk, Thomas, Robinson, Mooney, Ostrosky, Sillman, Klaber, Richards, Smith and Harper, and our of this array of material the coach will select 11 men to start the Crafton game.

Hard Workouts.

The boys have had three scrimmage sessions this week and every night the varsity team just naturally walked all over the scrubs for four, five and six touchdowns, and it was not "child's play" either. The varsity team as it stands today is many percentage points better than the team that started the Mars high game. The boys have been instilled with a "do or die" spirit and they are going to win that game Saturday or nothing matters.

The team held a long drill last night at the Franklin stadium with a steady downpour of rain upon them, but they didn't care about the rain, they cared more about winning that game Saturday afternoon. The field is a fine grassy plot and one that doesn't get muddy, but the boys got some inside dope in how to handle a ball on a slippery wet day, and although they are hoping that the sun shines Saturday, they don't care one bit if it doesn't and that's that.

Eager For Victory.

The fans of New Castle will find an entirely different team on the field this week The team that faced Mars high Saturday in the opening game was green, inexperienced and lacked the polish of former New Castle teams, but after a week of hard work the officials are willing to admit without the sign of a blush that New Castle high's football team is now ready to show the stuff that they are capable of displaying.

While Coach Bridenbaugh was reluctant to announce his starting lineup for the Crafton game the writer picks the following team with the Crafton team also announcing its lineup:

New Castle High		Crafton High
McGrath or Sherer	L.E.	Landefeld
Millison	L.T.	C. Necley
Mooney or Kirk	L.G.	G. Smith
Robinson or Kirk	C	Taylor

Class League Schedule Is Rearranged

Mahoningtown Junior High School Unable To Place Team

Due to a series of unforeseen circumstances, it has become necessary to rearrange the schedule of games for the class league football team.

The schedule as was announced before had made provisions for a Senior and Junior league, but Physical Director William Klee of the Senior High school was informed of the inability of Mahoningtown Junior High to put a team on the field that would average 90 pounds, and it was thought to be inadvisable by the officials of the Mahoningtown school to attempt to play in the class league.

With the withdrawing of the Mahoningtown team it was decided to do away with the Junior League and to have only the Senior League. North Street Junior High was invited to participate, but due to the lightness of their team they refused and will make up a light schedule of their own in the near future. With the elimination of these two teams the league will now be made up of the following teams: Ben Franklin Junior High, the Sophomores, the Juniors and the Seniors of the Senior High school, each team of which will play three games and the team having the highest percentage of games won will be crowned the champs at the end of the season.

The revised schedule is to be as follows:

Octotber 8—Seniors vs. Sophomores.
October 15—Juniors vs. Ben Franklin.
October 22—Seniors vs. Ben Franklin.
October 29—Juniors vs. Sophomores.
November 5—Sophomores vs. Ben Franklin.
November 12—Seniors vs. Juniors.

Church Teams Play Tonight

Methodists And Central Presbyterians In Title Battle Tonight

The championship of the New Castle Church League will be decided tonight at the Croton Field weather permitting. The game will start at 6 o'clock, daylight savings time. The two teams concerned are the Methodists and Central Presbyterians.

The Methodists are banking on Ralph Baker to bring them through to victory tonight, while the Presbyterians have Melder or Bush available for service.

It was doubtful early today whether or not the game would be played tonight, owing to the fact that it rained plenty last night and early this morning, and the grounds are probably very wet.

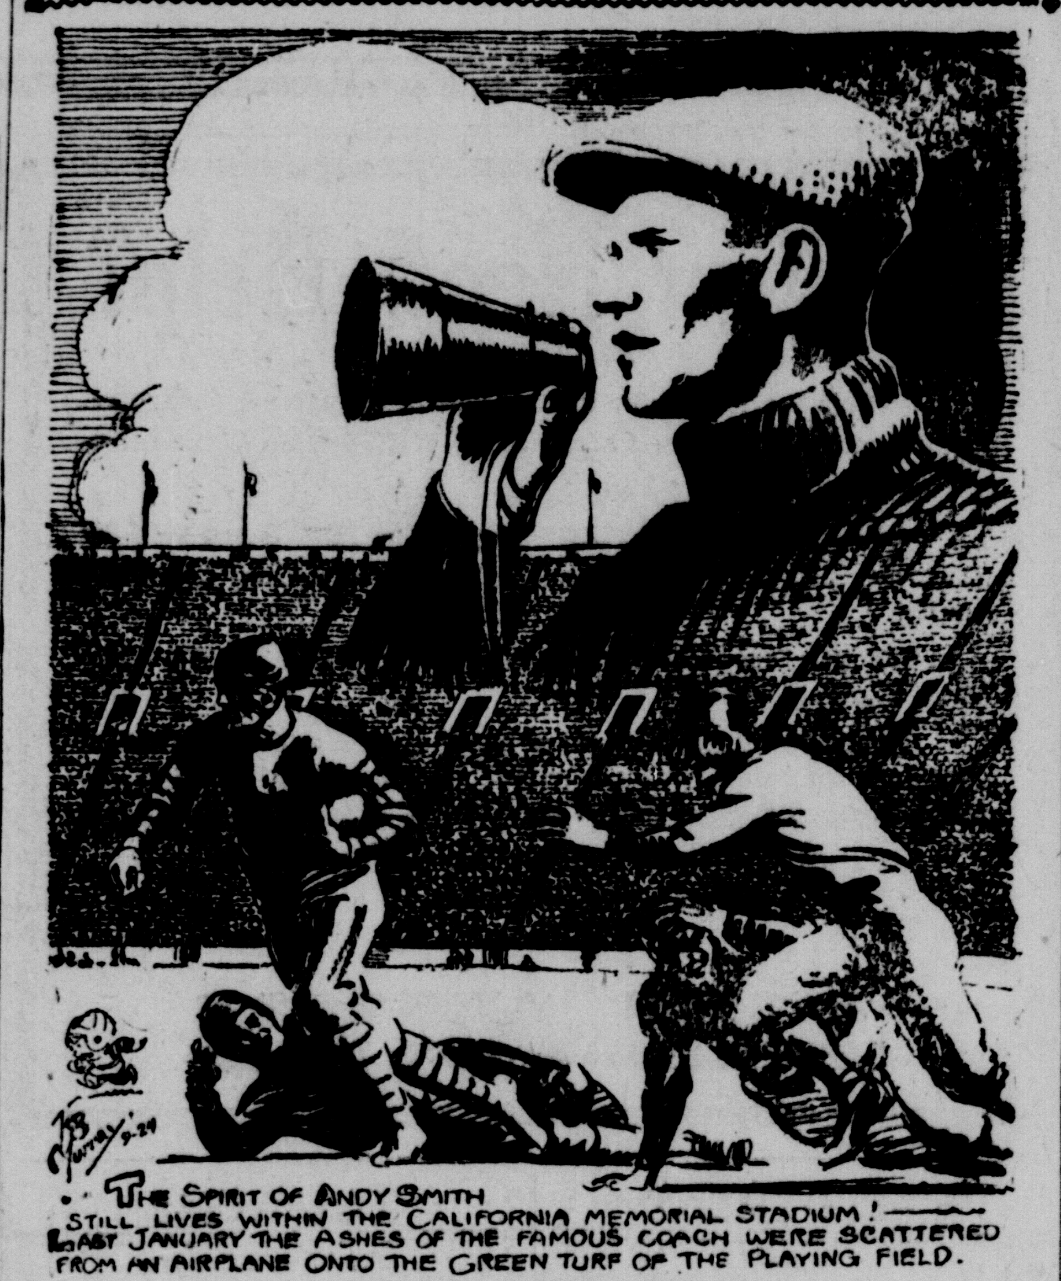
Andy's Spirit Lives By Feg Murray



THE SPIRIT OF ANDY SMITH STILL LIVES WITHIN THE CALIFORNIA MEMORIAL STADIUM! — LAST JANUARY THE ASHES OF THE FAMOUS COACH WERE SCATTERED FROM AN AIRPLANE ONTO THE GREEN TURF OF THE PLAYING FIELD.

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

When the University of California football team plays its home games this fall in its magnificent memorial stadium, a most unusual as well as a most dramatic situation will occur. Those of the team who played last year or the year before and learned their football from the late Andy Smith, will literally be playing in the ashes of their beloved coach!

Truly the spirit of Andrew Latham Smith will hover over the beautiful playing field of the million-and-a-half-dollar edifice there in Strawberry Canon, for the earthly remains of that great coach, in the form of his ashes, were scattered on the green turf between the goal posts from an army airplane piloted by a friend of the dead leader last January, while the bells of the campus campanile tolled the hour of noon and a small crowd stood bareheaded in the empty and silent stadium.

Capt. Griffin, Earl Jabs, Dick Blewett and other stars of Andy Smith's last team will fight as never before once their cleats bite into the sod upon which the ashes of their friend and tutor lie, for they cannot help but be inspired by the fact that the playing field is Andy Smith now, and that he is still around somewhere, kneeling at the sidelines with dipper of water in his hand, or barking out directions through his little megaphone.

Coach "Nibs" Price, who knows the Smith system of coaching better than any living man, will be there to carry on as Andy's successor. But the fire and spark of the tall, raw-boned "Big Swede" will be greatly missed, and "Nibs" Price will have to be a patient, tireless, inspired coach to equal the work of his predecessor, whose teams went undefeated for five years at the University of California.

Feg Murray Says—

Rickard, after promoting his first fight in Philadelphia, will probably agree that the thing to do is to change the spelling of his nickname to "Tax".

Bobby Jones' Popularity Undimmed By Defeat

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The outcome of the national amateur golf tourney presents an interesting sidelight on sports and the attitude of fandom registered at times.

Here we have Bobby Jones, apparently ruling the golf world with an iron (and steady) niblick, dethroned as king of the simon pures by George Von Elm.

And the result?

Due acclaim accorded Von Elm for his feat in dethroning Bobby and winning one of the major titles.

And Bobby's popularity and esteem as a golfer undimmed.

The public wanted to see Bobby capture his third major title in one season. They wanted him to set a new golfing mark by winning the national amateur three times in succession. And when he failed they immediately proceeded to accept him a bit more warmly then they had before.

He is still considered the game's greatest golfing idol.

There is a simple reason for this—Jones' frank, determined manner and a clear idea of sportsmanship with which he has become imbued. This and the fact that he plays golf as no over man ever played it.

He carries not the ritzsy air of Hagen or the carefree mood of Chic Evans. He plays a dogged, determined, grim game. But, man, how he plays it! To Von Elm the public gives the credit due a player who takes two emphatic defeats at the hands of a star like Jones with good grace and comes back for more—and victory.

Dutch Ruether, about to collect a nice bit of gravy in the coming world's series, had worn the uniforms of five other major league clubs before he joined the Yanks late this season.

He started out with a brief trial with the Pittsburgh Pirates and then, after grabbing a bit more experience on the Pacific coast, where he got his start, was given the keen eye by the Cubs.

That outfit decided Dutch couldn't brighten the future of Chicago in the National league and released him to the Cinci Reds.

He won three games and lost two for the latter team his first season in Ohio and the expected happened—he was sent to the minors. That was in 1918. Dutch's ticket was for Chattanooga but he refused to report. When the following spring rolled around the Reds, not knowing what else to do, gave him another chance.

All he did that season was to help pitch the club to a pennant. He won a total of 19 games and lost but six. He topped off his season by winning one game in the terrible world's series with the White Sox. The next season he won 16 and lost 12 games and the next season found himself with the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Reds wanted Rube Marquard and traded Dutch for him.

He won but 10 games his first year as a Robin but the next season knocked off 21 games and lost but 12.

In the winter of 1924-25 the Dodgers let Ruether go to the Washing Senators and he proceeded to play an important part in the victory of Harris' team by turning in 18 victories and losing seven.

Then came the present season, his failure to please Harris and his eventual release to the Yanks at the waiver price.

Tagging All Bases

(International News Service)

The Reds could do no better than tie the Phillies after battling 15 inning. The score was 6 to 6, with Carlson holding his own against Rixey and Donohue. An error by Roush let two men score.

The Braves drove another nail in Pittsburgh's coffin as Edwards had the better of Kremer in a 2 to 1 pitching duel. Rhyne made a costly error.

All American league clubs were idle.

"Thrill Director" Is Latest Movie Job

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 24.—A new profession, that of "thrill director", has been added to the highly specialized motion picture industry.

B. Reeves Eason, who filmed the thrilling chariot races in "Ben Hur" is the pioneer. He created the new occupation. Eason arranges horse races, auto smashups, battle scenes, mob violence and perilous stunts of all kinds.

Ben Franklin Team Develops

Opening Game To Be Played With Juniors On October 15

Swinging into the third week of training the Ben Franklin football squad are busy at work perfecting their team play under the watchful eyes of Coaches Norton and Nelson. The Ben Franklin team has in the lineup only one veteran of last year's successful eleven and that in Andy Bears, formerly an end, but he is now being run as a guard and will be without a doubt the strongest lineman on the team.

The backfield has not been selected fully as yet but it is a well known fact that Charles Berlew will hold down the [illegible] halfback position. Charles by the way is one of the fastest men on the squad and as he has had varied experience he can be depended upon holding down this position. Rus Hannon has been doing the signal barking and counted on as the regular quarterback. Among those who are playing on the line are Bill Johns and Joe Wagoner, both of whom played last year. Ken Moser who is playing center, Ed Linton and Arlie Spicer both of whom show promise of developing into fast ends and as there are many others on hand a strong eleven will no doubt be turned out by the opening game with the Juniors on October 15.

Nurmi To Train In Iowa School

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 24.—Paavo Nurmi, the fleet-footed Finn, will train at the Drake university here when he returns to the United States this fall.

Announcement that Nurmi will arrive in Des Moines about Nov. 15, to start training for his onslaught against any and all existing distance and track records, was made by Ossie Solem, Drake athletic mentor. The Finn, it was said, will pass up the gymnasiums and athletic clubs of the east, coming directly here. He will train at Drake's new field house, and December 11 will make his first public appearance of this season's tour when he will attempt new records. He will race again at Drake's December 18, before leaving Des Moines for a tour of the states.

How Nurmi happened to come to Drake to train is the story of Dr. Alfred J. Peterson, United States minister to Finland and former professor at Drake. Dr. Peterson is personally acquainted with Nurmi, and at the request of Solem invited him to do his training this fall at the Des Moines university.

Dr. Tiovo T. Kaila, author of a book on Nurmi, and close friend of the runner, probably will accompany Nurmi, according to word from Dr. Peterson. Dr. Kaila expects to give a series of lectures in American colleges on Finnish athletics.

Nurmi, in accepting Drake's invitation, asked that he be given privacy during his training. This request will be observed, Coach Solem says.

There are some things you cannot do, but the thing you ought to do is not among them.

Women are so vain. They'll go to almost any extreme to satisfy a man's vanity.

New Wilmington High Opens Season With Grove City

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The local High School football team will get its first test of the season Saturday afternoon when Grove City High is met at Grove City. The contest will be played on the Crimson College athletic field.

Coach Wiggins, a graduate of Bethany College, has been driving his proteges hard. It is his first year in charge of the Blue and Gold but it has not taken him long to get acquainted with the respective abilities of his candidates. He has a likely looking group of veterans to work with.

The dope will favor the Mercer Countians since Joe Hartman, former Grove City College star, who is coach of the Grove City lads, has a husky squad and predictions are that they will cop Mercer County honors.

Wiggins has announced the following lineup: Lewis and Davis, ends; Herriott and Gilliland, tackles; Worrall and McCrumb, guards; Anderson, center; Bill James, quarterback; Cheers and Neal, halfbacks with Capt. Pete James at fullback.

Others who will probably break into the game before the activities cease are McConnell, end; Hoover, guard; Hartwell and Patterson, halfbacks.

Youth Confesses To Shooting Self, Attack Yarn False

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—By confessing, according to Corp. F. Bunch, of the State Police, that he shot himself, Russell Koontz, 21, of Mount Pleasant, near here, today had cleared up the mystery surrounding the finding of the youth in an alley near his home, suffering from two bullet wounds.

A story of an attack by a masked mystery man, who first beat Koontz and then dragged him into the alley and fired two shots into his prostrate body, aroused the neighborhood here, and a long search was made for the assailant.

The youth, according to Corporal Bunch, shot himself to work on his father's sympathy, and to turn aside parental wrath because of an alleged indiscretion.

Hungarian Detectives Try Hamlet's Method In Finding Murderer

(International News Service)

SOPRONKOVESD, Hungary, Sept. 24.—The method of detecting murderers employed by Hamlet in rehearsing the killing before the eyes of the guilty one has proven successful in this age also.

Several men suspected of having murdered a peasant near here were taken to the scene of the crime. There the body of the dead man was laid on the ground and a police officer attacked it with a knife much in the manner as the assassin must have employed.

While the knife was raised one of the prisoners, Ferenc Lakatos, fainted and on being revived confessed to the crime.

USED CAR

A party bought a new car three years ago, costing them $2300. They used this car for 14,000 miles and decided to buy a new car; what is the used car worth? To the owner it is worth what he paid for it because it runs and looks the same as it did when they purchased it. To you it is worth much more than we are asking. Because, we ask you to take this car and drive it. Compare it with any new car selling at $1000 to $1200 and we know you will agree that you are saving a lot of money. Our price is $700. The above is only one case, but it applies to every used car we offer. Compare cars and you be the judge. One 1925 Buick Six touring, like new, $750. One 1924 Buick Six touring, $650. One 1926 Ford sedan, 4 door, $500. One 1925 Ford coupe, like new, $855. One 1924 Buick sport roadster, $825. One 1923 Buick six 7-pessenger sedan, $700. We are here to serve you every minute of day and night.

Lincoln's Struggles.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

THE FAILURE OF THE STORE AND THE DEATH OF HIS PARTNER LEFT "HONEST ABE" WITH DEBTS WHICH TOOK HIM MANY YEARS TO REPAY.

LINCOLN, IN THE SPRING OF 1833, ACCEPTED THE POSITION OF VILLAGE POSTMASTER. THE FEW LETTERS THAT REACHED NEW SALEM EVERY DAY HE DELIVERED BY WALKING ABOUT UNTIL HE MET THE PERSONS TO WHOM THEY WERE ADDRESSED.

SHORTLY AFTERWARDS, LINCOLN BECAME A SURVEYOR. AT THIS TIME MANY SETTLERS WERE MOVING INTO ILLINOIS AND MUCH LAND HAD TO BE SURVEYED.

IN HIS SPARE TIME HE CONTINUED HIS LAW STUDIES AND SOON WAS QUALIFIED TO DRAW UP LEGAL PAPERS FOR HIS NEIGHBORS.

IN 1834, LINCOLN AGAIN SOUGHT A SEAT IN THE ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE AND THIS TIME WON THE ELECTION.
TOMORROW—LINCOLN THE LAWYER.

Wife Takes Stump for Brennan as Injury Halts Him

Mrs. George E. Brennan.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Short covering induced by the continuance of the 4 per cent rediscount rate of the New York Reserve bank and the improvement in the general position of the reserve banks, caused a moderate rally in stock prices at the beginning of trading today. Dullness was the principal feature of the speculative markets, however, and only in outstanding stocks was there any disposition to follow up gained by the moderate advances in opening prices.

The continuance of the 4 per cent rediscount rate was not a great surprise to Wall Street, in view of the failure of the outside banks to take such action earlier in the week. New York and Boston banks gained about 5 per cent in the radio of their reserves to resources, while the reserve system as a whole gained 1.5 per cent cotton prices made a moderate recovery from yesterday's severe slump, while, grain prices were slightly reactionary.

Most of the rails were higher in a quiet and featureless market after the first period. Stocks of the southern transportation companies and the Van Sweringen Nickel Plate group made the best showing. Equipment stocks declined, Pullman losing about 3 points.

Pools in the specialties did not relax. A new movement was started in advance rumely common and preferred, which led activity in the specialties. Warner Brother pictures advanced 4 points. Motor stocks were firm at the start. Oils were mixed with California issue strong and Mid Continent oils weak.

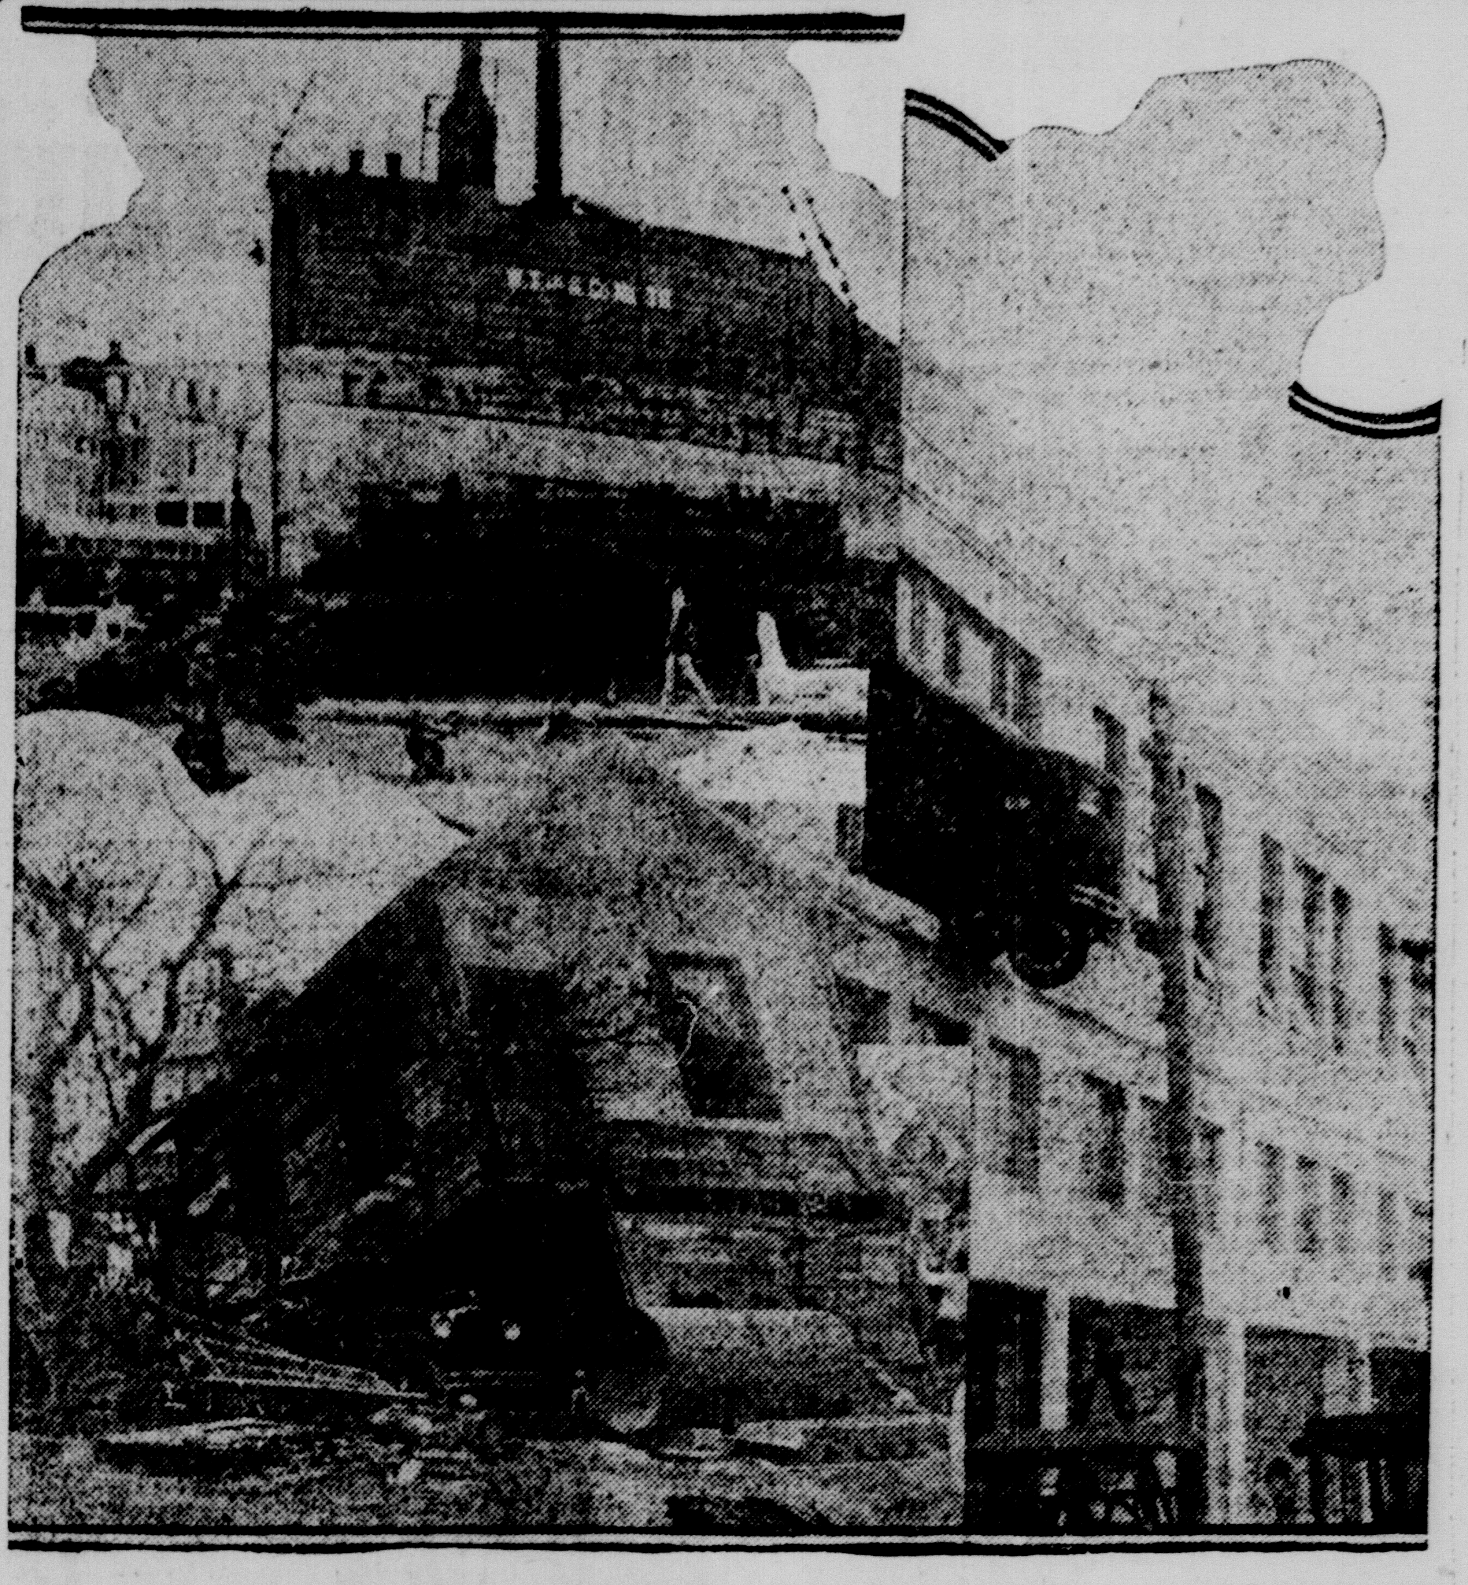
Hurricane Performs Freaks in Miami



Three glimpses of the hurricane's strange performance.

Salvation Army Rushes Relief to Storm Area

Packing clothes for shipment to storm destitute.

With the first news of the gravity of the situation in the stricken areas of Florida and the Gulf Coast the Salvation Army Social Service Departments began preparations for the shipment of necessaries to storm sufferers. Corps Cadets Henrietta Ernor and Esther Blinn are seen packing supplies in a New York depot.

CUPID KEEPS CAPITAL POLICEWOMAN IN CONSTANT DEMAND

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Either the little love god, Eros, has a special spell over Washington's police-women's bureau, or else Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, chief of the bureau, has a "picker's eye" that would put to shame Flo Zeigfeld, himself.

However that may be, the fact remains that marriages keep the bureau constantly facing a personnel turnover. With uncanny regularity, prominent lawyers, doctors, educators and engineers pop up from nowhere at all with theories that policewomen make good wives.

So far, eleven young women who came to the bureau as misses have left its ranks as Mrs.' Starting out to be cops, they got copped themselves.

What romance may cost her in the loss of trained personnel in the future, Mrs. Van Wrinkle hesitates to say. For herself, however, she says she will remain a widow for the rest of her life. And as far as Sergeant Rhoda Milliken, slim bobbed-haired chief assistant, is concerned, she is never going to be a widow, no matter how long she lives. Her reason is simple—she never intends to marry.

Of the 21 policewomen now on the force, eight are married or have been married. That leaves 13 for Mrs. Van Winkle, to worry about. And 13, she says, is an unlucky number.

One of the former members of the bureau, Sarah Tilghman, is now Mrs. George Hughes, of Dallas, Texas. She is practicing law there with her husband under the firm name of Hughes and Hughes. They were married one day while the court was taking luncheon recess. Meeting his fiancee in the corridors of the building, Hughes marched off with her and married.

Marian Bridwell became Mrs. F. Robertson Williams, of San Francisco. She took a vacation in California. Instead of returning she sent back a wedding announcement.

Irma Wann is now Mrs. Peter Buwaldi, of Pasadena, California. Her husband is head of the school of technology there. The pictures of their two fine babies now grace the living quarters of the policewomen's bureau here.

Oil Gushers Bring Riches To Seminoles

(International News Service)

SEMINOLE, Okla., Sept. 24. — Another Oklahoma Indian tribe has set its feet on the trail followed by the Osages from poverty to wealth.

But in this instance, not only the remnants of a once proud tribe is winning independence again, but also the descendants of those who 65 years ago were the red men's slaves.

The drilling of a series of oil gushers in the center of what was formerly the Seminole nation and now is Seminole county, Oklahoma, has revealed that 90 per cent of the farm owners and tenants in the rich new field are Seminole Indians, negro freedom and mixed blood—red and black.

The discovery well was drilled on a little farm owned by Mose Janes, negro, son of a slave. Over night, Mose might have exchanged his corn pone for a caviar had he been so inclined, for his income jumped in that brief period from nothing to $200 a day. Mose, however, prefers the traditional humble fare of his fellows and may be found as before on the porch of his log cabin though the latter is partly screened from view by the two automobiles of rather more than medium price, by which his accession to wealth is demonstrated.

The negro Janes is typical of the new group to which oil riches have come. Unlike the Osages, whose ascent from pauperism was gradual, the Seminoles are getting theirs suddenly in large chunks which grow larger as more wells are drilled. Unaccustomed as both Indian and negro are to handling money, they greet their good fortune stolidly in most cases.

Whites too have felt the magic touch. The biggest well yet brought in, a 6,000-barreler, is on a farm owned by Dr. W. E. Grissold, for a quarter century a physician among the Seminoles and negroes of the vicinity. The old doctor is drawing $1,000 a day in royalties.

South Side Fans Get Fight Returns

While many thousands of fight fans in front of The News office last night listening to the returns of the world championship battle at Philadelphia, and hundreds of others at various business places in the downtown section of the city, where radios had been placed in use for the occasion, the South Side fans congregated on Long avenue to the number of five or six hundred and listened in on the fight through the medium of a radio at the Huston Hardware company. The reception at this place as well as at all radios in the city was excellent and the South Siders were pleased with the service rendered. They blocked traffic to a considerable extent while the fight was in progress.
